Homecoming 1953

Psychologists (and common sense!) tell us that one of the basic human needs is that of mutuality—a feeling of "togetherness" or sense of "belonging." In any kind of normalcy this need is supplied on its highest human level by good homes and secure family relationships. What a priceless thing is family confidence and fellowship! And what a tragedy it is where these are broken!

There are other relationships where this feeling of mutual interest is met. A good church—where there is mutual trust and confidence, where each member's thought and contribution is sought and taken into account—is a tremendous fortress for the spirit and soul.

But good social relationships reach beyond the home and the church to other social groups—to the school, for example! Those of us who occupy the offices and classrooms and dormitories of our Alma Mater know this. How we enjoy the "togetherness" of chapel and the chapel hymn! How we enjoy the mutuality of committee work, and class discussion! And you who have been here—you too are one of us! Your spirit lingers in these hallowed halls. You have left your marks in hundreds of tangible and intangible ways upon our campus and our hearts. Teaching may have its drudgery—but one thing sure, it has deep and abiding satisfactions! This we find out anew each Thanksgiving Day, when you come home to us!

This year's "Homecoming" was bigger and better than ever—thanks to Howard Kauffman and his able staff. We like to see the halls and dormitories jammed, three deep if necessary!

So thanks for coming! (Those who didn't do not know what they missed!) We'll see you again next year.

Meanwhile you're still one of us no matter where you are. We need that feeling of "togetherness," you know. We need each other!

That New Look

Several have written in to tell us that you like the new format and layout. Good! We are glad that you like it. Credit goes to our new editorial assistant, Beth Centz. (The editor never could trust his aesthetic sense—to say nothing of his other kind, if any! But he does agree that it's an improvement.)

Beth came to the Alumni office in September and she is doing all kinds of helpful and necessary things. She is a graduate of 52 (a lot of you knew that!) and an English major with an impressive academic record—gobs of A's! As a student she also did editorial work on the Record, to say nothing of other extra-curricular work.

Since her graduation Beth was editor of the bi-monthly house publication of the Associates Investment Company in South Bend for a year, 1952-53, where she had valuable experience in editorial and publication work. It took some months of persuasion and negotiation to get her here.

Seriously, Beth is doing a substantial piece of work with a good deal of efficiency, both for the Alumni and for public relations in other areas. She has recently turned in her church letter to the College congregation, so that she is now more than ever one of us!

So she gets the credit for the new look of our Newsletter. All the editor dare claim is credit for doing a good job in scouting for talent! Power to you, Beth, and congratulations on your work on Vol. XLVII, No. 13! I think Vol. XLVIII, No. 1 will turn out just as good!

Combined Choruses Present "Messiah"

Handel's Messiah was presented by the college choral organizations on December 20 at 3:00 p.m. in the Union Auditorium. Directing the oratorio was Dwight Weldy, while Kathryn Summers 54 and Miriam Kauffman Byler 51 acted as accompanists.

Soloists were Esther Moyer 54, soprano; Margie Pletcher 54, alto; Lowell Byler 51, tenor; and Glen Brubacher 55, bass. The text of selections not sung by the 200-voice chorus and soloists was read by Walter E. Yoder.

Anniversary Ends with Three-Day Celebration

GC's fiftieth anniversary celebration was concluded this month with three days of activities including a community open house and a program commemorating the dedication of the Administration Building.

Featured in a program held in Assembly Hall at 8:00 p.m. on January 7 were N. E. Byers and J. E. Hartzler, first and second presidents of the school. I. W. Royer, former minister at the college church and first president of the Alumni Association, also participated in the program at which S. F. Coffman, son of the founder of Goshen College, presided. President Miller gave the invocation, while S. C. Yoder, president-emeritus, pronounced the benediction.

In comparison, the dedication program on January 8, 1904, was opened by John Blosser, president of the board of directors. President N. E. Byers introduced the speaker, Professor Amos W. Patton of Northwestern University's Bible department. S. G. Shetler, Mennonite minister from Johnstown, Pennsylvania, also spoke.

Musical numbers were provided by the Sunshine Male Chorus, directed by W. K. Jacobs, and the Ladies' Chorus, directed by C. H. Smith. The combined groups sang The Hallelujah Chorus under the direction of Jacobs. An open house inspection of the new building was held after the program.

This year's celebration continued with a chapel address by Paul E. Whitmer 06 on January 8. Whitmer was on the Goshen faculty from 1908-16 as instructor of Bible, professor of English, and dean.

Tours of the campus were conducted by student guides every half hour between 2:00 and 8:00 p.m. on Friday, January 8, and from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. on Saturday. Beginning at the Union Building lounge, tours included visits to other Union Building facilities, the library, Science Hall, the Administration Building, the teacher education center, and Westlawn residence and dining hall. Light refreshments were served at the end of each 40-minute tour.

Over-all planning for the three-day celebration was done by the Fiftieth Anniversary Committee under the chairmanship of Dr. S. A. Yoder. Acting Dean Massanari was chairman of the open house committee and Professor Willard Smith headed the program committee. A full page of pictures and a series of articles in the News-Democrat announced the celebration to the Goshen community.

Buildings Planned to Fill Changing Needs

A vital program of education is constantly changing to meet shifting needs. Through the years this has been true of Goshen College as it was of Elkhart Institute before it.

Only three and one-half years ago the school of nursing was added to our curriculum to meet the need for qualified people in this field. The seminary is the outgrowth of the Bible School organized as a division of Elkhart Institute. As the church has demanded more and more trained workers, this area of study has grown until it now offers a graduate degree.

The school of nursing and seminary have outgrown their present facilities. Recognizing this, the Board of Education recommended that two new buildings be provided to house these schools.

Blueprints are in the final planning stage. It is hoped that construction can begin within the next year. To make this possible, of course, we need more than plans. It will take thousands of bricks, tons of cement, and hours of labor.

Public-spirited citizens of Goshen and Elkhart have promised their financial support for the nursing school building. For the bulk of our needs, however, we must rely on the church and upon our alumni. Goals of $30,000 in contributions have been set for each of the buildings this year.

You will be hearing more about this! And when you do, remember: the site is purchased (on Main Street across from the library); one third of the money is on hand; and with your help, more is coming to help make these buildings possible.

First Nursing School Graduates Pass State Board Exams

Miss Orpah Mosemann, director of the school of nursing, has announced that all eight members of the school's first graduating class have passed their state board examinations. This is an excellent record as 10 percent of all those taking the examination failed.

The class, which graduated in August, 1953, includes Ruth Beard, Mary Kay Sauder, Elnora Weaver, Florence Rhineheimer, Charlotte Hertzler Croyle, Margaret Brubacher, Lois Shank Musselman, and Lenora Yoder.

Of this group, five are working at Elkhart General Hospital. Margaret Brubacher is attending the University of Chicago studying nursing education and Lois Shank Musselman is in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

The Mennonite Historical Library at Goshen College

By Nelson Springer, Assistant Librarian

Geschiedenis, geschichte, histoire, historia, historie, history—no matter how you say it, Goshen College lays claim to a fine, perhaps the finest, research collection in the field of Mennonite history. And the credit for establishing the collection belongs with the Alumni Association.

Although the association, in a meeting on June 13, 1906, voted down an appropriation of $300 for the Mennonite Historical Library they had just taken action to establish at Goshen College, the executive board of the association a year later delegated to J. M. Kurtz and C. Henry Smith authority to expend $60 for such articles as they considered appropriate for such a collection.

When the college reopened in 1924, the Mennonite Historical Library was little more than a working library for a beginning student in Mennonite history. Two men, H. S. Bender and Ernst Correll, coming to the faculty at that time, sparked the interest which has caused the collection to grow into a research library which the serious scholar dare not overlook, if he wants to do careful work in the fields of Anabaptist and Mennonite history.

Bender, particularly, in his enthusiastic search for books and related materials, has combed private libraries, attics, and book shops. The contagion of his zeal drew some to respond with gifts of library materials and money, while others have given of their time to join in the search. Under his direction the Mennonite Historical Society has assumed a major share in the responsibility of building the collection.

While the college budget provides an annual appropriation for the purchase of books, the Mennonite Historical Society more than matches this appropriation in funds for the purchase of books and other items, for microfilming, and for binding. Since it is a research library, available to all who come to the campus to use its resources, it has rightly received many items without charge. Goshen College owns the collection, but many individuals and groups have helped to build it. The Mennonite Publishing House, for instance, gives copies of all of its publications, much as the federal government places copies of all government documents in certain public and university libraries which it has designated depository collections.

Today the Mennonite Historical Library counts its holdings of books, pamphlets, and bound periodicals at more than 10,000 volumes. These are supplemented by term papers, seminars, photographs, prints, paintings, microfilm, maps, museum items, manuscripts, and more than a dozen file drawers of ephemeral materials. It is currently receiving more than 170 periodicals, not counting such things as school yearbooks, conference reports, and other items published only once a year.

To the student body of Goshen College, the Mennonite Historical Library provides excellent resources for laboratory experiences in research. Freshman and sophomore term papers this year include such topics as Mennonite martyrdom, Mennonite business ethics,

S. C. Yoder tells of travel "Eastward to the Sun."

Walter Yoder is editor of "Songs of the Church."

Hymns and Faraway Lands Are Book Topics

Almost as the curtain was falling upon 1953 there came two new faculty books from the Herald Press at Scottdale, Pennsylvania: Songs of the Church, published by the General Conference Music Committee and edited by our own senior member of the music department, Walter Yoder; and Eastward to the Sun by President-Emeritus S. C. Yoder.

Songs of the Church is a collection of 274 hymns, plus some 30 prayers and responsive readings, principally from the Bible. There is an introduction by J. Mark Stauffer of Eastern Mennonite College. The book is well indexed, both topically and alphabetically, with a handy listing of tunes, meters, authors, and composers. There is a table of contents, also topically arranged. The music is done in shaped notes with the lines all enclosed within the musical scores—both in line with good Mennonite tradition.

The hymns themselves are the well-known, plus a generous sprinkling of more unusual ones. There seems to be some obvious effort not to duplicate too much the Church Hymnal. The format, print, and general appearance is inviting; the book should be a valuable addition to the published hymnology of the church.

In Eastward to the Sun President-Emeritus Yoder gives us an account of his trip to India and back in 1949, to help the American Mennonite Mission there celebrate her fiftieth anniversary. The 221-page book is an intriguing travelogue of his journey through England, Luxembourg, Alsace-Lorraine, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Holland, and through the Red Sea and Suez Canal to India.

There are characterizations of fellow cabin-mates and numerous descriptions embellished with allusions to historic events and quotations from literature, both sacred and profane. There is a good deal of fine appreciation for all kinds of peoples and cultures, suffused with the kind and generous human understanding for which our president-emeritus is so well known. There is also a chapter on the ravages of war in Europe. But the climax of the book comes in the account of the actual program celebrating the 50 years of Mennonite mission work in India.

The book is amply illustrated with pictures and tremendously enriched with Dr. Yoder's warm humanity and wide knowledge of history, of literature, of people, and of the Bible.

Graber and Bender Peace Oratorical Winners

Richard Graber 55 and Nancy Bender 56 were awarded first place in the men's and women's divisions of the annual Peace Oratorical Contest which was held on November 20.

"Peace Hope?" was Graber's topic, while Nancy discussed "Islands of Peace." Both winners will represent Goshen in the 1953-54 State Peace Oratorical Contest to be held this spring at Indiana State Teachers' College. Winners from eight Indiana colleges will compete.

Other contestants were Gene Caskey 56 and Norman Teague 54 in the men's division, and Rita Clemens 54, Margaret Jantzi 55, and Anna V. Liechty 54.

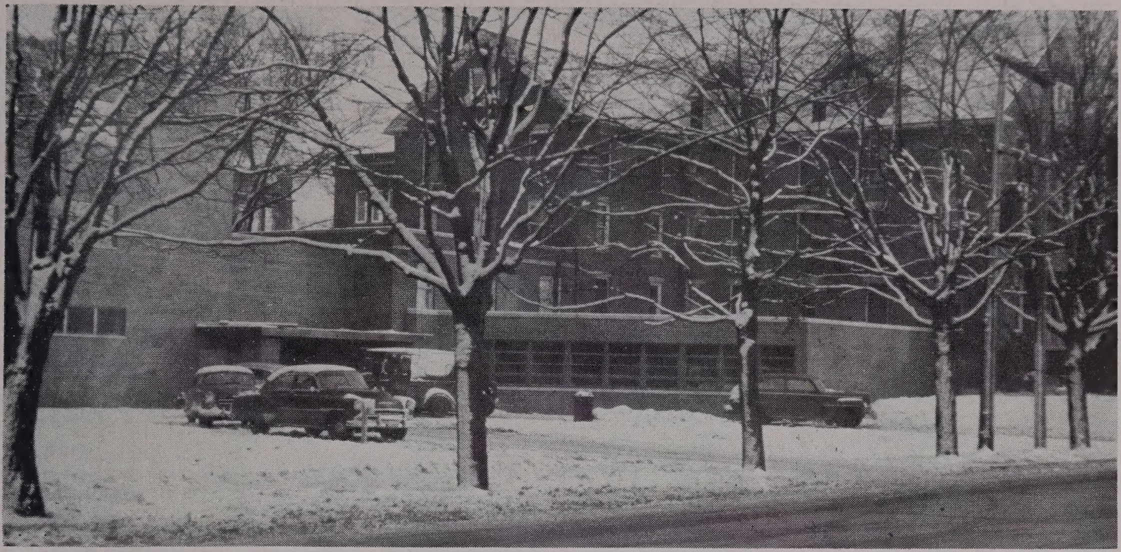
Dean and Mrs. Harold Bender 18 provide the cash prizes for the winners each year.



New Facilities Provide Housing, Classrooms

College facilities have been expanded this year by the purchase of two houses, remodeling of Kulp Hall basement, and the building of a social room and trailer park.

What is now the Home Management House was purchased by the Board of Education early in 1953. This residence, located at 1703 Lawndale Place, provides practical experience for four senior home economics majors each semester. Edna Shantz and Phyllis Roose, of the home economics faculty, live with the girls and Miss Shantz supervises their work.

Four apartments for faculty and married students are located in the Howell House at the corner of Kenwood and Eighth Streets. This building was also purchased last year. At present Dr. Mary Royer, Dr. Olive Wyse, and Mary K. Nafziger are among the occupants.

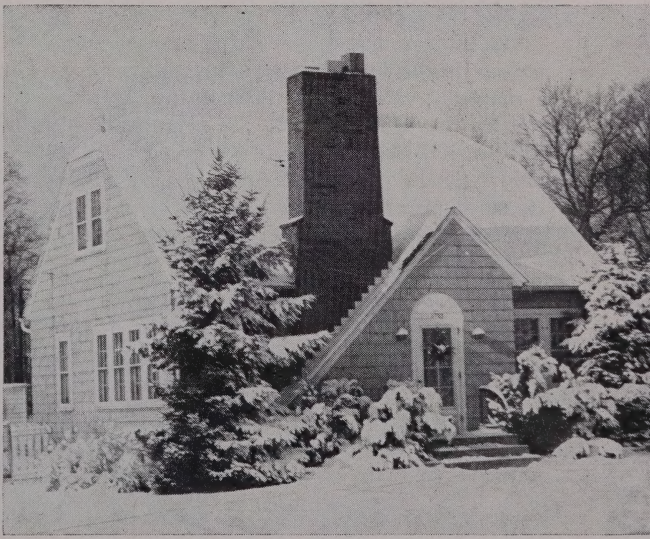
The social room, which will serve the entire student body, is located on Main Street between Kulp Hall and Westlawn. Money earned by the student work drive last fall is being used to help meet the cost of this addition, which is now in the final stages of completion. The education center, now occupying Kulp Hall basement, will be described in detail in a later issue of the Newsletter.

Nearing completion is a trailer park located on a two-acre strip of land near the church cabin. This will provide space for 17 trailers, each on a lot measuring 30 by 50 feet.

Water will be piped from the campus buildings, and each trailer will be equipped with individual sewer and water facilities. A laundry room and bathhouse will be located in the center of the project.

Trailer park provides space for 17 mobile homes.

Management House gives practical experience.



Self-Study at Goshen College

Alumni will be interested to know that Goshen College is this year again conducting a number of self-studies with a view to evaluating her work and strengthening her teaching program. In due time it is hoped that these self-studies will even lead to further "vertical" accreditment by the appropriate professional agencies—viz., The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, The National Accrediting Service, and The American Association of Theological Schools.

The self-study which the Seminary is conducting has led Dean H. S. Bender, among other efforts, to pay a visit to Professor Roberts of Bonebrake Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio, president of the A.A.T.S. Dean Bender was given encouragement to apply for "associate membership" at once.

As to active membership of the Goshen College Biblical Seminary in the association, there are still some standards to be met. First of all the seminary must be entirely a graduate professional school, admitting only such students as have been graduated from accredited colleges with bona fide four-year bachelor's degrees. Its B.D. degree should normally represent three years of study beyond the A.B. Also, an accredited seminary should have a purely graduate faculty of not less than four men teaching not over 12 hours per week.

Other financial and library requirements also need to be met before the seminary can fully achieve its goal. However, the self-study is going forward, and certain steps (such as making it fully a graduate school) are going forward.

The National Nursing Accrediting Service was established in January, 1949, as a result of the unified efforts of the national nursing organizations. This service is concerned with the accreditation of basic programs offered by hospital and collegiate schools of nursing and programs for graduate nurses offered by colleges and universities.

The ultimate purpose of accreditation of schools of nursing is the improvement of nursing service. The concomitant value is that through the process of becoming accredited schools are stimulated to continuous self-study and self-improvement. There is also a greater possibility of the school attracting desirable students and faculty if the name of the institution appears on the accreditation list.

The philosophy of accreditation is not to make all schools alike but to evaluate a program in terms of its own stated objectives. A program is evaluated in terms of its over-all strengths and weaknesses rather than in terms of set standards to be rigidly applied.

On November 21, 1951, Miss Helen Bruck, of Chicago, visited Goshen College to evaluate the nursing program. We received notice that the school had received temporary accreditation on May 12, 1952. The report commended the school for the work already done and recommended that the number of faculty be increased as rapidly as possible.

Many improvements have occurred in the nursing program during the interval. The time span for temporary accreditation is rapidly drawing to a close. It is expedient that the Goshen College School of Nursing proceed as rapidly as possible in the steps necessary for full accreditation. Nursing school faculty are studying certain problem areas as related to the nursing curriculum. Later this year study committees composed of college and nursing faculty members will be appointed and it is hoped that the study will be completed so that we can apply for full accreditation early in the 1954-55 school year.

The self-study which is going forward the most rapidly, however, is that of the teacher education function of the college. Already last year the teacher education division studied in a preliminary way the standards of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. They recommended that Goshen College undertake a self-study program with a view to applying for accreditment in this association.

Organized self-study began in October through the work of a planning committee and six subcommittees. The planning committee consists of Dr. Silas Hertzler, President E. E. Miller, and Karl Massanari, who is chairman.

The subcommittees are headed by Atlee Beechy, Jacob Swartzendruber, Karl Massanari, Mary Royer, Mary K. Nafziger, and James Clemens.

Committee membership in each of these is made up of representatives from Goshen College faculty, student body, alumni teachers, public school faculty, and critic teachers. Teacher education is defined as a function of the entire college, excluding the nursing school and graduate school of the seminary.

The projected time schedule is as follows: November-December, self-study; Christmas vacation, preparation of report; January, visit by official representation of A.A.C.T.E.; annual meeting of A.A.C.T.E. in Chicago in February, consideration of application for accreditation.

Incidentally, the state department of education has also asked Goshen College (as it has other Indiana colleges) to be re-inspected for the purpose of evaluating the work which Goshen College does in preparing elementary teachers. The self-study for the A.A.C.T.E. also prepares us for the visit from the state department.

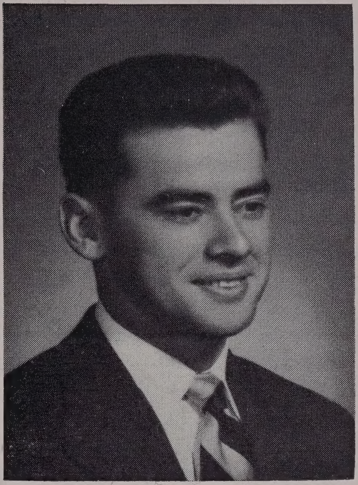
To maintain her standards and reputation as a sound academic institution, Goshen College dare never remain static. We dare never succumb to that comfortable feeling of having arrived! We solicit your continued interest and prayers in behalf of our self-study endeavors.

Homecoming Toasts Made by Yoder, Meyer

—The Care-Wearied Man Seeks Mother

I recall when I was but a wee tot my mother rubbed over my face a cold washrag whether I liked it or not. The fact is that I didn't. I looked forward to the day when I would be emancipated from this criminal and forceful authoritarian action.

Finally such a day did come. Believe me my approach was quite different. Carefully I took the washrag in my hand, carefully I applied it to my face with warm water. The whole process, however, was not going on without observations. Especially do I recall the Sunday morning checkups on the way to church. Even this control I hated, I imagine mostly because of the evidence established.



Jess Yoder, Northwestern Student.

In the course of time all control was gone. I was completely free, living in a life of new dimension, an event of no mean significance. Such freedoms are not new and perhaps seem quite insignificant to others. However, there are similar expressions which have world-sweeping significance written all through the pages of history.

Look to the days of the Reformation when Luther was demanding freedom from the authoritarian Roman church. Look to the demands of the English parliament during the days of the Glorious Revolution in the seventeenth century. Or again one is reminded of our own Revolution in the following century.

In contemporary history we have witnessed the independence of India, South African countries, and other nations. We have seen the mission programs become indigenous churches; we have seen the emergence of the lay movement in our home churches. This freedom is often spoken of as Individualism.

With this new freedom there is also, as Eric Fromm calls it, the responsibility of freedom, or the burden of freedom. Men can not swing their scythes and cut off their neighbors' flowers at will. Immediately they meet their neighbors, either with a handshake or fist (depending on the kind of neighbor), and rights are demanded.

Men soon learn that they are not individuals but social individuals, and that their action is not individual action but social action. Society with its overwhelming powers is able to force the individual and move him about like checkers on a checkerboard. Freedom becomes complicated and almost paradoxical. Social pressures force us to positions—we are either American or anti-American, we are Republican or Democratic, we are either Communistic or anti-Communistic, we are millenniumistic or nonmillenniumistic.

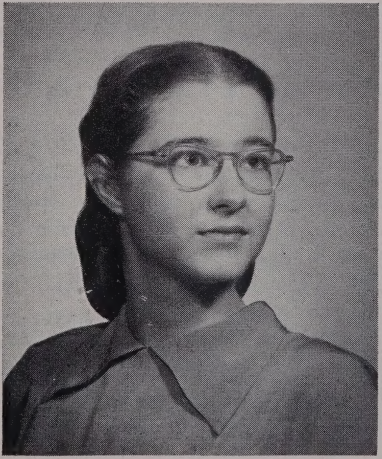
—From East and West, North and South

It is amazing and encouraging to meet students who have known Mennonites, some of them in distant places. Three such surprise contacts are worth mentioning. At lunch one day I found that an Ethiopian premedical student had studied in Addis Ababa, where the Emperor's School for the Blind, partly staffed by Mennonites, is located. The boy, who was a Christian, knew some of the workers, as well as Paul Verghese 52, who had taught high school in that city.



Margaret Meyer is at Indiana U.

A girl in secondary education who lives near me in the dormitory had taught in a mission school in India, I discovered. Though under the Methodist Board, she also knew Mennonite missionaries, especially those at Dhamtari.

A third and humorous episode also took place in the dormitory when a girl majoring in recreation learned that I had studied at Goshen College. She said, "Oh,

Glory to the Gunden Tribe

Comes now the Gunden tribe to challenge the Harry E. Millers on their family record at Goshen (see the Newsletter for May, 1953, page 13). The Gundens too have six limbs of the family tree with bona fide bachelor's degrees from Goshen College. Besides there are three "in-laws" so honored (which exceeds the record of the Miller family), in addition to other members of the family who have been with us, but who are nongraduates.

Following is the collegiate record of the Gundens:

I. Family members
  A. Goshen College graduates
    1. Elva (Mrs. Wilbur Huneryager); acad. 30, B.A. 34; homemaker.
    2. Lois; acad. 32, B.A. 36; M.A., George Peabody, 1939; asst. professor of French and Spanish at Goshen College.
    3. Elton; B.A. 47; manager of Elkhart Wallpaper and Paint store.
    4. Ralph; B.A. 50; graduate work at Omaha; controller at Goshen College.
    5. Doris (Mrs. Carl Metzler); B.A. 49; fourth-grade teacher at Chandler School, Goshen.
    6. Ruth; B.A. 52; instructor in physical education at Goshen College.
  B. Nongraduates
    7. Orville; x40; farmer.
    8. Cleland; x41; farmer.
    9. Donald; x50; trucker.
    10. Mrs. C. J. Gunden (Agnes Albrecht); correspondence 05.
II. In-laws
  A. Goshen College graduates
    1. Mrs. Elton Gunden (Marjorie Nafziger); B.A. 47; homemaker.
    2. Mrs. Ralph Gunden (Opal Barkey); B.S. 45; homemaker.
    3. Mrs. Cleland Gunden (Myra Roeschley); B.S. 45; homemaker.
  B. Nongraduates
    4. Mrs. Orville Gunden (Anne Wenger); x40; homemaker and substitute teacher.
    5. Carl Metzler; student at Goshen College.
    6. Wilbur Huneryager; special student 28; farmer.
    7. Mrs. Donald Gunden (Elsie Zimmerman); part time 48; homemaker.

Now if your tribe has a Paul Bunyan record, let's have it! If it's good enough to publish (even though it may not be quite up to that of the Millers and Gundens), why not send it in anyway?

By the way (just throwing aside a bit of false immodesty), the Silvanus Yoder clan themselves are not too far behind (though a little bit!). Five of us got B.A.'s here (that's all there were; so "angels can do no better"); one in-law came through with a bachelor's, and three more are nongraduate alumni—(that's all there were; so "angels can do no better"). Five of us served on the staff at one time or another. And last fall the grandchildren started the grind!

One more point. In 1894 Dr. H. A. Mumaw asked Dad to come to Elkhart Institute, but he turned down the invitation and went to Ohio Northern instead—thus just missing notoriety by a hair's breadth. Illustrates again how the very destiny of nations often hinges on some trivial "horseshoe nail"—doesn't it?

Seems to me this bit of chatter started in giving glory to the Gundens. I must have got sidetracked. Anyhow, power to them! Can you beat their record?

the history of Mennonite Youth Fellowship, the history of regulation clothing, and the history of the Christian Monitor and Mennonite Community. More advanced students are working on seminars and longer term papers.

Without the collection it would have been impossible for the Mennonite Historical Society to maintain the scholarly quality of the Mennonite Quarterly Review throughout the 27 years of its existence. In recent years the editor-in-chief and the managing editor of the Mennonite Encyclopedia have found the resources of the collection indispensable to their work. Hints of the regard with which larger schools hold our collection come to us indirectly when research students are referred to us by their major professors and spend periods ranging from a week to a month or more working here.

Perhaps the greatest tribute we have had to the value of our collection came from Dr. Gunnar Westin of the University of Uppsala, Sweden. Examining the catalog of our sixteenth-century holdings (136 items), he remarked time and again, "I tried to find that in Basel, and couldn't. If I had known you had all of these things here, I would have planned to be here two weeks instead of two days."

Editor's Note: A 32-page booklet giving more complete information on the historical library can be obtained by sending $.25 to the Mennonite Historical Society, Goshen, Indiana.

"Mennonite" Lists Alumni

Eleven alumni were listed as foreign missionaries in a recent edition of The Mennonite, a publication of the General Conference Church. The GCites and their fields of service are as follows:

Irena Liechty 52 and Tina Quiring 48, Belgian Congo; Anna V. Liechty 54 and Rev. and Mrs. Russel Schnell 38 (Helen Yoder x31), on leave from the Belgian Congo; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Unruh rt43 and Rev. and Mrs. Curt Claassen 54, on furlough from India; Rev. and Mrs. Bernard Thiessen 52, Japan; and Vernelle Yoder 52, Colombia. Miss Liechty and the Claassens are enrolled at Goshen now.

A Letter from John Winter, Faculty 1913—15

"I am in receipt of your kind letter inviting me to participate in the fiftieth anniversary celebration at Goshen College. While I should very much like to be with you during your celebration, I shall have to content myself by composing a letter of congratulation to your committee, and to the whole constituency of Goshen College, including faculty, students, board of control, alumni, and the large body of faithful and dedicated men and women who have made it possible to develop and maintain this invaluable Christian institution of learning.

"It was in the fall of 1913 that I came to Goshen College, fresh from two years of graduate study at Michigan University in my chosen field of philosophy, psychology, and education. And I can truthfully say that my two years' stay at Goshen College represents one of the happiest periods of my life. I shall never forget the kindness and the wholehearted support I received from both faculty and student body.

"I am proud and grateful to have been on the faculty of Goshen College. I found one quality in your students that is rare among colleges and universities. Every student was in dead earnest. That is a remarkable record, and a fit token of the power of religious inspiration.

"I extend to you my heartfelt congratulation on the splendid progress you have made in the last 50 years and I hope and pray that Goshen College may grow in number and influence in the years that are to come. Fraternally yours, John E. Winter, professor emeritus of psychology, West Virginia University, Morgantown, West Virginia."

you know Roman Gingerich then? Boy! he was really a whiz in recreation!"

In addition to these acquaintances a number of students know something about Mennonites through others from our group who have recently attended the university.

On the other hand, I found it hard to explain the Goshen spirit in a verbal way which was adequate. To demonstrate what it is like by interacting with other "Gosheners" who understand is impossible in this case, but it is possible to carry on an essentially spiritual life in any atmosphere. It is recognized and respected if not always understood, by those whom I live with daily. The challenge is heightened by the knowledge that college students are perhaps the most open group in society, as far as new ideas are concerned. They are quick to grasp personal depth and unity of purpose because these are necessary to concentrated study.

University students are often tolerant too, because of their marked individuality and difference in background. Perhaps their religious tolerance is due to disinterest, but it is usually accompanied by a willingnesses to listen to differing beliefs and to discuss them. In this respect we might learn from them. If they are tempted toward intellectual superficiality, sometimes we tend to wear a religious cloak which, instead of offering it to warm the differing campus neighbor, we wrap about us more tightly, leaving him "cold" toward us and our faith.

Especially is this offensive when some of us are more dogmatic than sincere, or if we disdain those students who do not help us climb the social ladder. It is unfortunate when one finds in the university that frequently the non-Christians are more honest with themselves than some Christians, who are thus not respected.

In trying to pinpoint my deepest connections with Goshen College, I can bring them out best through several experiences. In the first instance, a girl who had attended an Eastern girls' college described her undergraduate experience in terms not too complimentary. In contrast to Goshen, this school seemed to lack a real feeling of fellowship and common purpose and understanding, though the academic rating was very high. She became aware that she had missed more than the ordinary "college fun" as she heard about college life at Goshen.

At another time a friend, hearing that Goshen's Homecoming came at Thanksgiving, asked if it was thus a type of religious service. It was difficult to say either yes or no, when all activities at Goshen are a part of Christ-centered living which is in itself unintelligible language for the non-Christian.

I have been grateful more than once for the theological and Bible training I absorbed at Goshen. The contrast came sharply one day recently when my Catholic neighbor told how she was planning to go home at Thanksgiving to ask her priest about the numerous problems which had come up in her thinking. She added that she didn't understand why they had wasted so much time in her religion classes in college in discussing trivial issues when basic theological points were glossed over. That experience is fairly common to those students who do regard religion seriously.

The predominance of such trivial issues may be a direct cause for the almost total lack of the service motive in the religious context, such as we know it.

Record Rated All-American by ACP

An all-American rating has been awarded last year's second semester Record by the Associated Collegiate Press. Abe Hostetter 53, editor-in-chief of the paper, was assisted by Joe Stolzfus 53, managing editor.

The paper scored 1,050 points out of a possible 1,065. Receiving special mention were sports coverage, professional quality editing, and general campus coverage. Only three other college papers of GC's type and class received all-American awards.

First semester's paper, with Robert Hershberger 53 as editor-in-chief, received the first all-American rating earned by the Record.

Alumni Activities Around the World

Frank S. Ebersole 04 was elected president of the First National Bank of Goshen recently. He has served as a member of the board of directors since 1934. Although retired from his work with the Goshen Milk Condensing Company he remains a director and secretary, a position he has held since 1912. He says he prefers to spend more time in Sunday-school and church work. He has served as treasurer of his church for a number of years and is its representative on the Council of Churches of Elkhart County.

"I have been employed by the Equitable Gas Company of Pittsburgh for the past 32 years in an engineering capacity and have about five more years to go," says Floyd Yoder x18. "Our two sons are out of college and our daughter, Miriam, is 11 and in junior high. Mrs. Yoder was the former Miriam Sanderson who came with her parents and sister to the U.S. from Yorkshire County, England, at the age of 13."

Cleo pt41 and Nellie Miller x22 Mann write to express their appreciation for the Newsletter. They state, "We have always been interested in Goshen College, but more so since our daughter (Dorothy 48) graduated and our son (David 53) in now in seminary. We do want to continue to remember in prayer the college, the faculty, and all who are connected with the administration. . . . May the college continue to serve in preparing young folk to live victoriously and in effective witness for God and the church."

G. Maurice Long 23 has moved to Osceola, Indiana, to take charge of a mission there. He reports attendance has been 40 to 50 and there are five adult members of the church.

In charge of the dedication of the new 16-bed Orrville (Ohio) Community Osteopathic Hospital, was Mervin Hostetler 23, president of the hospital's board of trustees. Over 2,000 people attended the dedication and open house on December 13.

Rhea Yoder 23, along with Henry ThB 47 and Gladys Weaver 41 Becker, is scheduled to leave New York on January 27. The threesome will arrive in India about February 23 to resume the missionary work from which they have been on furlough.

Secretary of the General Mission Board, J. D. Graber 25, sailed from Los Angeles on December 2. He will visit Japan, Korea, Formosa, India, and Europe.

J. B. x26 and Naomi Martin are in Jerusalem, Israel, working under the Mennonite Board of Missions.

Gilbert Gerber 32 writes that he is continuing in his painting and paper-hanging trade and business is good.

From Mrs. Ward S. Johns (Ruth Gnagy 35)—"My husband passed away on May 24, 1953. I am teaching high school in Topeka (Indiana) again this year. My son, David, is a freshman at Goshen College."

Under the I-W program Dr. C. Richard Yoder 37 is serving at the Columbus State School, Columbus, Ohio. His work is that of assistant superintendent and director of clinical services. The school is the reception and classification center for all mentally retarded persons in the state. Aims of the school are a happy home, opportunities for training, and health for mind and body.

Verl Lehman x40 is living at Mill Creek, Indiana, where he is in charge of the Fish Lake Mennonite Church, a mission outpost of the Yellow Creek congregation.

Mary Esther, third child of Dwight and Marjorie Conrad Weldy 40, was born on November 24.

A daughter, Sarah Kay, has been added to the family of Elizabeth Plank 42 and Clarence Geil of Gulfport, Mississippi. She was born on October 21 and has one brother.

Teaching at Hesston College is Vincent J. Krabill x43, who received his M.A. degree from Iowa State University last August.

Leda Miller x44 was married to James L. Crissey on November 6 at the home of her parents.

Dr. Orden Miller x37 died as the result of a blood clot while receiving hospital treatment. Surviving are his wife and three children.

The State University of Iowa granted Christine Weaver 44 an M.S. degree on August 12, 1953.

Meryl 44 and Gladys Landis 49 Grasse are the parents of Karen, who was born on October 6 at Calico Rock, Arkansas.

1945–1949

Rachel Ann was born to Fred and Ann Shirey 45 Yoder on October 17, 1953. She has one brother, Frederick, who will soon be five years old.

David Byler 45 acted as minister of music for revival meetings held at the First Baptist Church of Cleveland, Tennessee, where his brother James 43 is pastor.

Twins—James S. and Judith S.—were born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul 45 Lederach of Scottdale, Pennsylvania, on December 10.

Richard Jonathan Yoder, Jr., joined the family of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Yoder 45 (Rosalie Hooley 46) on November 22.

Alice Buckwalter 45 became the wife of Lowell Hershberger x41 on November 5 at Scottdale, Pennsylvania. Rev. Earl Buckwalter, father of the bride, performed the ceremony.

"We are very much 'adjusted' to the South after three years," writes Helen Cutrell Holdeman 48 from Gulfport. "We find that it has almost as many advantages as Colorado. I guess the worst feature is that it is so far removed from the places and persons we have fond memories of. There is lots of fishing here—either salt or fresh water. Lovely beach and beautiful flowers all winter. We are just about 980 miles due south of Goshen. Come and see us!"

John Edgar was born to John and Lois Buckwalter Snyder 48 on October 10.

Betta Lee Bender Kaufman 48 reports that her husband, Willis 48, is now employed as exploitation engineer in Shell Oil technical services division doing applied research. Their third son, Kevin Gerald, was born June 15.

Christmas greetings came from the Ernest Shanks 49 of Sarasota, Florida. "The first few months of the past year were marked by anxious times during Maribeth's (their two-year-old daughter) illness, hospitalization, and long convalescence following a viral infection," they wrote. "Her subsequent recovery and good health are facts we are happy to report.

"We spent a different sort of summer when the opportunity to care for and live in the residence of a vacationing Sarasota family brought added convenience during continuing remodeling of our home and made possible for Betty several weeks' secretarial work while Ernie studied, tutored, carpentered, and cared for Maribeth and the home. What a new enlightenment and deeper appreciation of each other's work this exchange of jobs brought us!"

From the Christian Orphans' Home, Fort Lee, New Jersey, where he is superintendent, Bob Ekeland 48 sends "a reminder to let you know that I still have GC deep in my heart. . . . I continue to pray for the college and trust that God will continue to bless both students and faculty."

Lee 49 and Adella Brunk 44 Kanagy are planning to open a religious bookstore and reading room in Nakashibetsu-cho, Nemuro-koku, Hokkaido, Japan, as part of their missionary work. The Kanagys are also conducting a 15-minute radio broadcast every Sunday morning announcing their Sunday services.

Bob Ekeland 48

Ruby Hostetler 46, who teaches at Kodaikanal school in South India, spent her vacation at Dhamtari recuperating from an illness.

Myra Mae was born to Dale x50 and Kathleen Yoder x47 Swartzendruber on December 1.

"We really have a busy life here at the Children's Home," Irma Ebersole 50 writes from Germany. "Fifty children come from surrounding communities for three-month periods to receive nourishing food, fresh air, lots of rest, and spiritual training. We realize that a great responsibility lies upon this home and its staff, as these children represent future Germany. It is our concern and our prayer that our MCC unit of four might vividly show in all of our daily activities the overflowing abundant love of Christ, who is all-sufficient for our daily needs."

Albertina van der Laag 50 reports, "I am still at the MCC Community Center at Kaiserslautern, Germany. After five years one gets to know the people so much better and can enjoy the work even more. Sewing room, library, women's and children's Bible classes make this a busy place. Please pray for the people we can reach and for our planning of the future program." Tina's engagement to Hermann Wernicke was announced on New Year's Eve.

Parents of Timothy Wayne, born November 8, are John x50 and Romaine Lehman 50 Sprunger.

Richard Wynne was born to Robert 50 and Ruth Yoder 49 Nyce on September 13.

Peter J. Dyck 50 of Moundridge, Kansas, is now attending the Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Chicago.

Richard Arthur, son of Bernard 51 and Miriam Troyer 52 Showalter, was born on October 22.

A daughter, Diane Kay, was born to Eugene x49 and Gladys Zimmerman 51 Sprunger on December 18.

Daniel Emery, born on October 25, is the son of Emery x51 and Josephine Lehman 50 Swartzendruber.

Since September, Royal Joyce Hower x51 has been working at Alexian Brothers Hospital, Chicago, as nurse in charge of the surgical ward. There are 30 beds in the ward and he is responsible for the nursing students. He is taking some evening courses at DePaul university in preparation for teaching nursing administration.

John Grasse, Jr., 51 married Betty Stover at Blooming Glen, Pennsylvania, on September 12. David Derstine 46 officiated.

Donald M. Snapp 51 and Faire Stucky were married by J. B. Shenk 52 on August 28. The Snapps live at La Junta, where she is a physical therapist at the Mennonite Hospital and he works in the office.

Lowell Mann 51 is a student at Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia.

Gordon x51 and Esther Detwiler x48 Yoder are the parents of Michael Wayne, who was born on November 30.

Gerrit Veendorp 51 of Leiden Holland, is a student at Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Chicago.

Irma Ebersole 50

1952

Carolyn Sue was born to Mildred Shoemaker x52 and Walter Drudge 52 on December 1.

Paul 52 and Lois Meyer 51 King are the parents of Sarah Elizabeth, who was born on October 29.

David Micheal, son of David 52 and Rosanna Yoder Hostetler 53, was born on October 27.

Attending the Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Chicago is Herman Tan 52 of Java, Indonesia.

"I am indeed grateful for . . . the work and location of my present situation," writes Kenneth Imhoff wbs52, serving in PAX at Assiut, Egypt. "Much of the time I feel as though I'm receiving far more than I can possibly give. . . . It is my prayer that the church . . . especially its young people, might continue to expand along the lines of voluntary service whether at home or abroad."

In the September Newsletter it was reported that Hiram and Betty Shue x52 Strickler had welcomed their fourth child. Betty wrote to tell us about this "serious mistake." The Stricklers' daughter, Rosalene, is their first child and they comment, "we surely are happy with her."

James Robert was born to Daisy Hepworth 52 and Robert Steinson on November 13.

The following news is taken from the Christmas letter of the 1952 home economics graduates.

Velma Fry is teaching in Wauseon, Ohio. The senior girls asked for a class in family relationships and home management, which Velma added to her schedule. She's also enrolled in an extension course in art from Bowling Green University.

Teaching home ec and physical education is Susie Friesen, who wrote from Delavan, Minnesota. She tells that her eighth-grade home ec students served a meal to the faculty and their wives, the ninth grade entertained the school board and their wives, and the seventh-grade girls had a tea for their mothers.

Jean Carper Miller writes of her experiences working in Java under MCC. "The unit centers around the medical work for the most part. There are in this unit a doctor from France, a nurse from Germany and one from Canada, and Han van den Berg x54 from Holland. There are two clinics serving about 4,000 patients a month.

"I am in charge of the house, which includes three servant women. The one cooks on a kerosene stove, which is really a modern convenience in Java, because most people use little charcoal heaters. . . . And the second servant does nothing but laundry. She heats her water on a little charcoal stove outside, and sits on a little stool only two or three inches off the ground with her knees spread apart to wash the clothes. Then to iron she uses a big iron heated by charcoal. The third servant cleans and helps the other two."

After a year of language study in Belgium, Irena Liechty is now at Charlesville, Belgian Congo. She writes, "These days find me busy studying Tshiluba. It is rather hard to settle down to study another language so soon after French study. Each day I have a lesson in grammar with one of the other missionaries and another one with a native to learn the correct pronunciation. He has a good sense of humor and has some real laughs when I try some of the sounds that are so different from anything we have in English."

Ruby Theisen's letter came from Kobe, Japan, to tell of the birth of Beth Renae on November 18. "After the first of February I plan to go back to language school," she reports. "Bernard is taking classes three hours every morning. I am hoping to take afternoon classes twice a week. This way one of us will be with the baby at all times. The language is difficult to say the least and it takes hours and hours of concentration to master one lesson.

"It is encouraging though to see at least a few Japanese come to accept Christ as their personal Saviour and Lord of their lives. A young man, Homma-San, in one of my English-Bible classes was studying both Communism and Christianity. Being a university student, he was weighing carefully which 'philosophy' to accept. We prayed much for him and were so thrilled this summer when we returned from our vacation to hear that he had accepted Christ upon being convinced that the Bible was God's Word."

Doris Snyder is teaching all the seventh-grade subjects except English at Aibonito, Puerto Rico. Another one of her jobs is supervising the dining room in which 100 eat every noon. She says, "We have to work so hard to get the children to eat vegetables.

Beets is the worst one. I am anxiously (?) waiting for the supervisor. Last year at this time she had come three times. She checks all the past menus to see whether we meet the requirements set up by the government."

Marilyn Helmuth spent the summer in VS at Gulfport, Mississippi, and learned to cook crab gumbo and turnip greens. She is now teaching home economics at Aurora, Ohio.

Another home economics teacher is Mary Jane Lederach, who is teaching at Souderton, Pennsylvania. She has inaugurated a Chef's Club for a group of 15 boys and reports that they enjoy making hamburgers, etc. "It's fun to work with boys—they come up with some of the most original ideas," she reports.

The former Ambassadors male quartet—Wayne North 52, Clyde Landes 54, Don Driver 53, and Ed Stoltzfus 53—conducted a vesper service at the Mennonite Home Mission, Chicago, on December 6. Don Driver is serving as assistant pastor at the mission.

Ronald Allen, son of Mervin 53 and Esther Hostetler Zook x53, was born on November 3.

Doing graduate work in chemistry at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn is Nobujuki (Bob) Nakajima pg53.

Lulu Fink x54 and Stanley Lambright x53 were married on April 12 at the Crumstown Mennonite Church.

Lucinda Martin 53 is taking postgraduate work at the University of Ottawa.

"I am teaching a combination fourth and fifth grade in Butler School, one of 12 elementary schools in Fort Dodge," reports Mary Zehr 53. "It's challenging, exciting, and fun! I have 24 pupils, and my grade is an overflow from a regular fourth and a regular fifth grade. Greetings to all my friends and a good new year to Goshen College."

Lois C. Shank 53 and Glenn Musselman 51 were married on November 28.

DeWayne Bontrager x54 is editor of a newspaper for the I-W men at Indianapolis, Indiana.

Carolyn Yoder x55 was married to Maynard Sauder at South Union Church, West Liberty, Ohio, on October 4. Stanley Shenk 44 performed the ceremony.

A son, Daniel Dwight, was born to Ruth Cutrell x55 and Archie Neufeld on November 18.

Eric Jay, born September 27, is the son of Jay x55 and Carolyn Sommer.

Students and faculty were saddened by the death of Wayne Boshart 57 of Mannsville, New York, on December 27. Wayne died as the result of an automobile accident which occurred on December 23 during Christmas vacation. A memorial service was held on January 6 as the first chapel of the new year.

The existing continuum between extremes is disregarded, instead the line is cut in half creating the "either-or." Even resevered judgments are not permitted, for the issue is immediate and imperative. Here the free man can become disillusioned and care-wearied. His honesty is distorted, his integrity is questioned, and his position is misunderstood.

Slowly the horizons close in, the ideals begin to fade, the visions become blurred, and the care-wearied man takes on an undesirable kind of conservatism known perhaps as the middle-aged sag or the "battle of the bulge." Now he is ready to go back to Mom. He is tired of the responsibility and ready to carry out orders. When he is told what to do the responsibility of action is evaded.

I have been asked to propose a toast. Without questioning the ethics of toasting in this discussion, I shall propose one. It is as follows: May we as Homecomers, as persons returning to mother, may we not return to give up ideals, to flee from our responsibilities; but may our returns be returns for inspiration, returns to fellowship, returns for advice, returns which will broaden our horizons, sharpen our ideals, clarify our vision, and focus our real purpose of life so that the potential of our lives might be more fully realized for the honor and glory of our Lord—Jesus, the Christ.

830 Attend Businessmen's Banquet

Approximately 830 businessmen attended the annual banquet held this year on December 5. Invitations were sent to 2,000 Mennonite businessmen, farmers, and teachers.

Don Smucker, professor at Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Chicago, was the after-dinner speaker and music was provided by the Harmonaires, a men's quartet from Wayne County, Ohio.

Acting Dean Massanari served as toastmaster. Planning for the banquet was done under the direction of Leland Bachman, business manager. Committee members were Ralph Gunden, controller; J. Harold Smith, associate professor of English; and S. M. King, director of public relations.

Vertical Expansion

Goshen College and her large family of loyal supporters rejoice in her continued material and academic expansion. In our publicity we naturally call attention to the expansion in buildings and facilities and to growing recognition in the academic and educational world —as well as to the increasing support of a good constituency. We are glad for new buildings, for AACTE accreditment, for the people who invest in us year after year.

Yet there is another area where we also need your help and growth. We need to keep the meekness of those who shall inherit the earth. We need to hold to the simple life. We need the honest rustic candor of the lowly shepherds of Bethlehem, to whom God entrusted a great (though generally unknown) truth because He knew that they could be entrusted with it.

Education has often spoiled people—made sophisticates of them, taught them wrong methods of rationalization, or in other ways to wrest or misuse the truth. "Knowledge is power," and power is a stewardship which can be much abused. Education is enlightenment—but if that enlightenment be quenched by dodges of sophistry and equivocation, or the lust for personal power or glory, how great is the darkness!

Much learning (as well as "little learning") often is a dangerous thing! What then is the alternative? Shall we shrink from it? Shall we glorify ignorance? Shall we put a premium on stupidity? Or shall we draw a line and say: Thus far shall we seek and no further? There is a better way.

We must somehow combine knowledge with humility. With all our book learning and education, we must maintain the simple, candid, and unspoiled life.

The Alumni office has been encouraged by an unusual number of good letters recently. One of these comes from Fred Speckeen 52. Fred has suffered some reverses since leaving Goshen and through illness has found time for further study of "Evolution, Creation, Prayer, Millennialism." But he has also learned some things that are not in books.

"I'm humbled," he writes, "as I study Scripture, to find how little I know. . . . My big problem is to be patient. I feel I have faith in God, but it is difficult for me to, at a 'stand-still.' It is humbling to look out on the world and see that it is getting along wonderfully well without my help. . . . Many, many days it was only Bill's (Bill Smoker x53) heroic example that kept my chin up. I thank God for such a Christian as Bill is, as well as for the trust in Christ Jesus which the Goshen faculty taught me."

Thank you, Fred (and Bill), for reminding us of the deeper character expansion which we also need. Material expansion and increased recognition could be illusion; we at Goshen want reality. We covet growth on the vertical dimension as well as the horizontal. And we do always need what old-fashioned people often call "the blessing of God."

Diversities of Gifts

Several interesting replies have been returned to our office on the religious work questionnaire which was sent out to graduates of the years 1942-53 at the request of the Collegiate Council of the Board of Education. Perhaps there is not much to be said further about this effort to find how many of our recent graduates are in church work, but several things the editor would like to be clear on.

First of all, he is editor of The Alumni Newsletter, and is not director of Alumni Relations. The title has been proffered him, but as things stand now he is only a humble editor—no more! So he had nothing to do with it.

Secondly, whatever use is to be made of the findings is not yet known. Certainly they should not be used to classify Christians into the more religious and/or the less religious. Our brotherhood is a brotherhood and not a hierarchy. The church makes no pretense of hiring all her members in "full-time" work.

Depth of consecration certainly is not to be judged by place of service. St. Paul's concept of the church is that of a body in which each member functions in his place. Any legitimate talent within the Christian brotherhood is to be recognized as God-given, both by the one who has it and by his fellows. It is therefore not to be ignored nor slighted, but to be exercised and encouraged both with thanks and with a sense of responsible stewardship. "Life thus committed to the way of Christ cannot be segmented into secular and nonsecular compartments. The whole of life is lived in the context of commitment to the will of God; and therefore every activity . . . has spiritual significance." (See the 1953-54 Goshen College Catalog, page 23.)

The Christian witness certainly needs to be carried into the public school, into the shop, into the secular world. In many respects your so-called secular job carries you to the frontiers, where your work is more essential in certain ways than is ours who work in church institutions. This we know full well.

May our heavenly Father give you grace for your task!

Liberal Arts at Goshen College

One of the interesting things about Goshen College is that, though founded by a small denomination and led by men who had no experience in educational administration, yet from the start it was to be more than a vocational school or a Bible school. At the very center of our founder's conception of a church school was the notion of a broad education.

Though men like J. S. Coffman, D. J. Johns, J. S. Hartzler, and Jonathan Kurtz (highly influential members of the original corporation) were primarily churchmen, yet, guided by a sound instinct, their ambition was to found an institution providing a sound cultural "liberal arts" training.

The very first statements we find from them show that one of the primary motivations for founding Elkhart Institute was to hold for the church the youth, who were increasingly receiving "education in high schools and colleges." But for this plan to work, they felt the need of offering courses which would compete in the interests of young people with what they were getting elsewhere.

Perhaps the earliest explicit expression of the ambition to set up a school of broad cultural training is contained in the proposition made to the Century Club of Elkhart in 1895 as follows: "It is the aim to establish an institution which shall rank with the leading denominational schools of the country maintaining courses of study in the ancient and modern languages, the sciences, literature, history, and philosophy, as well as religion and morals. . . ."

A year later (in 1896) the first catalog to be published lists a "Scientific Course." The scientific course was a carefully outlined course running for two full years and aiming "to give proficiency in history, science, and language, together with work in other studies that are necessary to form a liberal education." Principal studies listed under this course are history—general, medieval, and modern—Latin, German, geometry, physics, geology, astronomy, botany, zoology, chemistry, English literature, and political economy.

This scientific course, it seems, was to form the heart of the new school's curriculum. It is given considerably more space in the 1896 catalog than are any other of the "courses." And in the next catalog, issued in 1898, it has been expanded into a full four-year course and rechristened the "Latin-Scientific Course." There are added courses in American literature, in Greek, in advanced mathematics, government, in rhetoric, logic, psychology, and the like.

With the coming of Noah Byers as principal (later president of Goshen College), the Latin-scientific course was obviously promoted. The first graduates got their diplomas in 1898—two of them. The course is generally described as college preparatory, or even including the freshman year at college. Statements of recognition for the work were secured from such institutions as Northwestern University, Purdue University, Indiana University, and Indiana State Normal School. Later other schools, such as Oberlin and Wooster, are advertised as accepting the work done in the Latin-scientific course.

In the last catalog issued in Elkhart, the label "College Courses" is suddenly supplied for the name Latin-scientific. The description which follows implies that it is now thought of as bringing its graduates to the junior college level of education. That it was so considered is largely borne out by the fact that this catalog arrangement is carried over to the new Goshen College catalog and for the first commencement at Goshen in the spring of 1904 the Alumni directory lists 12 graduates from the "Junior College."

But the catalogs from 1903 on list "Requirements for College Diploma." In 1905 this suddenly becomes "Requirements for College Degree," and in the description which follows, the degree is named the "Ph.B." degree. Finally in the catalog of 1908 the full requirements for graduation from a four-year curriculum with the B.A. degree are given, with the significant statement (among others) that "This system makes for general culture." The first graduates from this course, leaving with B.A. degrees, were graduated in 1910.

Another indication of the broad "liberal arts" concept which was at the heart of our founders' conception is in evidence in their statements of aim, of what constitutes in their minds the education which they had in mind to give. From the very first their statements indicate the vision again for a broad education—neither entirely vocational nor wholly in the field of religion. "The mission of Elkhart Institute is to furnish the best possible opportunities to young men and women to prepare themselves for making the most of life, that they may attain to the highest usefulness."

"The Board and teachers will do their utmost to better qualify men and women for every relation in life. . . . It is their aim to train them to the exercise of clear, independent thought; to cultivate in each his own individuality; by original investigation to lead to the acquirement of knowledge which gives power. More than this, it is the aim to aid the young mind in attaining wisdom, without which knowledge fails to be a blessing. . . ." So states the first catalog of Elkhart Institute. One finds similar sentiments in the catalogs and literature which follow.

In J. S. Coffman's famous speech at the dedication of the Elkhart Institute Building in 1896, one is impressed with his broad knowledge and his interpretation of history, both secular and church history, and certainly also with his notion of what the institution is to be in the future.

Though the address is full of cautions and warnings, yet it also envisions the opening of an era for the church in the educational world: ". . . we are thrilled with pleasure as we paint in our mental vision the beautiful picture of a multitude of young men and women going out from this institution, the mind stored with knowledge, trained to make the best of all their faculties, possessed with a will to do right that will acknowledge no defeat, armed with character that will never shrink from maintaining true principles, trust that relies solely on the favor of God for success."

So much for our founding fathers and our early beginnings. In view of the evidence, it seems fair to say that we today are the heirs of a broad "liberal arts" conception of Christian education, a conception which stands in contrast to the vocational or professional on the one hand, and also to that of a purely "Bible school" training on the other.

Perhaps a word of explanation is needed here. It certainly is not true that our founders had any notion of minimizing either vocational or Bible training, but in order to be the best person professionally or religiously, they did believe that a good deal of learning in many fields was necessary. A good education in a Christian environment, they felt, was a necessary prerequisite for being a sound Christian character later on in any vocation. "Culture" was the word which was hit upon to describe this enrichment of personality through education.

Pressures have come from various sources to swerve Goshen College from this ideal through the years. But men like Noah Byers, and, in a later day, Noah Oyer, and many others held firmly to the "liberal arts" ideal, and refused to narrow the conception for other more apparently functional goals.

Whatever be the pressures and requirements of a later generation, whatever the needs of contemporary society in church or secular professional life, Goshen

Goshen Fourth Indiana School Accredited by AACTE

Accreditation of Goshen College by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education was announced on February 12. Of 27 institutions applying for recognition, only 12 were accepted.

As reported in the January issue of the Newsletter, Goshen College has undertaken a long-term project of seeking accreditation of the teacher education program, the seminary, and the nursing school. Accreditment by the AACTE culminates the first phase of this project. At present temporary accreditment with a national organization is held by the nursing school and the seminary is an associate member of the American Association of Theological Schools. Plans for seeking full accreditment of the nursing school are now moving ahead.

Two Attend

Announcement of Goshen's admission to membership was made at a Chicago meeting of the AACTE which Acting Dean Karl Massanari and Dr. Silas Hertzler, director of teacher education, attended. Representatives of the association visited the campus late in January to evaluate and study all phases of college activity related to teacher education. A 164-page report and 73 exhibits prepared by Goshen College self-study committees were examined as part of the pre-accreditment procedure.

Members of self-study and evaluation committees included Goshen city school teachers and supervisors as well as Goshen College faculty members and students. Over-all planning was done by President E. E. Miller, Silas Hertzler, and Karl Massanari, chairman.

Goshen College is one of four Indiana schools listed with the AACTE. Others are Indiana University, Bloomington; Ball State Teachers' College, Muncie; and Indiana State Teachers' College, Terre Haute.

Dr. Howard R. Jones of the University of Michigan and President Leslie A. Holmes of Northern Illinois State Teachers' College constituted the official visiting committee. They were assisted by several other persons. Commenting in their report about the basic objectives and organization of the college the visitors said among other things that:

> "The basic purposes of the entire college program are very clearly set forth and are understood and accepted by faculty and students.
> "A feeling of group solidarity exists contributing to high morale.
> "Teacher education has been accepted as an institutional responsibility by Goshen College. Forty per cent of the full-time students in the college are enrolled in teacher education curricula.

Services Rated

Concerning student personnel services, which they rated "very much above the average," the visitors reported:

> "The faculty is guidance-minded. A genuine interest in each individual student is a hallmark of the college.
> "The college has an excellent testing program with good use made of test results.
> "Selective recruiting for teacher education is a responsibility of which all advisers seem aware.
> "The great lack in the student personnel program is that there is no provision for a follow-up program of graduates. This mars a student personnel program which in nearly all respects is very much above the average of college guidance programs."

Travel Noted

Regarding faculty preparation it was noted that the advanced training of the faculty was good. Mention was also made of the wide travel experience of the faculty. The visiting team called attention to the desirability of more faculty participation in local affairs and to the need for improving the level of faculty salaries. With respect to teaching load of faculty it was noted that the situation is comparable to that found in most colleges the size of Goshen.

Comments about the curriculum-instructional patterns included:

> "There is good balance in the instructional pattern between general education and professional education.
> "Particularly worthy of mention in the general education program is an effective emphasis on communication skills.
> "Wide use is made of community resources in the instructional program.
> "There is emphasis on the functional use of knowledge for the service of mankind rather than merely factual accumulation.
> "When the college reappraises its instructional program, consideration should be given to the possibility of introducing more electives.
> "In its long-range program, Goshen College should discontinue elementary education curricula of less than four years in length."

Experience Reviewed

In reviewing the professional laboratory experiences provided for the teacher education students the committee included in its comments the following:

> "Outstanding is the variety and number of laboratory experiences which characterize the teacher preparation program prior to student teaching. Contacts with children, youth, and adults are stressed not only through the excellent use of community resources in the instructional program but by making provision for students to work with children and young people both during the regular college year and during summer months.
> "Provision should be made in the student teaching experience for students to have contact with pupils at different age levels and in different subject matter fields."

Mention was made that the library effectively serves the teacher education program, but that more funds should be provided for purchasing professional books, elementary and secondary textbooks, and instructional aids.

The concluding statement, because of its general interest to the Alumni, is included in its entirety:

> "The members of the faculty and administrative staff at Goshen College should be complimented on the excellent self-study made of the college prior to the official AACTE visit. Rarely has a visiting committee been presented with such a wealth of material pertaining to the various standards.
> "The faculty has analyzed the data assembled and has made sound recommendations on almost every aspect of the teacher education program. The report of the visiting committee was largely and accurately written for it by the college faculty and staff prior to the visit of the committee. This, of course, is as it should be.
> "A number of very worth-while proposals are still very much 'on paper.' Careful consideration needs to be given in the years ahead to the implementation of these proposals.
> "Goshen College needs to consider carefully what its future enrollment is likely to be five, ten, and fifteen years from now and what an anticipated increased enrollment will mean in terms of additional physical plant, additional faculty, and additional instructional resources.
> "Members of the visiting committee came away from their visit to Goshen College with real admiration for the dedication of the members of the staff to the purposes of the college and for their wholehearted effort to bring about the realization of these purposes. As is true with so many colleges, the major over-all problem is one of adequate financial support. Increased funds are likely to be put to very good use, judging by the manner in which the present budget is effectively stretched. It is hoped that increased denominational support will be forthcoming. Perhaps individuals in the Mennonite Church will be brought to a realization of the leadership role that Goshen College is playing and additional support may come from substantial individual gifts."

As was pointed out editorially in the February 19 College Record, "It's nice to have achieved, but these suggestions indicate we can't rest on our laurels."

College is still essentially a Christian liberal arts college. She has schools and departments which are semi-vocational—and always has had. But the heart of our curriculum is liberal arts leading to a bachelor's degree.

Perhaps one qualification should be added in closing. Church-related liberal arts colleges seem to be pretty much an institution peculiar to the United States, and even here the pressures upon them are great. With the developing concept of "General Education" for the first two years of college, there seems to be a growing tendency to make the curriculum of the last two years increasingly vocational.

Besides this there are those who come only for one or two years for secretarial or other vocational work. And there is the seminary, and the nursing school. Along with these developments there is coming upon us a host of "vertical" accrediting agencies which set up certain professional requirements for schools training persons in their respective fields.

The growing tendency again is to make the liberal arts college into a professional or vocational school. Goshen is once again caught between the pressures of serving the church purely as a place for Bible training on the one hand, and of serving her young folk as a vocational school on the other. A partial solution to our problem may be the direction the seminary is taking to become a purely graduate school and requiring for admission an undergraduate bachelor's degree.

There still remain the practical necessities of making a living—without which one certainly is not equipped to live the fullest life, and there still remains the tremendous necessity of knowing (both academically and experimentally) the great moral directives of the Good Book! Also, Goshen College is growing and finding it necessary to serve her constituency in many and varied ways. But somewhere between the extremes lies the golden mean. Somewhere among the welter of conflicting pressures we must find and hold to a sane interpretation of what our founder tried to establish.

Goshen College is still a liberal arts college!

Center Provided for Elementary Education Department

As the AACTE accrediting committee reported, 40 per cent of GC students are enrolled in teacher education. Of these, almost two thirds are preparing to serve in elementary schools.

To provide a center for the growing elementary education department the basement of Kulp Hall was remodeled after Westlawn dining hall was put into use. This area now contains two large, bright classrooms, two offices, and a curriculum library-seminar room.

Each classroom has a reading center with bookshelves, tables, and chairs. In addition to the usual classroom equipment one room contains an elementary science laboratory, while the other has provisions for setting up an actual kindergarten situation.

Walls in the center are painted pale yellow. These plus the colorful drapes and furniture make it hard to visualize the dining hall which served the campus for so many years.

After seeing the new classrooms a former student commented, "It makes me want to come back and take more courses." "We can accomplish so much more now," was an instructor's grateful observation.

Drive For Building Funds Continues

The executive committee of the Alumni Association has set a goal of $30,000 for Alumni contributions to the nursing school building this year. Here's what's happening locally in the general solicitation program to raise funds for the $400,000 building.

Goshen Hospital's medical staff has endorsed the proposed school of nursing building and named a committee to solicit funds for it.

Drs. W. R. Kelley, immediate past chief of the medical staff, and Howard Bosler, the current chief, are cochairmen of the solicitation committee. Also members of the group are Drs. R. H. Young, treasurer of the staff, C. K. Bender 29, and F. S. Martin 29.

C. L. Graber x28, chairman of the nursing school building steering committee, has announced that $60,000 has been pledged by Elkhart County businessmen toward the $175,000 general solicitation goal.

The local citizens' advisory committee has proposed that an intensive solicitation of funds take place in the Goshen-Elkhart area in mid-May. The local campaign is now in the hands of an executive committee headed by Clarence Ziesel x02 of Elkhart. Other members are Paul Kerr, Walter Beardsley, L. S. Armstrong, John Best, and Howard Rush of Elkhart; Claude Coppes and LeMar Mutschler of Nappanee; Clarence Varns x16, Vernon Shoup of Middlebury; Mayor Rollin Roth, Daniel M. Spohn, Don F. Stiver x16, and Carl Blumberg of Goshen.

Now that's what is going on in the Goshen-Elkhart community for improved nursing school facilities at Goshen College. What do you plan to do about it? Better join in—throw your hat (or billfold or checkbook) into the ring. "In unity there is strength," you know!

You might, by chance, hear more about this as time goes on.

Twenty Nursing Students Light Candles, Repeat Pledge

Twenty sophomore nursing students participated in a candlelighting service held January 29 at 8:00 p.m. in the Union Auditorium. Dr. Hugh Miller, lecturing physician from Elkhart Hospital, was the speaker.

New Testaments were presented to the group by Mrs. Ancel Whittle, Indiana Bible secretary of the Gideon Auxiliary. Paul Miller, instructor in evangelism and director of practical work, was in charge of the devotions. The Nurses' Chorus, directed by Darrel Hostetler 54, sang three numbers.

The service, in charge of Orpah Mosemann, director of the school of nursing, was closed by the Nurses' Pledge and class song.

Members of the sophomore nursing class include Nancy Bender, Ruth Hartzler, and Esther Litwiller, Goshen; Mary Ellen Hochstetler, Nappanee, Indiana; Mary K. Hostetler, Louisville, Ohio; Joan King, West Liberty, Ohio; Norma Neuhauser, Eureka, Illinois; Maria Rivera, La Plata, Puerto Rico; Mildred Schlabach, Scottdale, Pennsylvania; Carolyn Slaubaugh, Parnell, Iowa; Arlene and Pauline Smucker, Smithville, Ohio; Charlene Sommer, Saybrook, Illinois; Julia Steiner, Sterling, Ohio; Rosemary Stieglitz, Milford, Indiana; Lois Swartzendruber, Wellman, Iowa; Esther Troyer, Engadine, Michigan; Shirley Unruh, Harper, Kansas; Ruth L. Yoder, Hollsopple Pennsylvania; and Sara Yoder, Mill Creek, Pennsylvania.

Traina Gives Lectures on "Way Out"

Dr. Robert Traina, instructor in English Bible at the Biblical Seminary in New York, was the speaker for GC's annual Bible lectures March 11-14.

Subject of the series of eight lectures was "The Way Out: Studies in Genesis, Exodus, and Leviticus." Traina is the author of Methodical Bible Study, the text used by the seminary for inductive Bible study courses.

In addition to chapel addresses on Thursday and Friday mornings, Dr. Traina spoke in the Union Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. and to the Seminary Fellowship at 9:40 a.m., Thursday. Sunday he spoke to Christian Workers' Band at 8:30 a.m., brought the message at the 9:45 a.m. church service, and closed the series at 3:00 p.m. vespers.

Christian Life Series Features Faith

"The Call of Today's Frontiers and the Answer of Christian Faith," was the theme of the Christian Life Conference held February 12-14. J. Lawrence Burkholder, who is studying at Princeton Seminary while on leave from the Goshen faculty, was the main speaker.

Burkholder's topics included "The Answer of Christian Faith to Force and Fear." He also discussed the answer to man's search for truth and "Christian Vocation on Today's Frontiers."

Professor John C. Wenger gave the answer of Christian faith to sophistication and skepticism, while shifting social standards were the topic of Dr. and Mrs. H. Clair Amstutz. Orrin Smucker x31, school principal from Plain City, Ohio, gave his views on the answer to parental and juvenile delinquency. A panel led by Dean of Men Atlee Beechy also discussed this subject.

Special music was provided by the college choruses. The conference was moderated by President Ernest Miller, assisted by J. Marvin Nafziger. J. B. Shenk 51 presented a series of three meditations on John. Using love as the theme, he spoke on "John, the Object of God's Love," "God's Love for Man," and "Love and John's Message."

Camp Workshop and Seminary Session Planned

Summer will see two innovations in the Goshen program—a graduate seminary session and a workshop for camp leaders and counselors.

Dean H. S. Bender has announced that two three-week terms will be offered pastors and seminary students during the period June 8 to July 15. The two-week camp workshop will be held June 8 to 22 at Mennonite Youth Village and Brunk's Cabin, 20 miles north of Goshen.

Guest instructors for the seminary session will be Chester K. Lehman of Eastern Mennonite College; Donovan Smucker of Mennonite Biblical Seminary; Erland Waltner of Bethel College, and Gideon Yoder of Hesston College. H. S. Bender, John C. Wenger, and Howard Charles of the GC seminary faculty will also serve on the summer session staff.

Roman Gingerich and Edith Herr, directors of physical education, will be co-directors of the camp workshop. Merle Jacobs, biology instructor, is to be in charge of nature study and a minister will give Christian education instruction and serve as camp devotional leader.

The regular summer session, from June 8 to August 6, will offer 30 courses ranging from child welfare to history of the West. In addition to regular GC faculty members the summer school staff will include Ralph Wade 49 as music instructor; Ronald Graber 52, student at Northwestern Medical School, as teacher of anatomy and physiology; and Melva Kauffman, Hesston College instructor, as a member of the teacher education staff.

YPCA Elects Officers for 1954-55

YPCA officers for the coming year were elected by the student body on February 24. Richard W. Yoder of Midland, Michigan, and Marjorie Ann Yoder of Kalona, Iowa, were then installed as president and vice-president of the organization on March 24. They will also serve as presidents of the YMCA and YWCA respectively.

Other officers are Jim Delp, Lititz, Pennsylvania, and Marian Landis, Blooming Glen, Pennsylvania, treasurers; Earl Schwartzentruber, Tavistock, Ontario, and Barbara Amstutz, Goshen, secretaries.

Bible School and Ministers' Week January Events

Over 60 men attended a three-day ministers' week held as part of the annual Winter Bible School, January 11 through 29. The Bible school program was in three parts—daytime classes for ministers and evening classes for adults and young people. Twenty-seven men from six states enrolled in the ministers' courses, while registration in adult and young people's classes totaled 33.

Guest instructors for the Bible school session were Peter Wiebe 49, Goshen, and Elam Stauffer, missionary on furlough from Africa. Stauffer replaced Milton Brackbill of Paoli, Pennsylvania, who could not come because of illness in his family.

In addition to Stauffer and Wiebe, visiting speakers for ministers' week were Roy Koch Th.B. 45, St. Jacobs, Ontario, and Paul Erb, Scottdale, Pennsylvania. Erb discussed the minister as a preacher, while Koch spoke on "Planning the Program for the Local Church." A session on current issues—urbanization, the office of bishop, and the Christian school movement—was held with J. Howard Kauffman and Paul Mininger as speakers.

"The Making of Books"—Wenger Authors Theology Volume

Comes now from the pen of a ready writer, J. C. Wenger (the most prolific scribe on the faculty), volume number six Introduction to Theology (Herald Press, Scottdale, Pennsylvania; 418 pages; $4.00).

Introduction to Theology is an attempt (perhaps the first comprehensive one) to set forth in both sympathetic and scholarly fashion a systematic theology of the Mennonite Church—in other words, a systematic arrangement of Biblical truth as understood and officially endorsed by the Mennonite Church. It was written at the request of the Publishing Committee of the Mennonite Publication Board. The frontispiece is a picture of Benjamin Weaver, 1853-1928, with the legend, "Beloved Bishop in the Lancaster Mennonite Conference, Biblical Scholar, Gifted Leader, Man of God."

In an opening chapter on "Prolegomena" the author helpfully places his own book in the proper setting in relation to the whole field of theology. Chapter two, therefore, is in a real sense, the beginning of his work.

Beginning with the beginning of things ("God as Creator"), Dr. Wenger traces step by step the Mennonite interpretation of the Bible on such things as creation, revelation, redemption, and sanctification, and ends with the consummation of things ("God as All in All"). One is impressed with the lucid organization; comparatively small units of thought set off under their own separate captions enable the reader to follow the outline clearly. One suspects that this is a book for the classroom, developed in some measure through years of teaching systematic theology to college students. Yet it is completely readable, and even inspiring, for the lay reader.

In general, one could say the motif of the work is that of a statement of a doctrine followed by amplification (often by reference to other works) and by substantiation with ample and generous quotation from Scripture (the RSV)—there is a very great deal of the latter. There is then a repetition of this pattern on a new point of doctrine, and so on through the book. The style is candid, matter-of-fact, almost "clipped" in spots, and somehow bears the imprint of the author's earnest yet humble personality.

One is also impressed with the scope of theological material with which Dr. Wenger shows familiarity, both in the text and in the footnotes. There are spots where one senses something of the difficulties of writing upon official request a statement of belief for a considerable and not altogether uniform constituency.

This seems most apparent on borderline or controversial issues or at points where an outsider might consider the point of view prejudiced. Yet Dr. Wenger by training, personal conviction, and temperament as well as position in the church (bishop, former president of the Publication Board, seminary teacher) is, no doubt, the one man best qualified for the task. And his work is humble, candid, helpful, and enlightening to anyone who reads it aright.

There are appendices consisting of six important church documents, and a helpful index. The book makes a pleasing appearance, is well bound, and printed in very readable type. This reviewer found it interesting and enlightening and is glad to recommend it to the Alumni.

Chorus Itineraries Announced

During Easter vacation, April 9 to 19, A Cappella Chorus and the Motet Singers will present 27 programs in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

A Cappella Chorus, directed by Dwight Weldy, will visit Kokomo, Indiana, on April 9; Arthur, Illinois, April 10; Fisher and Hopedale, Illinois, on the afternoon and evening of April 11. Continuing to Morton, Metamora, Flanagan, and Tiskilwa, Illinois, on April 12-15, they will arrive in Iowa City, Iowa, on April 16.

The following day the 64-voice group will join the Hesston College chorus to present a program at Kalona, Iowa. Sunday, April 18, A Cappella will appear at Freeport and Sterling, Illinois, with the final program of the tour being given in Chicago on April 19. Lois Gunden, assistant professor of French and Spanish, will travel with the group.

Twenty-three Motet Singers with their director, Mary Oyer, will begin their travels on April 9 at Orrville, Ohio. Following that, programs will be given at Ephrata, Pennsylvania, April 10; Souderton and Deep Run, April 11; Springs, April 12, and Scottdale, April 13.

April 14 will find the chorus at North Lima, Ohio. Appearances at Louisville, April 15; Kidron, April 16; Plain City, April 17; West Liberty and Elida, April 18, and Archbold, April 19, will complete the tour. Dr. S. A. Yoder is to travel with the chorus.

A week-end trip into Iowa, Minnesota, and South Dakota was made by the Motet Singers March 18-21. They gave programs at South English, Iowa, on March 18; and Freeman, South Dakota, March 19. Mountain Lake, Minnesota, March 20; and Manson, Iowa, March 21, were their other stops. On this tour S. M. King, director of public relations, traveled with the Motet Singers.

Northeastern Ohio Reunion Held

More than 110 Goshen Alumni of the Northeastern Ohio area attended a reunion held at Paradise Brethren Church Friday, February 12. Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. Roy Umble, professor of speech.

Ira Amstutz 37 acted as toastmaster and the invocation was given by I. W. Royer x06. Music was provided by a string quartet composed of Eloise Gerig, sister of Virgil Gerig x40; Margaret Litwiller, daughter of Lester 30 and Ruth Yoder 29 Litwiller; Rose Stoltzfus, daughter of Eli Stoltzfus 22; and Noel Gerber, son of Edward Gerber 34.

The business session was presided over by Edward Gerber, who is the new president of the Northeastern Ohio Reunion. The evening was closed with the singing of the Alma Mater led by Francis Smucker x39.

Former Faculty Taken by Death

Three former Goshen College faculty members died during the month of February—Miss Anna Ella DeCamp of Elkhart, who taught piano in 1914-15; Mrs. Ina Slate 36, art instructor 1916-23; and David Blough Zook, assistant instructor in Latin and German 1903-4.

Mrs. Slate, who was 80, suffered a heart attack and was confined to the Goshen Hospital for a week before her death on February 10. She had been president of Western Rubber Company, which her husband founded, since 1938. Active in civic and church affairs, Mrs. Slate for many years served as a member of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and was the first president of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church.

In 1934, after the death of her husband, Mrs. Slate entered Goshen College. She lived in the dormitory and is remembered as a "second mother" by many women. Through the years she was a strong supporter of the college program, both financially and morally. She made it possible for several foreign students to attend Goshen and had also helped worthy American students.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Milton (Francese x*19)* Latta of Goshen; two granddaughters, Mrs. Richard C. (Ina x42) Strasser and Mrs. Hanns-Bertold (Julia 50) Dietz pt53, both of Goshen; two great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Lillie Kronk Lee x07, also of Goshen.

David Blough Zook, 75, retired several years ago after teaching in East Liverpool and Akron, Ohio, high schools. His death was caused by a liver ailment and complications.

He is survived by his wife, Lena Landis Zook; a daughter, Josephine; two sons, Donovan and Burton; five grandchildren, a sister, Matilda 29 of Sterling, Ohio, and a brother Abner x13, municipal judge of Akron, Ohio.

Mr. Zook's widow is the sister of Elwood E. a08 and Menno C. x14 Landis, Mrs. John (Alice 01) Umble, Mrs. J. J. (Mary a12) Smoker, Mrs. D. S. (Ruth x25) Gerig, and Mrs. Ohmer Norris, all of Goshen, Austin E. Landis 09 of Detroit, and Mrs. Raymond (Florence x19) Schertz of Metamora, Illinois.

News of Alumni in Japan and India

Mission-Service Newsletter of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities report the following activities of Goshen Alumni in Japan and India in its January issue.

The Japan missionaries have set up an organization called the Hokkaido Mennonite Fellowship of which all missionaries will be members. The stated purpose is "to preach the Gospel, teach the Word of God, witness through life and service to the transforming power of Christ, win men and women to full commitment to Christ."

Officers of the fellowship are Carl Beck 48, chairman; Ralph Buckwalter 48, secretary; and Lee Kanagy 49, third member of the counseling committee. The fellowship will meet semiannually in regular session, usually in April and October. . . .

Plans are being completed for the establishment of a Mennonite Center in Tokyo with Don McCammon 45 as business manager. Dorothy Snapp 44 McCammon has been selected to serve as treasurer for the mission. Members of the budget committee . . . are Adella Brunk 44 Kanagy and Eugene Blosser 49.

The Bible House being started by the Lee Kanagys in Nakashibetsu as a part of their witness to the community was dedicated on Christmas Eve when J. D. Graber 25 was present.

Officers of the Mennonite Church in India elected at the annual conference early in January include P. J. Malagar 49, moderator; S. Paul Miller 38, treasurer; Edwin I. Weaver 30 and Paul Conrad x40, members of the executive committee.

Class of 1943 Members Write

Life for us goes on pretty much as usual in the land of Goshen. I continue to enjoy my work as teacher of United States and Latin-American history. It is an interesting subject and it never grows old. There are always new things to learn. History is not the dry subject which some people think it is. It is just as interesting as life itself, for it is life. . . . Come back and visit your alma mater, and us whenever you can. You are an important part of Goshen College. Willard Smith, class sponsor.

From Africa

After a term of five years in the Congo I enjoyed a furlough of ten and one-half months at home. The past year was spent in Brussels, Belgium, where I studied the French language and also passed the colonial course prescribed by the Belgian government for teachers in the Congo.

I arrived back on the field on October 20 and will be teaching and supervising in our "Ecole d'Aprentissage Pedagogique" next year. It looks like a big task to me, but I'm trusting the Lord for grace and guidance. We are expecting about 16 pupils in the second-year class and about 30 or 40 in the first year. Frieda Guengerich, CIM, Charlesville, District du Kasai, Congo Belge.

Soon it will be three years since we left the States to come to Central Africa to take over the new hospital here at Mtchabezi. We are located in the southwestern part of South Rhodesia along the edge of the Matopo Hills which are really large granite mountains. In the valleys, the people live quite primitively and simply. To live here among them and read the articles on racial tensions in Central Africa as written up in Time and Newsweek, one wonders where the reporters get their information. One only needs to go to the cities and then you have no doubt where the information has come from.

To see the impact of Western industrial methods upon the native's pre-Abrahamic culture is enough to make one want to sit down and write A Philosophy of Civilization as Dr. Albert Schweitzer did. The best answer to it all is a personal experience of Christianity for European and native alike. . . . I think raising children here is simpler than in the United States. Meryl, age five, and Philip, age three, have adapted well to the outdoor life. A. E. Thuma, M.D., Mtchabezi Mission Hospital, PB 102-M, Bulawayo, South Rhodesia.

From Pennsylvania

After four years of CPS it took me a while to settle down to one job. Since late 1947 I worked for the C. H. Musselman Canning Company here in Biglerville. In 1950 I married Elizabeth Shue of Gettysburg, and since then I have lost some of my desire to roam. My present job is firing the three boilers that furnish steam for the plant. (I am making use of some of the experience I got in the basement of the Administration Building at Goshen.)

I enjoy working with my Sunday-school class—the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade—even though it drops to two pupils occasionally. A class that small may seem impossible to you who come from congregations of 200 to 400. I find the small church presents quite a challenge. Earl Schmidt, R.R. 2, Biglerville, Pennsylvania.

Last January we moved from Louisville, Ohio, to Scottdale and I've been working at the Publishing House as a secretary to Ralph Hernley, production manager. My work is varied and interesting. Paul is in the treasurer's office and enjoys his work too. We see a number of former Goshenites from time to time, some as visitors and some as workers here. Herma Hostetler Blosser, 831 Market Street, Scottdale, Pennsylvania.

Louise, Philip (age seven), Bonnie (age four), and I are very happy in our home situated in the "Garden Spot of America." Philip is a busy second grader; Bonnie is a busy "assistant" to her mother. Since Akron is the home of MCC, we are in close contact with the far-reaching relief and service program of our church. . . . Again this year I am working with a men's chorus. The 35 men come from 10 to 12 different Mennonite congregations. Our chorus, known as the Herald-Aires Male Chorus, sings in many churches. . . . Of course, I can be grateful that folks are still interested in wearing shoes. Our three stores, known as Warren's Shoes, Inc., keep me busy. Warren and Louise Yoder Leatherman, 125 S. Tenth Street, Akron, Pennsylvania.

From Indiana

Life at Goshen College is never dull. One becomes somewhat hardened to the many fine programs and discussion meetings that are always taking place. It seems impossible to attend them all and still do a fair job of raising a family. . . . Howard enjoys teaching here very much. His field is sociology and economics. Lots of his time is taken up with committee meetings, Sunday-school work, and other extracurricular activities. Lois Anne, now seven, Ruth Ellen, about four, and Alice Joy, age two, help keep life interesting too. Verda Lambright Kauffman, 1629 S. Main Street, Goshen.

It would be much easier for me to write about Russel and his wife Martha. I am sure I would have a larger letter. . . . We have much to be thankful for in this part of God's world. Roscoe Brown, 119 E. Lincoln, Goshen.

Edwin and I were married in August, 1941, just before he went into the service. He was in the service over four years including two and one-half years in India. He was discharged in December, 1945, and in January of '46 he enrolled in Indiana State Teachers' College at Terre Haute. There he completed his B.S. degree in industrial arts and also received his M.S. in education in the summer of 1948.

During all this time . . . I worked as an IBM machine operator. Some people call this type of work "electrical accounting." Since his graduation, Edwin has been teaching in the South Bend School System. . . . We lived in South Bend several years and when we decided to build, we moved back to my home town and Edwin built our new two-bedroom home which we are now enjoying. . . . We have a two-and-one-half-year-old boy named John Edwin. Ruth Kaiser Boshart, Route 2, Osceola, Indiana.

It is now a little over eight years since I became manager of the Gospel Bookstore in Goshen. This store is a branch of the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pennsylvania. I mention this lest you think that I own the establishment. It has been a real pleasure to work with people and books.

About six years ago my family life began. The Lord has blessed us with two dear children: Mary Ann, five, and James Russell, going on three. My work at the North Goshen Mennonite Church has been a rich experience. . . . According to present plans I will be released from my store responsibilities during 1954 to revise the summer Bible school manuals I prepared a few years ago, and to do some other writing. Russell Krabill, 409 Middlebury Street, Goshen, Indiana.

It is nice to be home again after seven years in France with MCC in a children's home. After two months at home, I'm beginning to get the adjusted feeling, but there are still many things about our country that shock me. Life seems so much easier to live here that I guess it just isn't possible for people to imagine how difficult it can be elsewhere. Children here are very different, too. I'm working in a Los Angeles City School Nursery, and my group of children surprise me quite often with remarks that children in Europe would never dare to make. Children in France at the age of six have at least one hour's homework to be done in ink; older students have little free time and teen-age jitters are unknown. Many at 14 must look for a "hard to find" job to earn a living. In a country as rich as America we can't be thankful enough for our privileges and opportunities. Mary Ellen Shoup. (Editor's note: This letter, like the rest, was written late last fall. Mary Ellen is now attending Goshen College as a sophomore.)

Our family now numbers four. Conalee will be four in February and Jerilyn will be two in December . . . . A special interest in house plans and building led me to enter the Crosley Plan-Your-Kitchen Contest last summer. Just before Labor Day a private investigator came out from Chicago and interviewed me as a potential winner for this particular area which covers most of Indiana and a small part of Illinois. On November 24, the district representative from South Bend informed me that I was one of the 67 first-prize winners in the United States. Each winner gets appliances and cabinets to remodel the entire kitchen just as it was planned, plus $500 for installation charges. I probably won't realize it's really true until they start unloading the crates on our doorstep. I surely want to give Miss Wyse credit for the help received during our house planning course in college. Carol Stine West, Route 1, Bristol, Indiana.

God has been very good to us these past years. Dick and I celebrated our tenth wedding anniversary this year. In these years we have not made any headlines, but they weren't all dull. We now have three children. Bill is eight and in the third grade. . . . Karl is four, with eyes big and brown. . . . Kristine Ann is one year old. . . . Dick is working at Barneman's and Son's Hardware as he has been for the past 12 years. He also teaches a class of teen-age boys at Grace Lutheran Sunday School where we all go to church. He is also Sunday-school treasurer. Rachelle Troyer Klawitter, 819 E. Jackson, Elkhart, Indiana.

From Ohio

About all of my activities revolve around the family. I'm just a busy housewife. The five little Myers' keep me very busy. John is eight and in the third grade of school, James is four, Mary three, Joseph one, and Daniel two months.

We came to Columbus last spring when Orval started taking graduate work at the university. Orval is working part time at the Power Company here in town and taking some work at the university. Elizabeth Leitner Myers, 1449 E. Hudson, Columbus 11, Ohio.

My husband, John, is a mason by trade and has been a building contractor for the past 10 years. And as all builders in recent years he has been kept very busy. We live in a small brick house which we built about six years ago. Together with our four children we enjoy any spare time we can find to get out on our farms which have become a hobby as well as an investment.

Our pride and joy, of course, is our family of two boys and two girls. After several years of piano lessons, Devon, age nine, is also studying the saxaphone. His real interest, however, lies in the books that line his room—most of them history and geography. Darrell, seven, has started piano too. Though he does well in school, I usually must rely on the folded papers and other contents of his pockets to find out what goes on between recess periods. Debra, four, and Deanna, two, are Mommy's helpers, but when I relax even Deanna comes with her arms full of picture books to "read." Grace Sieber Leu, 609 W. Jackson, West Unity, Ohio.

We have one acre of land and are living in our new home. It is not finished although we have lived here two years. I guess the reason . . . is because Paul is a busy contractor building new houses for others. . . . We have three children. Deborah is in the first grade and Kristen will go to school next year. Jan Michael was a year old on August 18. Ruth Blosser Kauffman, R.D. 1, Orrville, Ohio.

Our hearts were saddened in June when our second son lived only a few hours after birth. Our son, Joseph, will be four in December. He is a happy, healthy boy, though his diabetic condition requires careful watching.

Sturges is in the fifth year of teaching at the little white schoolhouse about three miles from home. We share our large farmhouse with an Amish couple, who help with the farming. Bernice Meyer and Sturges Miller, Star Route, Millersburg, Ohio.

October, 1946, found me celebrating my twenty-fifth birthday aboard the Italian liner, Vulcania, sailing for Alexandria, Egypt, and ultimately for the vast subcontinent of India.

To say that I enjoyed my work in Asia is a gross understatement. In speaking of Asia I have a tendency to break out in superlatives. . . . Several high lights aside from the work were a hunting trip as the guest of the Maharaja of Trippura and three weeks with Mahatma Gandhi. It was in Darjeeling in the Himalayas that I met Elaine Snider of Waterloo, Ontario, who is now my wife.

I flew to the Netherlands. East Indies, in May, 1947, where I represented the MCC, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Federation on the islands of Java, Sumatra, Bali, Borneo, and the Celebes. The UN furnished a C-46 airplane and crew for conveying relief goods. I consider my most important work here the assistance I was able to give in opening the Lutheran mission field in Batakland, Sumatra.

I returned home in September, 1949, via the Pacific and the Panama Canal. I found my father in very poor health; so that delays until a later date the decision as to whether we will return to work in Asia. In October, 1949, I went to work for the Citizen's Savings Bank in Columbiana, Ohio, where I have been employed since and am an officer in loans and investments. I am the executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Clerk and Treasurer of Beaver Township, and I have a one-hour radio program every Friday in which we attempt to interpret the political and economic developments as they affect our community and to boost our community. William Yoder, Route 1, Columbiana, Ohio.

We do a little general farming and raise fruit—peaches, apples, raspberries, strawberries, etc. Fruit-growing is a year-round occupation. . . . Most important to us is our family, of course. We (my wife was Pauline Liechty) have four children: Tim, age eight years, Tom, age five, David, age three, and Margaret Suanne, age 15 months. Raising a family is surely a challenge, but nothing could be more rewarding. N. Wilmer "Pete" Schrock, Box 131, R.D. 1, Orrville, Ohio.

We live on a 63-acre farm, near Smithville. We do not have any livestock, only chickens. Since Dave does trucking, it would not be handy to have livestock. Dave hauls potatoes from Wayne County to Fort Wayne, Indiana. His busy season is the fall of the year, when the farmers are digging potatoes.

In the winter he hauls from storage. These potatoes all go for potato chips. Perhaps quite a few of you eat Seyferts Potato Chips, especially if you live around Goshen.

Robert, three and a half years old, likes to play with trucks. . . . Lee Lynn, two and a half, likes dolls and books. . . . Rita, 10 months old, just can't wait until she can run after the other two. Dorothy Gerber Schrock, Sterling, Ohio.

I am now working for the Ohio Edison Company as Farm Service Representative out of Massillon and Alliance offices. . . . Our oldest girl, Rosemary, is now in first grade in school. Our other girls are Rebecca, almost four, and Miriam, two. We still live along US Route 30 and our latchstring is still out for you folks who occasionally pass by. Last summer Priscilla and I were counselors for one week at Laurelville Mennonite Camp for one of the junior high weeks. George Falb, R.F.D. 2, Orrville, Ohio.

From California

The last two summers have been spent at New Mexico Highlands University at Las Vegas, New Mexico. I am working on a master's degree in the field of business education. The university is small (around 900 students). My classes are composed of from six to fifteen students. In one way that is good, because I do receive lots of individual help, but in anther way it is more difficult, since my turn to make reports comes so often. The climate is ideal, which is my one main reason for choosing the school. I cannot study in hot weather, or at least I think I can't. Then, too, I have a sister and brother-in-law who are at the present time in charge of the Navaho mission at Bloomfield, New Mexico. Ethel A. Climenhaga, Upland College, Upland, California.

From Arizona

I should bring you up to date since May, 1943. I spent one year teaching at North Liberty, Indiana, and four years in Elkhart, Indiana. Following a year spent at Wheaton College in graduate study Al and I came to Arizona. We lived on the Apache Indian reservation for a few months and then moved to Phoenix where we both taught. Al then took a year out to get his M.A. and since then we have been in Benson. I hope to get my M.A. next summer at Flagstaff and Al plans to continue work in the doctoral program that he started last summer. Rosemary Roose Zook, Box 688, Benson, Arizona.

From Japan

There is now the inevitable Mrs. Beck (Esther Thut, RN). To use obituary language, "This union was blessed with one daughter, Carol Carleen, born June 30, 1943." Believe it or not after all this ghastly talk, this constitutes a fairly well-adjusted threesome.

We were finally able to push our way through to a B.A. in '48 and a Th.B. in '49; so we pushed a bit more and now find ourselves up here in the best spot in all the world, the place where we are sure the Lord would have us to be right now.

We have a long way to go yet to master the Japanese language, but we do manage to understand and be understood, although sometimes when we watch each other talk, we realize how much this is still done through the medium of signs and wonders—we make signs and they wonder. I do manage to compose and read a bookish sort of sermon for the Sunday morning service. Our folks are kind, endure it, and show evidence of spiritual growth in spite of a defective diet. We are grateful that the work of the Holy Spirit is not hindered in direct proportion to our inadequacy. Carl Beck, Nishi 7 jo, Minami 17 Chome, Obihiro, Japan.

From Here and There

We are very happy in our work here at Hesston, my third year on the faculty, and my first year as president. Things are just a bit different from behind this desk. . . . I am still teaching two classes, which helps me to keep in touch with a good many of the students, since these are large enrollments—required courses: introduction to Christianity for college freshmen, and Romans for high-school juniors.

Last July 2 we got our first boy. Our children number four now: Veronica, Rebecca, Jill, and Luke Samuel. Carolyn has her hands full with the responsibilities of home and entertainment of guests. But she manages also to take in a night course here at school every once in a while. Roy D. Roth, Hesston College and Bible School, Hesston, Kansas.

In 1949, after working at Hesston College for three years, I was married to Menno Fast of Goessel, Kansas. Menno spent two and one-half years in Poland as a relief worker and in Mennonite repatriation. For our first two years of married life he was farming on his father's farm, and later he taught physics at Bethel College in North Newton.

This year we moved back to Hesston. I am serving as dietitian at Hesston College. It is a real joy to be associated with the school again and to share in the task of Christian education. I am enjoying my work here very much, yet it is difficult to leave my family each day, although we have a very fine girl who comes each day to care for Cathy and Betsy while I am gone. Naomi Brubaker Fast, Hesston, Kansas.

On July 2, 1946, we sailed for Europe to serve a two-year term in relief work. We spent eight months in Belgium and the remainder of the time in Poland. We worked with food and clothing distributions. We were privileged to visit in 13 of the European countries, and shall never regret the time spent in relief work.

After returning to the States, we moved to the farm of Bob's father. . . . We raise 3,200 turkeys each year and do general farming. We are about eight miles from Iowa City, and attend the Mennonite Church there. . . . Bob and I are serving our second year as sponsors of the MYF group. . . . David James is four and a half years old and Julia Beth is two years. Rachel Swartzendruber Fisher, Route 4, Iowa City, Iowa.

Don is almost five years and Bob, 15 months. They're healthy, happy boys and they have brought much happiness into our home. Don is the athletic type, and we're counting on him to help the Adelphians win many victories when he gets to Goshen. Bob seems to be better at eating than anything else; so your children will probably meet him in the snack shop during freshman days at GC.

Three years ago Dana began his studies to specialize in ophthalmology (the study of the eye) by taking a 10-month basic course at Northwestern University. Following that came two years of residency, one at Charity Hospital in New Orleans and the second at the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary in Chicago. Living in New Orleans was a most pleasant experience. . . . While in New Orleans we came to appreciate the Mennonites at Des Allemands and Akers; they took us in as one of their own group.

When Dana's work was finished in Chicago this past June, we were thankful that he had a job lined up beginning in July. Living on a shoestring does become less romantic as the years go on! He is now a member of the Gailey Eye Clinic of Bloomington—one of four doctors working with Dr. Watson Gailey, who has won quite a reputation for himself in this part of the country. If any of you need bifocals or cataract surgery just come to the Gailey Clinic and he'll fix you up. Verna Burkholder Troyer, 405 N. School Street, Normal, Illinois.

Frank has been extension plant pathologist and entomologist at West Virginia University for these 10 years. He travels all over the state, which has some beautiful scenery. I haven't seen much of the state myself. Too many little boys! We have three, David, eight, John, five, and Larry, two. You may have seen their pictures on the cover of the Christmas catalog the Publishing House sent out this year. We get up to Scottdale occasionally and always enjoy the fellowship of our friends there. Suzy Harnish Bishop, Arthurdale, West Virginia.

We are still living on our dairy farm way out in Western Oregon and find much to keep us occupied. Our two children are growing up, it seems, as Janice started to school in September and just loves it. We hope she will continue this enthusiasm for school until she graduates from Goshen College. Gail will be five in December; so he helps his daddy and maintains that he will be a dairyman. Hugh and Viola Zehr King, Tangent, Oregon.

We are still living in Kitchener and enjoying it as much as ever. In the spring the church elected Wilfred for another three-year term at Stirling Avenue Mennonite Church. It is just a year since the remodeling of the building was completed and we have a very lovely church now. . . . David, five, is in kindergarten this fall and loves it. . . . Danny, almost four, is anxious also for school now that David is going. . . . Ronnie is two. Betty Stutzman Ulrich, 241 Weber Street East, Kitchener, Ontario.

Mininger and Miller Absent

Both President Miller and President-Elect Mininger were absent from the campus during the past few weeks. Dr. Mininger left January 31 to register at Columbia University Teachers' College, where he is doing post-doctoral study in the field of higher education. His study under Dr. Karl Bigelow, an expert in college administration, is planned to better prepare him for the responsibility of the presidency which he will assume during the school year 1954-55.

President and Mrs. E. E. Miller have recently returned from a month's vacation in Florida. En route they visited churches of modern architectural design to get ideas for the GC building program. A visit to the Florida University School of Teacher Training was also on their itinerary.

Eight Alumni in Jordan Relief

Eight GC Alumni are working in the Jordan relief program. Ernest 42 and Mary Shank 43 Lehman are director and matron of the center in Jericho, while Walter and Gladys Miller Rutt 22 are doing clothing distribution.

Stationed at Hebron as a social worker is Ida Stoltzfus 44. Sam Stover 52 writes from Salt, "I have been loaned for a time to the Church Missionary Society which was in need of help. I am trying to administer the relief work at their center in Es Salt as well as teach chemistry two days a week at a British Mission School in Jerusalem. I feel it is a privilege to work in the land where Christ was born, lived, and witnessed, and I am sure it is still in need of Christianity as badly as it was in those days."

Glendon Jantzi 52 and Dale Kauffman x54 are serving in clothing distribution and agricultural work respectively.

Hope Rescue Mission Dedicated

Hope Rescue Mission, 532 S. Michigan, South Bend, Indiana, was dedicated on February 28. On the board of directors of the new Mission Board venture are Nathan Reiff a25 and S. J. Hostetler 23, Elkhart; Willis Hughes summer 51, North Liberty; and Edward Weaver pt52, Elkhart.

Special music at the dedication service was provided by a quartet composed of James Bontrager x57 of Yoder, Kansas; Verlin Garber 57 and Carl Hurst 57, Goshen; and Robert Good 57, Kouts, Indiana.

North, Bauman, and Wiebe Ordained

Homer North x15, Harold Bauman 46, and Peter Wiebe 49 have been ordained as bishops. President emeritus S. C. Yoder preached at the ordination services of both North and Wiebe on January 31. Bauman's ordination on January 24 was in charge of M. L. Troyer x11. Bishop O. N. Johns x09 gave the sermon.

The three men have been serving as pastors at North Main Street Church, Nappanee, Indiana; Yellow Creek, Goshen, Indiana; and Orrville Mennonite Church, Orrville, Ohio.

Alumni Activities Around the World

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. 15 Hershberger operate a five-cottage family resort at Bear Lake, Manawa, Wisconsin. They report that the lake is spring-fed, there's fishing, a beach, and a diving platform.

Teaching at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, is Paul D. Zook 34, who has been granted the Ph.D. degree by the University of Illinois in the field of economics.

Isaiah B. Harley 39 is president of the Messiah College Alumni Association now co-operating in the Greater Messiah Development program.

1940–1949

Junior Alumni:

Wendell Blosser, son of Clifford x50 and Lois Blosser 48 Amstutz, born December 7, 1953.

Jeffrey Brian, son of Pauline Hartzler 49 Anderson, born January 10, 1954

Rachel Ann, daughter of Eugene 49 and Louella Gingerich 47 Blosser, born December 22, 1953.

Wilbur Allen, son of Allen and Eunice Hartman 48 Byler, born January 20, 1954.

David Darrel, son of David 46 and Elizabeth Maxine Troyer AA45 Derstine, born January 26, 1954.

David, son of John x37 and Margaret Swope 44 Lehman, born January 22, 1954.

Tillman Erb, son of Galen 43 and Carley June Erb x44 Miller, born July 12, 1953.

Brad Charles, son of Art 49 and Millie Moser, born November 23, 1953.

Evelyn Mireille, daughter of Willy x48 and Betty Piron, born October 25, 1953. Willy is teaching in a government school at Bukavu, Kivu, Belgian Congo.

Mervin John, son of Arthur and Hilda Regier 48 Schmidt, born October 22, 1953.

Anne Bernice, daughter of Orley 49 and Jane Willey 51 Swartzentruber, born January 10, 1954.

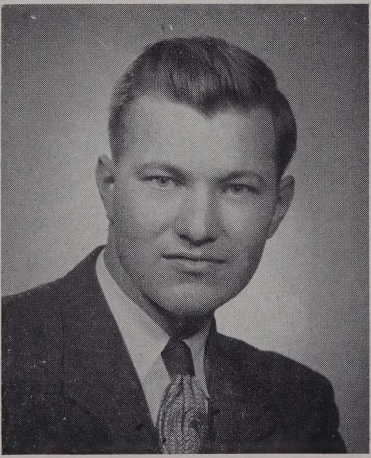
Dr. Edgar P. Sprunger x45 attended a postgraduate session in Oral Surgery at Ohio State University in November, 1953. After taking preprofessional training at Goshen, Dr. Sprunger attended Northwestern University Dental School from which he received a D.D.S. degree.

In their Christmas letter Wayne 47 and Hilda pt47 Brenneman describe winter in Nigeria. "A month or two after the last rain," they relate, "we wake up in the morning to see the air white with fine dust which has blown from the Sahara over 500 miles north of us. One can hardly see the Share hill about a mile from the mission compound. The one redeeming feature which helps one put up with dirty furniture, cracked lips, and sore throats is the fact that this very dust makes this the coolest season of the year. In fact the sun is only about half its strength, and it gets down to almost 65 degrees (above zero) some mornings. That is cold when you have no heating facilities in the house. With just a little imagination one can look out at the white haze and see a Christmas blizzard back in Ohio or Indiana."



Wayne Brenneman

Also in Nigeria are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold 49 Lueders, who have been teaching at Ureggi under the Nigerian Faith Mission since December. They write, "We certainly thank God for the years of preparation at GC—to see the fields studied about in missions classes has been a most pleasant experience. . . . We appreciate your prayers as there is so much to be accomplished here."

Mrs. J. Horace (Arlene Wenger x47) Martin reports that her husband now has his R.N. and is serving as administrator at Philhaven Hospital, a 35-bed mental hospital operated by the Lancaster Conference. The Martins have one child, Philip, age three.

On the faculty of Nebraska State Teachers' College, Wayne, Nebraska, is D. Paul Miller 47. He received a Ph.D. degree in the field of sociology from the University of Nebraska on July 31, 1953.

Carl Beck 48 and Ralph Buckwalter 48 served as instructors for the first Winter Bible Institute of the Japan Mennonite Mission. Classes were conducted January 10-17 at Kushiro and Obihiro. The institute strengthened the spiritual fellowship of the local congregations and brought a number to make decisions for Christ, it was reported.

1950–1951

"My husband and I are nicely settled in Williamsburg (Virginia), where he is in I-W service in a mental hospital and I have a position as a medical secretary," advises Mrs. David (Lucille Shank 50) Allen.

Opal Nitzsche 50 is in her second year as assistant medical records librarian at La Junta Mennonite Hospital.

In its January 26 issue The Mennonite published a picture of Charles Burkhart 50. Charles was conducting the student choir of International Christian University at the cornerstone laying of the University Church.

A Christmas letter came from Nathan and Arlene Landis 50 Hege in Ethiopia. "We are still busy studying the language of the tribe which lives around us," they relate. "We are working and praying that they may have the Gospel to read. That seeems to be a long way off because there are many barriers. And we ourselves are far from using this our second language fluently. Interest in the school is fine so far. There are 53 (mostly boys) enrolled now. It is quite something to try to teach them do, re, me, in music class—Arlene's work—and make them understand the Bible clearly by using a strange tongue—Nathan's work—but we praise the Lord for progress."

New Additions:

Judith Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Davidhizer x51, born January 7, 1954.

Deborah Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Greiner, born June 23, 1953.

Elizabeth Ann, daughter of Nathan and Arlene Landis 50 Hege, born September 6, 1953.

Paul Allen, son of Dean x51 and Dorothy Schrock sec48 Slagel, born January 27, 1954.

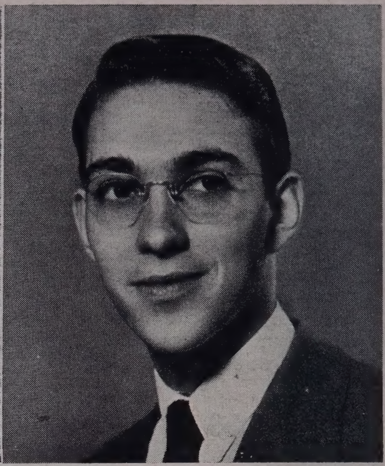
Charles Burkhart

Thelma Swartzendruber



Delbert Erb

Jeffrey Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yoder (Joyce Manges 51), born January 11, 1954. Jeffrey has a sister, Julie Diane.

"I have completed the requirements for a MICE at Ann Arbor and am employed with a consulting engineering firm in Chicago," writes Walter Hodel 50.

Director of a Spanish version of Dickens' Christmas Carol was Thelma Derstine 51 Swartzendruber. The drama was presented Christmas Eve at the La Plata Community Center. VS unit members, a schoolteacher, and high-school students participated.

Delbert Erb 51, secretary of music for the Argentine Mennonite conference, spent periods of a week in the towns of Tres Lomas, Trenque Lauquen, and Pehuajo. He worked mainly with the young people of these congregations, teaching them new hymns, sight singing, and choral work. Delbert was elected a lay pastor of the Floresta, Buenos Aires, congregation on January 3. He will serve under the direction of Bishop Amos Swartzentruber for a year.

A three-article series on "Messier and His Catalogue," written by Owen Gingerich 51, appeared in Sky and Telescope magazine for August and September, 1953, and March of 1954. This material will also be published in booklet form. Owen is a doctoral student in astronomy at Harvard University.

1952–1955

Married:

Miriam Keim 52 to Frank Miller on December 20, 1953, at Middlebury, Indiana. The ceremony was performed by Early Bontrager x08.

Althea Long x52 to Stanley Albrecht on January 24, 1954, at Tiskilwa, Illinois. C. Warren Long 29, father of the bride, officiated. Thelma Long 51 was her sister's maid of honor.

Now we are three:

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hostetler, Jr. x54 and Gloria Dawn, born November 28, 1953.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reeser (Ruth Bixler) x53 and Regina Ruth, born January 16, 1954.

Jake 52 and June Moyer x54 Landis and Jeffrey William, born February 2, 1954.

Leaving New York for India on February 26 were John 54 and Miriam Weaver x55 Beachy. The Beachys are returning to Bihar for their second term of service.

Ellsworth Kauffman 52 is assisting at the Lima, Ohio, Mission by teaching a class of boys age 13-16 in the Sunday school.

Acting as pastor of South Union Church, West Liberty, Ohio, is Wayne North 52. Stanley Shenk 44, the regular pastor, is holding evangelistic services in several Southern California congregations over a 10-week period beginning February 1.

Julia King x52, who is teaching fifth grade in Mount Morris, Illinois, writes, "Hardly a day passes that I am not again reminded of my debt to (Goshen College). Your simple faith has become a great foundation for me, and I am very thankful to my many friends, among students and professors, for their kindness and helpfulness. I appreciate receiving the Newsletter very greatly, for it always seems like a letter from home."

Jess Yoder 53 was ordained to the ministry at Zion Church, Beckersville, Pennsylvania, on January 12. T. K. Hershey x11, bishop, had charge of the service. Jess is a graduate student in the Northwestern University school of speech.

Licensed and installed as minister at the Salem congregation, Foraker, Indiana, on January 17 was William McGrath 53, a student in the GC seminary.

Ignorance Is Not Bliss

At this fifty-sixth commencement season it may not be amiss to remind ourselves that Goshen College is an academic institution. The commencement ceremonies—the processions and the gowns and the degrees —represent academic achievement. They are the annual climax to the year's academic endeavors.

We are a college! If that means anything, it means that we have a healthy respect for learning—for books, for the lore of the past, for scientific inquiry, and for the great universal truths one finds in the humanities and particularly in the Bible.

We should cultivate an implicit respect for knowledge, for the truth, and for a clarification of the truth from whatever source, just so it be honestly and really the truth! Any intellectual attitude less than this is fraught with danger.

If through evasive devices in order to escape the disciplines which truth lays upon us we ignore it or veer aside we are in grave danger. Or if we fear the adventure and in the interests of a false security hug our time-honored traditions we again are headed for trouble. We dare not be smug and static.

If we refuse to sift out the issues, to find out the truth, to apply sound knowledge to current problems, then we shall soon find ourselves sitting behind outmoded Maginot Lines defending, with wooden swords, issues long dead.

Learning is an adventure. The lure of the unknown, "the eternal fascination of the beckoning road—the needling challenge to explore what is beyond!"

Passing a laboratory door once a student called to me, his face aglow with the delight of learning something new. "Say, look a here," he said. "See how this thing reacts!" I dare say that he spent more than three hours preparing that experiment.

I once asked a college student, a sophomore or junior, to read Aristotle's Rhetoric and bring a report of it to the class. Now Aristotle's Rhetoric is not exactly a mystery thriller (read it, and see for yourself). I was a bit dubious as to the outcome of this assignment. She returned, however, a few days later absolutely aglow with the new world she had found and the way of reasoning which she had discovered. She was enthusiastic, and her enthusiasm was contagious in her report to the class.

One could multiply illustrations of this kind. Surely there is much to be said for the challenge of God's world of nature, of men, and of books, while it is true that a lack of it is a great liability. More than this, the wasting of educational opportunity is an absolute hazard.

Our tradition at this point is not always fully understood. Intellectuality is juxtaposed with spirituality. Goshen, we are told, is too intellectual to be spiritual. One can only reply if we are not spiritually minded that is a grave indictment.

We certainly do need the humility and grace to find and do the mind of the Spirit. But this does not preclude intellectuality. Our minds must be dedicated minds. Too long has the Christian Church been intellectually lazy. We dare not fall into the pietistic trap which counts out intelligence and makes religion merely a matter of feelings. The heart may be warm and enthusiasm strong, but if bigotry and prejudice direct the conduct, then woe betide!

At a church school, one's religion dare not be measured by his disinterest in study. Surely the better the Christian the more earnest his consecration of heart, hand, and mind. This at Goshen College means, among other things, long hours spent over books, languages, and test tubes.

If you do not believe this, ask the gowned figures in the procession on commencement day!

Nurses Rank Second in State Exams

G.C.'s first nursing school graduates ranked second in the state in last October's state board examinations according to figures released by the Indiana State Board of Nurses Registration and Nursing Education.

Average performance of the group of eight was first in the state in surgical and pediatric nursing, second in medical, communicable disease, and psychiatric nursing, and third in obstetrical nursing.

The average score of the group ranked well above the state and national averages.

Speech at Goshen College

By Dr. Roy Umble

Goshen College seeks to provide a balanced speech program. The extracurricular forensic activities furnish laboratory experiences in speaking for the credit courses: public speaking, group discussion, debate, persuasion, oral interpretation, speech for teachers, and speech for ministers.

The Goshen College alumnus often asks, "What are our debators doing this year?" or "Who are the orators this year?" or "What's new in the speech program?" In some cases this question may be merely a greeting; in others this may be a thoughtful, courteous way to open a conversation; and in others it may represent the concern of the Goshen graduate that Goshen students should be able to recognize and to express ideas. The church and the community ask for Christian men and women who are able, responsible speakers and receptive although discriminating listeners.

To State Their Case

Increasingly the men and women in medicine, nursing, social work, engineering, home economics, recreation, and educational and business adminstration wish to be able to state their own case. This has been true in varying degrees for years—for centuries—for the teacher, the minister, the public official, and the Christian worker. In order to prepare students for this phase of their contribution to society, schools are adjusting their courses of study to meet needs of graduates.

One of the largest engineering universities in the middle west requires all students to complete a course in public speaking with a satisfactory proficiency. A liberal arts college with a strong evangelical Christian emphasis prescribes speech for all students. A military academy in Indiana with an enrollment of less than 200 has two speech-trained men on its faculty and over half of the students participate in the extracurricular speech events. The annual report of the chairman of the department of speech of Wayne University, Detroit, lists a total of 5,079 students in speech courses for one year.

A realistic view of the role of communication in all parts of the world where our graduates are serving suggests that every Goshen student should be able to meet his speaking opportunities and responsibilities with satisfaction to his audience and to himself and with justice to his cause. The greater the cause the greater the responsibility.

Present Program Varied

The present program of speech contests at Goshen College includes seven events. Three are limited to freshmen and are designed to encourage participation by those students with or without high-school experience. The oldest and most competitive is the annual peace oratorical for upperclassmen held in November.

Winners of the local peace contests represent Goshen in the state peace oratorical contest. Last year Tom Diener 55 won first in the men's division and Bonnie Brunk x55 won second in the women's. Both orations were selected for publication in the Prince of Peace Declamations used by the Ohio High School Forensic League.

Since 1946-47 Goshen has been a member of the Indiana Oratorical Association. N. M. (Mac) Cripe 49 (Ph.D., Northwestern University), now head of the department of speech at Butler University, Indianapolis, and Hans Hillerbrand x55 won first in the state contest. Their orations were published in the annual report of the Interstate Oratorical Association. In the finals representing 13 states Hillerbrand won first in a program of six men selected in the preliminary rounds.

Annually 40 to 50 students speak in intramural debate. Winners this year were Barbara Amstutz 57 and Alice Metzler 57. Last year's winners were Nancy Bender 55 and Eileen Hartzler x56, while Margaret Jantzi and Lois Hostetler x54 won in 1951-52. Intercollegiate debate tournaments provide speaking opportunities on other campuses and before campus and community groups. Demonstration debates before college classes and in high schools give speakers audience experience. This year Goshen (Floyd Metz 56, Tom Diener 55, Margaret Jantzi 55, and Herbert Hostetler 56) placed second in a statewide debate-discussion tournament at Indiana University. This duplicated the record of a 1948 team of Albert Meyer 50, Willard Krabill 49, John W. Miller 48, and John J. Fisher, Jr. 48. Charles W. Ainlay 41 was the first Goshen orator to win in the state and national contests of the Intercollegiate Peace Speech Association.

Hans Hillerbrand and Darlene Metzler represented Goshen in 1952 Old Line Contest

Each year since 1949-50 one upper-class student has received the Franklin N. Kornhaus Scholarship in Public Speaking: Albert J. Meyer, 1950; LeRoy Kennel 51, 1951; Paul Verghese 52, 1952; Robert D. Hershberger 53, 1953; and David E. Yoder 54, 1954.

The department of speech provides a variety of services for individuals and for campus and community groups. On a recent Saturday four faculty members and seven students helped to judge the district finals in the Indiana High School Forensic League. Gospel teams, peace teams, and foreign student teams review speech plans and rehearse programs before members of the speech staff. Although literary society and open house programs are under the direct supervision of the personnel office, the speech staff sometimes offers counsel and suggestions.

In connection with the physical examination during freshman days, the department administers speech and hearing tests to all entering students. Service and clinical aid to the speech and hearing handicapped should receive further emphasis on the campus and in the community. This work, started a few years ago under the Service Committee of the Y by Esther Eby 49, has been continued by Patricia Lerch 52 and more recently by David E. Yoder.

Goshen has a strong speech tradition. Faculty members and students on other campuses know Goshen in part by contacts in debate and oratory. This provides a significant voice for certain students and for many of our deep concerns and commitments. Credit for this tradition goes not only to students who have spoken in local contests and who have represented Goshen but also to faculty members from all departments who have helped to give students the motivation, the information, and the skills of writing and speaking.

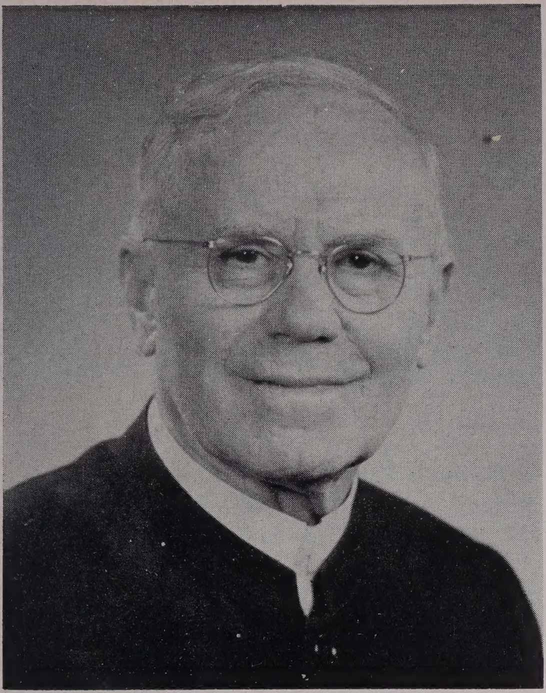
Boyd D. Smucker, director of the School of Oratory until 1913, I. C. Keller, professor of English, 1917-1920, and John S. Umble, professor of English and after 1938 professor of speech and coach of debate for more than 25 years, have made outstanding contributions to speech at Goshen.

As stated in the college catalog, "The courses and the extracurricular activities in speech are planned and directed to prepare students for greater service rather than for personal exploitation. The long-range program and interest of the church and home community as well as the immediate personal and professional needs of students serve to determine course content and activity emphasis."

Alumni and Faculty in "Mennonite Life"

Melvin Gingerich, professor of history, Paul Peachey x44, and Jacob Sudermann 32 contributed to the April issue of Mennonite Life, published quarterly by Bethel College.

Dr. Gingerich helped in the preparation of a summary on "Mennonite Research in Prograss" and a "Mennonite Bibliography." His map on "The Mennonites of Alberta" was also used. An article entitled, "Baptists Come Back to Waldshut," was written by Peachey. Sudermann's work was on "Providence."



I. W. Royer—in meekness and humility

Community Honors I. W. Royer x06

According to the Orrville Courier-Crescent it was not only the Orrville Mennonite Church, but the entire community that turned out to pay honor to Pastor-emeritus I. W. Royer x06 on the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination, on Sunday, March 28.

The March 29 issue of the community paper features the Royers and the previous Sunday's service in Brother Royer's honor. Under the front-page captions "He walketh humbly with his Lord . . . Community Honors Pastor Royer for 50 years of Service to God" appears a large picture of our senior alumnus in characteristic smiling pose.

There are other pictures of the Royer family and of Brother Royer greeting his parishioners. The four-column tribute to his 50 years of work in the ministry concludes with the following paragraphs:

"In the best tradition of the corps of Christ's ambassadors, Pastor Royer is fulfilling his aim of serving his Master ably and energetically, but in meekness and humility.

"His work for church and community is praiseworthy and his contributions, industry, consecration, application, and broad-mindedness directed toward the welfare of all people is hard to equal.

"In 1950, he was named 'Alumnus of the Year' of Goshen College. In 1954, he is being honored as one of the finest envoys of God's kingdom in Orrville."

Harold Bauman 46, pastor of the Orrville Church, had charge of the morning service and introduced his predecessor, who then preached his fiftieth anniversary sermon.

As many of you know, the Royer family consists of Mr. and Mrs. (Tina Neuhauser w07) Royer; Dr. Mary Royer 30 (professor in the teacher education division at Goshen College); Katherine Royer 36, Orrville, Ohio (editor of children's Sunday-school materials for the Mennonite Publishing House); and Mrs. Charles Neff (Elizabeth Royer 37) of Street, Maryland, mother of five-year-old Christine and homemaker for her physician husband Charles Neff 38.

Good-By Old Ash Can!

Over the years Mrs. Siddie Oyer has kept the bed linens in order and mothered the boys (even sewed on buttons for them) in Coffman and North Halls. Over the years she has tramped up and down the cellar stairs of her home, just off campus, to fire the furnace.

It is these two facts added together that produced an unusual event on the evening of March 25, when in the presence of friends and neighbors she was presented with a check for $1,200. More has come in since!

You see the boys figured that bread cast upon the waters should return after many days. So each added his bit. With the proceeds Mrs. Oyer will insulate, add more storm windows, and get a new oil furnace and hot water heater—no more shoveling coal or carrying out ashes!

Congratulations, Mrs. Oyer! And thank you, men! What a lesson here of diligence in humble service. It shows too what Goshen College Alumni can do when they put their heart to it. God bless you everyone! (Incidentally, I'm going to start treating those dormitory fellows a little nicer too!)

Mrs. Lydia Shank 31 and Mrs. B. J. Schertz engineered the effort. Thank you for a job well done!

Books Presented By Dr. Streitz

Dr. Ruth Streitz, professor of education at Ohio State University, presented 60 recent books on teacher education and curriculum to the G.C. library when she visited the campus on March 25 and 26.

Guest of Dr. Mary Royer, who did graduate study under her supervision, Dr. Streitz spoke at the annual tea for supervising teachers. This meeting, sponsored by the teacher education division and the Christopher Dock Club, was attended by over 100 student teachers, their supervising teachers, and faculty members.

She also addressed the faculty at a tea held in the teacher education center. It was at this time that Dr. Streitz presented to the library a collection of books which she had received in the past two years as book review editor of the magazine Educational Leadership.

Seniors to Give New College Sign

The class of '54 will present a new Goshen College identification sign as their gift to the school. The location and construction of the sign have not been disclosed. Ben Nase is chairman of the committee at work on the project which has the approval of 75 per cent of the class members. Also on the committee are Bonnie Sommers, Kathryn Aschliman, Don Buschert, and Herman Weaver.

The Second Mile

In a day when men of science are blowing islands sky high and scaring themselves to death with their own scientific bogeys, it is a relief to contemplate a different kind of force quite beyond the reach of the laboratory. Elizabeth Hershberger 46 Bauman's Coals of Fire (Herald Press; 128 pages; $1.95) is a compilation of 17 illustrations of how returning good for evil works.

Not that the simple faith in turning the other cheek was always expedient. There was Maximilian, for example, who suffered martyrdom because he refused conscription into the Roman army, or the Jacob Hochstetler family who were all massacred by the Indians because they refused to shoot those who came to kill them. In other instances there was the salvaging of a human relationship and redeeming of a neighbor from his bitterness and hatred—imagine someone asking your forgiveness for having tried to hang you!

Elizabeth Bauman Author of "Coals of Fire"

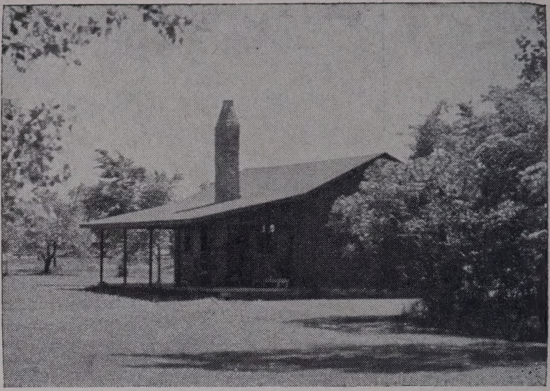
Coals of Fire is written in simple style for adolescents. But sublimity is often clothed in simplicity—and some of these examples are sublime! Particularly close home to this reviewer is the story of Marie Fast's supreme sacrifice. Others will be touched by the story of Clayton Kratz or Ernest Swalm.

Mrs. Bauman is following the sound Hershberger tradition (her father is Professor Guy F.). She has rendered a service in bringing the peace challenge down to the comprehension of the young adolescent.

I-W Field Representatives Meet

Participating in a two-day session of I-W field representatives in Elkhart on March 4 and 5 were Paul Swarr, Th.B. 52, Cleo Mann x43, Roy Bucher 50, Lowell Nissley x50, and Paul Yoder 47.

On the program of the conference was Atlee Beechy, dean of men, who discussed testing and counseling. Melvin Gingerich, professor of history, presented reading materials and ideas for making them available to I-W men.



Cabin by Class of '41

College Woods Development Begun

During Easter vacation, April 9 to 20, work was begun on a 13¼-acre plot between Route 15 and the college cabin. This area is to be developed through soil preparation, tree planting, and landscaping into an area for recreation and nature study.

A belt of pines will border the north and east sides of the woods. Plans call for clumps of trees and shrubs, winding paths, two ponds, a bird sanctuary, and camping area.

The development program will operate with a budget of $300 approved by the administration and the board of education. A state forester will supervise the work to be done voluntarily by students and faculty.

President Miller Given Two-Year Leave

On Saturday, March 27, President Miller and President-elect Mininger both attended a session of the Executive Committee of the Board of Education in Chicago.

Monday, March 29, Board Treasurer Melvin Lauver read the faculty a statement stating that it had been decided that President Miller be granted a two-year leave with pay, after which he is to return to Goshen as professor of education. It has not yet been determined what President Miller will do in the two-year interim.

Also, according to Lauver's statement, Mininger at this same meeting was slated to take over the office of president on August 9.

Alumni Serve as I-W Area Pastors

Among pastors serving young men of their conferences who are in I-W are nine Alumni. Harold Zehr x26 works with men of the Illinois Conference. Etril Leinbach w47 is chairman of the Indiana-Michigan Pastoral Committee. Donald King 45 serves the Detroit area, while Paul Myers w45 aids in the Muncie, Indiana, section. Cleo Mann x43 counsels men in Indianapolis, Verle Hoffman x41 those in Elkhart, Peter Wiebe 49 men in the Goshen, South Bend, Gary area. Paul E. Yoder 47 serves in the Pacific Coast Conference and John David Zehr 48 unofficially for the South Pacific Conference.

Class of 1946 Members Write

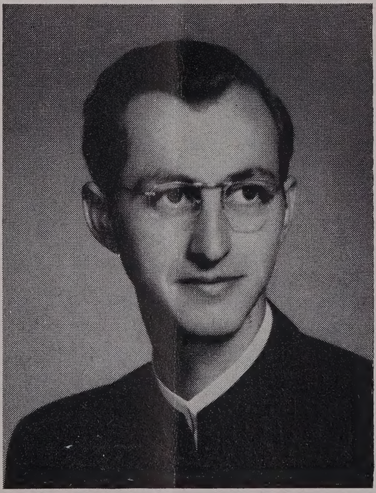
A friend of mine is very ill; so I have consented to substitute for her. I'm enjoying teaching very much. Henry's mother is here helping with our two little girls. Oh, yes, we have a new Kathleen Sue since our last class letter. She was born exactly three years after Rachel. Our fresh-air child was with us this past summer and during Christmas vacation. Rachel really shed tears when she left. Esther Eash Yoder, Box 147, Route v, Grantsville, Maryland.

This finds us nearing the end of the second term here at Princeton Seminary. I only wish that my work was nearly two-thirds done! One of the pleasant parts of our experience is the contact with the churches in the Franconia area. For about seven weeks I went over to Blooming Glen each Monday evening and often stopped at David Derstine's home after the meeting for refreshments and fellowship. I think one of the most satisfying things about having been to Goshen is the host of friends one meets all over the church! Norman Kraus, 22 Dickinson Street, Princeton, New Jersey.

I fear my story will sound just about like a repeat of my last three, for I'm still teaching English and typing, and I still enjoy my work tremendously. In addition to three English classes and two sections of typing I have the privilege of trying to sponsor our yearbook, The Reverie, and the senior class. There are few dull moments at I.M.S. this year, with 144 students and only seven teachers, but rather that way than not enough to do. Ada Schrock, Iowa Mennonite School, Kalona, Iowa.

Ken is now full-time staff physician here with about 70 women patients. Besides tuberculosis, some of these patients have other diseases as well. Ken has two out of every six week ends on duty here, but the free week ends we usually spend in Waynesboro, 30 miles from here. That is Ken's home and the closest Mennonite community. We both have our church membership there, and Larry is enrolled in Sunday school. Kenneth and Ruth Kreider Heatwole, Blue Ridge Sanatorium, Charlottesville, Virginia.

Pardon me if I chance onto hospital terminology. No, I have not entered the medical or nursing professions. But my environment savors of such, for I am at present doing clerical work at the Mennonite Hospital here in La Junta.



Norman Kraus—a host of friends

Development of side line interests during the past several months has included homemaking and geranium-raising. But my roommate and I did move ourselves to a tiny square four-room house with a tinier square handkerchief-size lawn to the east. . . . We moved September 22 from Miller Hall, the nurses' home, having gathered together the minium essential for living—and I do mean minium! Catherine (Cass) Hernley, 1400 Belleview, La Junta, Colorado.

I am still at my same job of night supervisor here at the Lebanon Community Hospital. We are busy too, especially in the maternity section. We had 817 babies born here in 1953. How is that for a little 50-bed hospital? That is a little more than 60 a month; so you see we are pretty busy. Elsie White 141 N. Santism, Lebanon, Oregon.

From Kansas

I've been back in Kansas since July of '52. For the first year I was a child welfare worker for the Kansas State Department of Social Welfare and worked out of a Wichita office. Since last fall I have transferred to Garden City in the very southwest part of the state and have become a departmental field representative. My work is a part of an experiment project with a program of integration of services to the blind and child welfare services. I work in a supervisory capacity with county departments. Work with people provides a great challenge, and I am convinced of the need of Christian social services. I am also happy to see Mennonites' increased interest in working in these areas. Grace Eichelberger, 901 N. 9th Street, Garden City, Kansas.

In addition to my work with the General Conference on Education and Publication (business manager of all Board interests—stores, press, and publication office), we have had the great privilege of serving as interim pastor at the Eden Mennonite Church. Brother Peter Dyck, former MCC worker, is the regular pastor of this congregation. He has been attending Mennonite Biblical Seminary for the last two years.

As you may know, we live on the Bethel College campus at North Newton. Some time ago a person came to me and said, "There are two fools in North Newton—you and I." I said, "Why so?" He said, "Because we are building our own homes." Whoever said that was probably right. In any case, we have been building our own home on vacation and spare time. . . . This is an experience that I am enjoying very much. . . . By doing it ourselves we probably will save about one third of the cost of the house. If any of you are interested in trying it, I will be glad to share my experiences with you. Abe M. Wiebe, 722 Main, Newton, Kansas.

From Ohio

Our third boy arrived in December (David Allen) and we are all enjoying him a great deal. Philip and John Paul have accepted him so nicely, for which we are grateful. . . . We continue to enjoy the church here at Orrville. . . . We hope none of you will pass through or near Orrville without giving us a call, announced or unannounced. There's always soup and crackers around somewhere, as well as an empty bed. Harold and Elizabeth Hershberger Bauman, 303 Hall Street, Orrville, Ohio.

We still live on a small farm close to West Liberty. Don milks about 19 cows . . . he is feeding some fattening hogs. I imagine city dwellers can tell by the price of pork in the stores that hogs are good price. . . . I have been doing some substitute teaching this winter. I enjoy it very much, yet I'm glad I don't have a full-time job teaching. I don't believe I could manage a home, child, husband, and a teaching position all at the same time. Mary Kay Plank King, Route 2, West Liberty, Ohio.

We are still at Boys' Village, starting our third year as a matter of fact. Sometimes it seems like 30 and then again, we feel that we have just scratched the surface of the work to do and the challenge to be met. Wait until you have your own teen-agers, you will know what we mean! But we definitely feel that the Village is growing and improving its services, not through our feeble efforts, but work for youth must grow! There are so many fellows who need facilities such as the Village offers and we have such limited facilities. The most we can do is to take the boys we think we can help the most, and hope that before too many years we can more nearly serve the whole state.

In rereading this, I have decided I'm taking a lot for granted. For instance, so you all know what Boys' Village is? Bet you don't; so I will quote from our new information folder. "It is a nonsectarian, nonprofit corporation formed to care for and give treatment to dependent, neglected, or/and delinquent boys between the ages of 12 and 18, from the state of Ohio." Our part in this setup is director (Les) and wife of director (me), which is something like being a minister's wife, I guess. A lot of undefined jobs that need doing and don't fall under anyone else's responsibility are what I inherit. Also I am doing the dietetic work and the food purchasing.

These Village duties are becoming more and more a side line with me, as Ronald, two years old, and Christina, five months old, are demanding more and more time from Mommy. Doris Miller Glick, Boys' Village, Smithville, Ohio.

The biggest change in my life is the official change to a practicing physician after dreaming about such an experience all of these years. As I had expected, it is an entirely different area of medical practice. I am sure that if I ever return to more hospital training I will know what to emphasize.

It was after much prayer and evaluation that I began practice in Orrville, a community that has played an important part in the life of our college. . . . I am not the only medical doctor; there are several others, even a surgeon who has passed his board in surgery. This with a new medical hospital makes this a wonderful situation for a new physician. George Iten, Savings Bank Building, Orrville, Ohio.

From Illinois

We are still in Chicago, and have fortunately been able to live here at the Mennonite Biblical Seminary again. After moving twice this summer we ended up here at 4626. . . . One of the other families here has a year-old daughter; the wife is a nurse; so between us we work a six-day week at Billings by each working three days and keeping each other's girl another three. We have been fortunate in having nearly every Sunday off, and work on 7-3:30.

John is as usual—studying history—and will be throughout the summer. He'll probably take his orals next fall, then work full time on his thesis. So we will no doubt be in Chicago until a year from this spring at least. . . . Becky is 10 months old, is getting to the restless-in-church age. She is a happy, healthy child. She has changed our way of life in an enjoyable sort of way. John and Carol Schertz Oyer, 4626 Woodlawn, Chicago, Illinois.

Since the last letter I've finished my three-year term with MCC in the Orient. Going to my place in the Philippines I had a 42-day freighter trip from New York City through the Panama Canal, with stops on both the east and west coasts, to Manila. After a year there I was transferred to Java for the remainder of my term, and came home the other way around the world.

In Egypt I spent a week, sight-seeing as far as Aswan; before that we had short trips ashore at Singapore and Columbo, Ceylon. In the Holy Land I had about 10 days on both sides of the Israeli border. I spent about three weeks in Europe and arrived in New York City April 16 on the Queen Elizabeth. Since last June I have been working in Peoria as a career girl. Kay Crager, Laboratory, St. Francis Hospital, Peoria, Illinois.

I consider my finest friends among those met at Goshen College. You might even say that we have "Goshen Fever," if there is such a thing, for sometime within the next six months we are planning on moving to Indiana somewhere in the Goshen area. As soon as we locate a buyer for our home I will take a trip to Indiana, looking for a place to live. I don't know yet what my work will be after we are moved, but it does not worry us, for we know that the Lord will lead toward that end. It may be that I will teach school. . . . Since our last letter, our home has been blessed with a baby girl which we named Ruth Eileen. Our two boys, Joseph and David, are very fond of her. Allen J. Schrock, Niantic, Illinois. (The Schrocks have moved to 521 Dewey Street, Goshen, Indiana.)

From Indiana

Country life may be quiet and peaceful for some, but for a country doctor there are few dull moments. The office and nurse are very adequate, but our big need now is for a Christian secretary and receptionist. If this letter reaches anyone who has such ambitions, let us hear from you! (I am enclosing a little extra cash to pay for advertising!)

Our family still consists of five—we two, and David six, Barbara two and a half, and Charles one. We live in a large house, but even so it often seems filled with activity.

I am still hoping to take some graduate medical training at Cook County in Chicago to make my diagnosis sharper. I have been elected head of the Stark County Memorial Hospital Medical Department and the staff member in charge of the laboratory and X-ray department. This, with my duties connected with the Mennonite Medical Association, takes up some spare time. Glenola has been helping in the office to relieve the labor shortage; so no wonder time flies. Earl and Glenola Bontrager Leinbach, Hamlet, Indiana.

We are all fine, staying put very well, spending our spare time working on the house we are building. We have lived nearly three years in our garage and the four of us fill the space with no room to spare. We hope to finish part of the house and move into it this summer or fall. So far we have the shell up, the roof on, and most of the windows in. Doran Hershberger and family, Smith Road, Route 4, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Last summer . . . we girls went to the Smoky Mountains by way of Florida. It was at Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, that we decided to go to Florida instead of Washington, D.C. A glass-bottom boat trip, feeding a pelican at the million-dollar pier at St. Petersburg, buying dresses in the world's most unusual drugstore, mosquito bites in the Everglades, a sunburn at Miami Beach, holding parrots, feeding monkeys, watching alligator wrestling, and seeing the most beautiful tropical flowers, plants, trees, and birds made it a most delightful trip. The remainder of the summer we spent at our homes—returning to Salem school in the fall. Dorothy Powell and Leda Litwiller, Hudson, Indiana.

Two lively, energetic sons have a way of preventing letter writing and the medical profession doesn't often allow Odur to relieve me of their busy presence. John Clark is three and a half and overnight it seems we have a "rootin tootin" cowboy, in spite of ourselves. Daniel Wade, called Danny most of the time, is nearing two and a half years. They make a fine team to keep a household interesting and concentrated on their efforts. Doris Wade Rupe, 116 W. Dinehart, Elkhart, Indiana.

From Goshen

I'm teaching the second grade at Honeyville school. . . . You may wonder—"But didn't you just move to a farm last year?" The obvious answer is "Exactly!" At first I felt quite sorry for myself. Three lovely (?) children and here I am away from home all day. But I'm enjoying it so thoroughly that I decided I might as well forget my peeve. We have a fine young woman to handle things at home. Esther Miller was in college several years ago taking a Christian workers' course, and that is exactly what she is using now, although how she keeps her disposition is a mystery.

Since I am teaching in the elementary field, I am working on a permit. . . . Going back to school and books again after eight years of housekeeping is an experience! But it is as much fun as ever. This school has a fine system. LeRoy Yoder is principal. Some of you may have had him as an instructor during spring sessions at the college. He is a fine administrator. Dorothy Blough, Route 1, Goshen, Indiana.

We're living back in Goshen again, this time taking care of Noble Kreider's house. Noble is in Europe for a couple years and we are enjoying his large cozy place and all the interesting things in it. He admits it's rather like a museum and I agree—especially when it comes to the job of cleaning.

Paul is still working at Whitehall Pharmacal Company in Elkhart and is head of purchasing and stock control departments. The company's big items are Anacin and Kolynos tooth paste; it is entirely separate and has nothing to do with Miles Laboratories. He drives to work every day, but I am glad we live in Goshen again. . . . I quit my secretarial job in Elkhart last June and am teaching piano at Goshen College this year in the absence of Charles Burkhart and Noble. Teaching piano is both challenging and exhausting as I suppose every teaching job is. May I put in a little plug here for the music department? We are very much in need of piano and voice practice rooms and especially some pianos. The same pianos are in the same practice rooms in the Ad Building basement that were there when you were here. You know how long they had been here before we came and the condition they were in when we were here. . . . There were 22 college students taking piano first semester and there are 28 this semester. Carolyn Weaver Hertzler, 501 S. Sixth Street, Goshen, Indiana.

We are in Goshen again this year. Edgar is working on his B.D. in the seminary. He taught two undergraduate courses first semester, but this semester I'm doing the teaching—a new course called writing for religious journals. Michael Lee will be two in April and provides a constant course in child psychology and development. Ethel Yake Metzler, 1124 S. Eighth Street, Goshen, Indiana.

Brenda just had her sixth birthday. It hardly seems possible that she will start to school next fall. She is very anxious to start. We have a brand-new school in our township which is quite an improvement over the one-room schools which they had.

Speaking of school—I'm teaching first grade again this year. There are 35 in our room at present. That is too many, but they are a pretty good group; so we get along all right. Helen Rohrer Frantz, Route 3, Goshen, Indiana.

I plan to finish work on my master's degree in institutional management at Columbia University this summer. This year I've been living in the new home management house along with Edna Shantz, who supervises the four home ec majors who live with us each semester. Phyllis Roose, Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana.

Since my five-week Puerto Rican interlude over Christmas and New Year's I'm back at work for Dr. Silas Hertzler, director of teacher training. While in Puerto Rico I saw Rosalie Hooley Yoder and their new baby. Anna Cocanower, Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana.

We enjoyed the two years spent in Calcutta more than any other period of our lives. . . . A high light of our missionary tour was the privilege of going to Japan for the Youth for Christ World Congress on Evangelism. While there we had the privilege of being with Don and Dorothy McCammon and en route spent a few days in Formosa and Hong Kong.

I was having a reoccurrence of the tropical sickness I had on my other term in India and knew that we would soon have to come home. Just at that time I was elected the general secretary of the United Missionary Society and so we came home the early part of November, 1953. We had an interesting trip home, stopping in Cairo, Egypt; Rome; Geneva; and London. We now live at 2206 Prairie Street, Elkhart, Indiana, and any time you are in this area please drop in and look us up. Dick Reilly, 2206 Prairie Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

From Pennsylvania

The four years in Europe were extremely interesting and as full of work and activity as any years could be. It has become my second home, and, like most of the others who have worked there, my hope is to go back at other times. My work was Christian education activities and materials in Germany, France, Switzerland, and at one time, in Holland. My sister Hilda has been in Switzerland in this work since last February. I returned to America in July. After a short vacation in New England and at home, I spent some time at Scottdale, mostly working in connection with the European Christian education materials project, now taken over by the Mennonite Publishing House in co-operation with the MCC.

I am now studying drawing, painting, and sculpture for one year at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and am engaged to be married to Allan Eitzen, who attends another art school in Philadelphia. We hope to be married after he graduates from school in the spring, and after that the immediate future is uncertain. Ruth Carper, 1621 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

We have passed several milestones in family living this past year. We are now four! Richard was born on July 22—just 10 days after Gene's second birthday. . . . In October we graduated from apartment living to a one-family house. This two-story brick house, although not our own, meets our needs much better than our previous residence and there is room to spare, too. . . . Church activities are keeping us busy, and yet there are many things undone that we should like to do. John was ordained to the ministry last May, after having served the congregation about a year as a licensed minister. I have been helping with the junior church group which we started about a year ago. Alice Grace Hostetler Zercher, Box 411, Route 6, Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Teaching in a Christian day school affords many opportunities to mold lives, and it is this fact which challenges us to do our very best. . . . We are so thankful that this year Evie is able to teach an art class from her wheel chair. She enjoys the class very much and they have been turning out some lovely work. Their surface patterns were intriguing and now they have just finished making plaques by means of tooling copper and other ones by using the copper as a mold for plaster of Paris plaques. Their next project is "glorified glass." Royal, Evelyn (Showalter), and Stephen Allyn Bauer, Route 2, Hollsopple, Pennsylvania.

The most exciting thing that happened to us in 1953 was on August 30 when Don Alan joined Paul, Jeanette, and me. . . . Paul travels very much. We really appreciate the weeks that he is home. He enjoys his work thoroughly and finds much opportunity to witness for his Master. In March we plan to go south together—Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky, and Tennessee. We would be very glad to have any of you call on us. We live just a block over from the MCC headquarters; so we are very easy to find. Loretta Springer Leatherman, 11 S. 10th Street, Akron, Pennsylvania.

I have been glad to supervise getting out another '46 class letter. . . . We have a busy household here on the edge of town in our Pennsylvania Dutch home. Right now we are waiting for the arrival of our fifth any day. Philip has adjusted very well to kindergarten and we are glad he has the chance to go. Roger, who is three and a half, took a four-day train trip last week to Iowa with his Grandpa Erb.

Right now we are contemplating buying a goat—both because our monthly milk bill is $30 and because the last three children have had eczema and Alta Mae still has a bad case of it. . . . Recently we have enrolled in correspondence courses from Penn State. We are taking selection and preparation of food, home floriculture, and dairy goats. . . . Our summer vacation will probably be spent camping as usual. Last summer we went down through Virginia to Norfolk and the beach—stopping with Ruth and Kenny on the way. This summer we are contemplating Lake Erie in New York state. Every year we add to our camping equipment. Winifred Erb Paul, 12 Park Avenue, Scottdale, Pennsylvania.

From India and Belgium

Just before school began again, I moved from my two rooms in the main building to share with two other girls one side of a "duplex" just inside the Highclerc gate. We eat our breakfasts here and the other meals up at school. . . . Since the middle of August I've had both first and second grades again. The change-over should have taken place a month earlier, but I suddenly decided to become an Oriental, and that, plus a light pneumonia, enforced a five-week vacation. . . . The Indian customs are becoming less strange to me, but I still feel cold when I see bare footed men with their heads and necks wrapped in warm scarves and the women only their thin saries. Speaking of heads, here it's the men who display a variety of "hats," the women going bareheaded. Living is really a family affair. At evening tiny girls traipse home with the women, carrying on their heads their share of the firewood. Our American scientific ways of working may be the last word in efficiency, but the Indians do the almost impossible with their more primitive methods. You should have seen them felling the gigantic eucalyptus trees, landing them in exactly the right spot. Or perhaps it was my held breath and tingling scalp that did the trick! Ruby Hostetler, Highclerc, Kodaikanal, South India.

A year ago we moved out of Brussels to Ohain, a small non-Catholic village south of Brussels near the battlefield of Waterloo. We spent seven strenuous months getting things in order for the moving of the Children's Home from its old location and settling them in their new home. It was a rewarding experience to move the little tots and we saw a big change in their physical development. They really blossomed out as interested personnel cared for them. Our experience was valuable to us personally as we lived and worked daily beside Belgians; naturally it was a marvelous language aid, too. But after having found a very desirable directress for the Children's Home we were glad to relinquish part of our responsibilities there and return to live in our Brussels Center, which was opened a year ago in March. Here we have regular Sunday morning and evening services, a Wednesday night lecture, and a Friday night informal Bible study and prayer meeting.

Our Michael is four and Stephen is two and a half. Their activity at this time of the year is centered around their little table, where they spend many a waking hour cutting up old magazines, making letters, and coloring. That is, this is their time-consuming activity if they are not rearranging all the dining and kitchen chairs to make London Bridge or some other structure. Wilma Hollopeter Shank, 14 Avenue de la Brabaconne, Brussels 4, Belgium.

Orville D. Jobson a31 writes from French Equatorial Africa, "For many years you have sent the Alumni letter and bulletins of the college. We have followed with interest the growth of the school since we were there . . . and rejoice with you in the advance made in recent years. We find it hard to make any financial contribution, but we do pray for the school, and God's servants the world over who have gone forth from its halls."

The master's degree in religious journalism was conferred on Ellrose D. Zook 33 by Syracuse University in January, 1954. He is Executive Editor of the Editorial Division of the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pennsylvania.

Newly elected president of the Eastern Ohio Alumni Association is Edward Gerber 34, Apple Creek. Other officers are Vernon Meyer 49, vice-president; Donald Sommer 52, treasurer; and Hilda Bixler 51, secretary.

Paul Conrad x40 has been elected president of the executive committee of the American Mennonite Association. This organization is composed of the missionaries in the M.P., India. Jacob Flisher 49 is secretary-treasurer. Elizabeth Erb, Marie Moyer 48, and Edwin I. Weaver 30 complete the committee.

The following persons have joined the ranks of junior Alumni:

Susan Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ainlay 41, on March 29.

Ruth Ellen, daughter of Clayton 43 and Gladys Graber 45 Beyler, on March 13.

Suzette Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Fisher (Rachael Swartzendruber x43), on February 25.

Lois Marie, third daughter, fourth child of Walter 44 and Mae Schwebe pt44 Schlabach, on March 1 at Deder Station, Ethiopia.

The Mennonite Medical Messenger for March includes reports from two Alumni doctors in Africa. J. Lester Eshleman relates, "When we left America it was just Mrs. Eshleman and I, but now we are happy to introduce to you our 13-month-old daughter, Charlotte. She is a blue-eyed blonde with rosy cheeks and a deep sun tan. . . . She knows no prejudice for black skins and in fact the more dirty the African the more ready she is to greet them.

"Since we have left America we have seen many unusual things in the care of the sick. . . . We are located along the east coast of Lake Victoria in Tanganyika, but very near the Kenya border among tribes that you would undoubtedly call 'primitive.' Many of their native medicines are vegetable poisons that as far as we know have never been thoroughly analyzed by any chemist. . . .

"In the variety of surgery that we do, it is a great blessing to have a good anesthetist in the person of my wife, Lois. . . . Our three other nurses here are helping me train a corps of African surgical assistants. . . . We are overcoming the major problems which we had in blood transfusions. The Africans in this area have now learned that it is not fatal to give a pint of blood!"

Walter Schlabach 44 will be leaving Ethiopia about August 1 for a furlough. He plans to take additional postgraduate training in general surgery on his return to the United States.

Ruth M. Barrett, Pathologist

Dr. Ruth Mendenhall 44 Barrett has been appointed assistant county pathologist of Westchester County, New York. She assumed her duties, including surgical and post-mortem supervision of the Grasslands Hospital laboratory, on April 1. Dr. Barrett graduated from Northwestern Medical School and interned at Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago. A residency at McNeal Memorial Hospital, Berwyn, Illinois, was followed by a year of private practice in Mt. Ayr, Iowa. She received a special residency in pathology at Almeda County Hospital, Oakland, California, in 1951. Since then she has worked with the Meadowbrook Hospital, Hempstead, New York, and the Grasslands Hospital, White Plains, New York. Dr. Barrett lives with her family, Dr. Edward Barrett and two sons, Morrison, age three, and Eddie, age one, at 36 Tomahawk Drive, White Plains.

We Tried to Stay by Dorothy Snapp 44 McCammon was listed in the March 6 issue of the Saturday Review on its "Religious Bookshelf." The Goshen News-Democrat states that "the 'bookshelf' is a highly selective but representative check list of religious books published during 1953 and so far this year. As far as local readers know this is the first book by a Mennonite author listed in the 'Bookshelf.' The listing states that the book is 'a true and intimate account of a young missionary family who were forced to abandon their life's work in China.'"

Welcome to—

Timothy William, son of Mark 48 and Betty Augsburger 48 Moyer, born December 11, 1953.

Gregory Erb, son of Milford x43 and Winifred Erb 46 Paul, born February 27.

Jonathan Joseph, son of Ronald and Elaine Sommers 47 Rich, born March 9.

Evan Samuel, son of Joe adv sem and Emma Sommers 49 Richards, born March 24.

Ruth Carper 46 has been given the fifty-fourth $100 award in the annual Edmund Steardson Student Competition in Sculpture at The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts. A release from the academy tells that the award goes to the student who best interprets the spirit of the pose by the life model in the 18 hours allotted to the competition. Ruth began the study of sculpture last fall and received honorable mention in the academy's Stimson Sculpture Competition then.

Robert Keller 47 is now serving as peace problems committee pastoral services co-ordinator attached to the MRSC office in Elkhart, Indiana. In this capacity he will edit The Lantern, a pastoral letter for I-W men. A monthly supplement will cover MRSC administrative I-W services information as well as educational, recreational, and other activity planning and suggestions. This will be sent to MRSC units.

The March Mennonite Medical Messenger tells of Robert Ebersole's 48 work in association with a very busy general practitioner in Rossford, Ohio, a suburb of Toledo. He is taking a postgraduate course in internal medicine at the University of Michigan and is looking forward to having a practice in a needy rural community someday.

"I am enjoying my work here at our new location very much," writes Edna Brenneman 49 Niles from Dixon, Illinois. "My work consists of administrative, therapeutic, and teaching dietitian in a 90-bed city hospital. I have an assistant, a graduate nurse, but it seems I am kept very busy. Then, too, we've purchased a home here which occupies our time for the remaining 16 hours of the day. Our address is R.F.D. 3, Truesdell Rd., Dixon, Illinois."

1950-1951

Anna Kay Massanari 50, who has been teaching in the Betania Mennonite School, Puerto Rico, arrived home on furlough February 27. She is staying with her parents at Fisher, Illinois.

New additions:

Susan Alice, daughter of Byron 49 and Lois Graber 50 Bender, on March 13.

Elaine Ruth, daughter of Wain 50 and Viola Eberly, on March 6.

Kevin Jon to Eli x50 and Rosalee Schrock x50 Gingerich on March 7.

Douglas Earl, son of Don x50 and Elsie Zimmerman pt48 Gunden, on March 8.

Carol Suzanne, daughter of Robert 50 and Ruth Martin x50 Harnish, on February 27.

Steven Jay, son of Franklyn and Esther Bixler 51 Heatwole, on December 18, 1953.

Warren William, son of Dale 50 and Mable Steede 48 Hershberger, on February 12.

Anne Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. David x50 and Doris Liechty 50 Lehman, on March 13.

Marian Marie, daughter of Wilbert 51 and Rhoda Hess x54 Lind, on February 14.

John Edgar, son of John 49 and Mary Ann Troyer 50 Litwiller, on March 13.

Ordained to the ministry March 14 at West Union Church, Parnell, Iowa, was Herman Ropp 51.

Don 51 and Barbara Reber pt51 and their three children will be moving to Hokkaido from Tokyo this summer following language study. They are to begin the fourth Mennonite mission center.

Our growing family:

Cynthia Elizabeth, daughter of George and Mildred Rutt Lewis 52, born December 29.

Ann Louise, daughter of Ralph 53 and Viva Stoltzfus Lugbill, born January 9.

Janice Elaine, daughter of Melvin x54 and Geneva Kauffman, born March 13.

Herbert Michael, son of Herbert 52 and Marian Wenger, born March 4.

Hawkeye-Tems, a paper published monthly by the Iowa City VS Unit, features a picture of John Bixler 52 with a group of handicapped children on the front of the March number. Indianapolis News for March includes an article on music therapy by Leonard Hurst 52, who is doing his I-W service in that department of Carter Memorial Hospital. The News is the product of the Indianapolis I-W unit and is edited by DeWayne Bontrager x54.

"The MCC Medical Work in Formosa" is outlined by Arlene Sitler 44 in the March Christian Nurse. Roy Eby 52 and Mrs. Glen Graber (June Straite x51) are among the six relief workers presently serving there.

Giving medical service in Korea is Pat Shellenberger Yoder 52. In February she worked with Lois Kuhns, the other MCC nurse in Korea; a Korean doctor and nurse in giving physical checkups to the orphans boys at the MCC Christian vocational school near Taegu.

Warren Bontrager 53 reports in the Medical Messenger that he finds medical school at the University of Michigan very interesting. The freshman class consists of 206 members.

"I am principal of our mission government-approved day school at Zuru, Nigeria," writes Goldie Severn 53. "We have 80 children enrolled and have grades one to five. I am teaching grade two in the vernacular, Hausa, and also teach the English classes for grades four and five. We have three African teachers. We have children of six different tribes in our school, but the majority is of this community, the Dakkarkari tribe. There are 28 girls in school, 13 of which are boarding students. Of the 52 boys, 29 are boarders. With a group of lively boarding children, one always has clothes to mend and patch, quarrels and fights to settle, and problems to solve; I am enjoying immensely my work under the United Missionary Society."

Claude Antonides 53 has received a temporary appointment as welfare visitor for the St. Joseph County Department of Public Welfare. The position will be permanent after six months of satisfactory performance and an acceptable score on a competitive examination. He states, "The work is a real challenge, but one that the spirit of Goshen College will enable me to meet with assurance and success."

James Detweiler 53 was ordained to the ministry at the Central Mennonite Church, Elida, Ohio, on November 8, 1953.

From Camp Bofu, Japan, where she is teaching school, Harriet Oberlin 53 writes, "I'm very busy and have had a difficult but interesting experience at this assignment. I've been grateful for the strength and security built up while living and associating with genuine Christian people. I've had to draw on that reserve of resources many times. Thanks to all of you at Goshen College who helped to reinforce the structure when it was so sorely needed. I'm trying now to share this joy with others over here. I should be so happy to receive news from G.C."

Ray Keim 55, a junior in the seminary, was ordained at East Goshen Mennonite Church on March 28. The sermon was given by Anson Horner a x16, while the service was in charge of Paul Miller and Paul Mininger of the G.C. seminary faculty.

Licensed to preach at the Sunnyside Mennonite Church, Dunlap, Indiana, on March 7 was John Lederach x55. John is working part time in the office of publicity and church relations, Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, Elkhart.

Mininger Visits Southern Colleges

President-elect Paul Mininger, in connection with his preparation for college administration, spent part of April visiting colleges in the South. Among those he studied were Berea College, Kentucky, and Bob Jones University, South Carolina.

Carl Hostetler, Leland Bachman, Olive Wyse—President, Secretary, Treasurer

Alumni Association Board Holds Meeting March 29

Dr. C. M. Hostetler, president of the Alumni Association, called the meeting to order.

Members present either in person or by proxy: C. M. Hostetler, Olive Wyse, C. P. Martin, Lloyd Hartzler, Leland Bachman, Russel Liechty held proxy for Mildred Graber, Mrs. Harold Schrock held proxy for Dr. C. Richard Yoder, Verna Smith held proxy for Lulu Smith, C. P. Martin held proxy for Dwight Yoder, Olive Wyse held proxy for Dr. Glen Widmer, Lloyd Hartzler held proxies for Don Kreider and Ivan Brunk, Leland Bachman held proxies for Lyle Yost and Howard Yoder. S. A. Yoder, editor of the Alumni Newsletter, was present.

The minutes of the April 11, 1953, meeting were read and approved. Dr. S. A. Yoder, editor of the Alumni Newsletter, reported on the activities of the past year. He explained that a special anniversary program was held in connection with the 1953 commencement program and that on January 8, 1954, another anniversary program was held on the fiftieth anniversary of the dedication of the Administration Building. Both programs were successful in bringing back a number of Alumni to the campus. He reported that at the present time a special bulletin and a letter was being prepared in the interest of raising funds for the School of Nursing to be mailed to the members of the Alumni Association.

The motion was made and seconded that we accept the report of the editor and that we commend Editor Yoder for the fine work he has done as editor of the Newsletter this past year. Motion carried.

The secretary reported briefly on finances, pointing out that as of March 26, 1954, the Alumni raised $15,106.95 for building funds. A year ago for the period ending March 31 they had raised $17,577 and the previous year $18,564. There has been a decrease in donations, but with the special drive being carried forward at the present time it is hopeful that the donations for the balance of the year will be greater.

The election of directors for a three-year period was the next item on the agenda. After careful discussion it was moved, seconded, and carried that nominations cease and that the following directors be declared elected: Ivan Brunk, John D. Hartzler, C. P. Martin, Dr. J. Glen Widmer, and Warren Leatherman.

The election of officers for the Association to hold office for one year resulted in the following: President, Dr. C. M. Hostetler; Vice-President, Lloyd Hartzler; Secretary, Leland Bachman; Treasurer, Olive Wyse; Fifth Member, C. P. Martin. It was moved, seconded, and carried that missionary S. M. King be elected as honorary second vice-president.

It was moved and seconded that the president of the Association appoint the committee on arrangements to plan for the 1954 Alumni Banquet during the commencement season. Carried.

It was moved, seconded, and carried that the annual Alumni Banquet be held on Saturday evening, June 5, 1954, at 6:00 p.m. in the Alumni Memorial Dining Room.

It was agreed that we ask the Motet Singers, under the direction of Mary Oyer, to present several numbers of music at the program, and that President E. E. Miller should give the main address of the evening. It was understood that the special classes this year would be the 50-year class, class of 1904; the 25-year class, class of 1929; and the 10-year class, the class of 1944. The secretary is to contact certain people as instructed asking them to present toasts for the respective classes.

It was agreed that certain local members of the class of 1929 should choose a member of that class to give the toast.

There was some discussion of the Alumni representation on the Board of Education. A number of people raised a question as to whether there should not be more than two representatives from Goshen College on the Board. There was no action.

There being no other business to come before the meeting of the Board of Directors, the meeting adjourned. Leland Bachman, secretary.

Constitution of the Alumni Association of Goshen College

This revised constitution as worked out by the board of directors is to be passed on at the June meeting of the Alumni Association.

Preamble

We, the members of graduating classes of the Elkhart Institute and Goshen College, in order to maintain school friendships and a strong school spirit, to further the interests of the school we represent, and to promote higher education, asking the blessing and guidance of Divine Providence, do organize an association and do pledge ourselves that we will be guided by the following constitution and bylaws.

Article I—Name and Motto

Section 1. The name of this association shall be the Alumni Association of Goshen College.

Section 2. The motto of this association shall be, "Power Through Unity."

Article II—Membership

Section 1. All former members of the Alumni Association of Elkhart Institute and Goshen College shall, upon the adoption of this Constitution, be admitted as members of this association.

Section 2. All persons who matriculated at Goshen College automatically upon graduation, or when their class graduates, become members of the association, and are eligible to hold office in the association.

Section 3. All members of the Goshen College faculty who do not meet the requirements of section two are accorded membership in the association. All spouses of members as defined in sections two and three shall be members of the association.

Article III—Organization

Section 1. The general management of this association shall be vested in a board of directors consisting of 18 members, six to be elected each year for a term of three years by the board of directors, one of which is to be nominated by the graduating class. This election shall be subject to confirmation by the annual meeting.

Section 2. The officers shall be president, first vice-president, second vice-president, secretary, treasurer, director of Alumni relations, and editor of the Alumni Newsletter. All officers shall be elected from the board of directors except the director of Alumni relations and the editor of the Alumni Newsletter. The board of directors shall also elect the Alumni Association representatives upon the Mennonite Board of Education.

Section 3. There shall be an executive committee consisting of president, first vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and the director of Alumni relations.

Article IV—Duties of Directors and Officers

Section 1. The board shall have charge of all the business affairs of the association. It shall annually elect the following officers of the association: the president, first and second vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, and shall approve the appointment by the college administration of the editor of the Alumni Newsletter and the director of Alumni relations.

Section 2. The executive committee shall hold and exercise all the powers of the board when the board is not in session, provided that its acts and doings shall not be contrary to any act of the board or any act of the association adopted by a three-fourths vote at any annual meeting. A majority shall constitute a quorum of the executive committee.

Section 3. The president shall preside at all meetings of the association and shall exercise a general supervision over all the officers and affairs of the association. He shall be a member and chairman of the executive committee and with the secretary shall sign all notes and bonds and all the instruments in writing issued by the board or its executive committee. He shall annually make to the association a full report in writing concerning all the affairs of the association.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the first vice-president to perform the duties of the president during his absence.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep full and accurate record of all the proceedings of the association, of the board, and of the executive committee, and with the president sign all bonds, notes, and other instruments in writing issued by the direction of the association, its board, or its executive committee.

Section 6. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to receive and hold all funds of the association subject to the order of the board of directors.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of the director of Alumni relations to conduct the correspondence of the association.

Section 8. It shall be the duty of the editor of the Alumni Newsletter to prepare and edit the Alumni Newsletter in co-operation with the administration of the college.

Article V—Meetings

Section 1. There shall be one regular annual business meeting of the association.

Section 2. The board shall hold an annual meeting as soon as practicable after the annual business meeting of the association. A majority of the members of the board present either in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum.

Article VI—Dues

Members of the association are not required to pay dues, but are urged to contribute to their Alma Mater by following the slogan of the association, "Every member a contributor every year."

Article VII—Finances

Section 1. All funds solicited by the college from the Alumni shall be accounted for, receipted for, and used as mutually agreed upon by the Alumni Association and the college.

Section 2. The Alumni Endowment Fund shall be held and invested by the endowment custodian of the Mennonite Board of Education. The income therefore shall be annually appropriated by the board of directors of the association.

Article VIII—Amendments

This constitution may be amended by the concurrence of three fourths of the members of the association present at any regular meeting, provided that notice of any amendment thereto shall be given at least one month prior to said meeting by publication in the official organ of said organization.

Bylaws

Article I

The regular annual business meeting and reunion of the association shall be held at such a time and place as designated by the board of directors.

Article II

Section 1. Special meetings of the board shall be held at the call of the president or at the call of any three members of the board, provided that notices of all special meetings shall be given to each member of the board at least ten (10) days prior to such meetings.

Section 2. Meetings of the executive committe shall be held at the call of the president or of any two members of the executive committee, provided that notices of all special meetings shall be given to each member of the committee at least three days prior to such meetings.

Section 3. The order of business of the board shall be as follows:

1. Reading of the minutes of the previous meeting
2. Report of the president
3. Report of the director of Alumni relations
4. Report of the editor of the Alumni Newsletter
5. Report of special committees
6. Election of members of the board
7. Election of officers
8. General business
    a. Unfinished business
    b. New business
9. Adjournment

Section 4. The order of business for the annual meeting of the association shall be:

1. Reading of the minutes
2. Report of the president
3. Recommendations from the board of directors
4. Welcoming of new members

Article III

Any article or section of this constitution or bylaws, except article eight of the constitution and four of the bylaws, may be suspended for one meeting only by two-thirds vote of all members present at any regular meetings.

Article IV

These bylaws may be amended by three-fourths vote of all members present at any regular meeting of the board of directors.

President Miller

President Miller is about to leave the office of President of Goshen College, a task to which he gave himself unstintingly for fourteen years, even in the face of great obstacles and some thanklessness on the part of those he served. To administer a Christian liberal arts college nowadays calls for qualities almost superhuman. It is only just and fair to pause for a brief word of tribute.

President Miller as an administrator had liabilities—who does not? I have taught in three different institutions under five different presidents and have yet to find the personality completely fitted for this job. Yet in spite of his human limitations, President Miller's administration, measured by almost any tangible yardstick, did succeed almost beyond anything one could hope for.

Among his assets as an administrator, the following have been brought to my attention by his colleagues and fellow workers:

(1) President Miller would listen to advice. However insignificant the person might be, when one came to his office with an idea or a complaint, he would listen—even weigh and consider. Naturally, in the end he had to make his own decisions (administration is a lonesome job!), but he was not a man who refuses to take counsel. Also, it was this quality in his character which led to the ease and sense of freedom which we at Goshen experience. One did not feel that he had to be a "yes" man to get along.

(2) President Miller generally did not carry attitudes over from one situation to another. One could feel that emotionally he was starting anew when he met with him in a new project or another meeting, irrespective of what may have been the situation previously. One could say what he thought, with candor and even with vigor, without fear of reprisal, no matter how severe may have been the clash of opinion. One could express himself without fear of being undercut, or turned over to an investigating committee.

(3) President Miller delegated work, made much use of committees, and thus made even the "lesser" members of his staff a part of the team. This is a quality and procedure much appreciated by his colleagues, and it is also a method which needs further use and exploitation in our church.

Our number one problem is still to learn how to work together mutually and happily, and to trust one another. No one cares to be simply "an employee" or a "tool." A Christian certainly does not resent being a tool of Jesus Christ; he deserves our total allegiance and utter subordination. And in its highest sense this can also be said of the church. But by the word "church" we dare not mean some man or clique.

Unfair subordination is sin against human personality, against fellow Christians often, and it works deep grievances, sometimes even hurts and bitterness for life. In the secular world there are the Hitlers and Stalins who exploit others for themselves. And in the church there are the Popes who know not only what is good for themselves but also for everyone else.

But ours is a brotherhood and not a hierarchy. Group participation must be group participation. We still need to pray that God will show us all how to achieve a happy unforced unanimity so that our church can achieve its best. Morale, like the quality of mercy, is not strained; it cannot be forced or crammed down anyone's throat. It can come only through the cheerful giving of one's self volitionally and with fervor.

(4) President Miller was a promoter. He thought and planned and took counsel—and then he acted. He was persistent. When he could not get through, he would try going under or over or around. He did not give up easily. His courage, vision, and persistence are most tangibly illustrated in his building program. Another task which took much patience and persistence and co-operation was the setting up of the nursing school, to say nothing of many other large and small undertakings.

(5) President Miller stayed on the job. His colleagues appreciated the fact that he was as much as possible on campus, in his office, working at the problems of the school and available for counsel—and not filling appointments in Paducah or Timbucktoo! He gave himself consistently to the task to which the church and the Board called him, and that at the cost even of his own health and personal satisfaction.

(6) Finally President Miller knew how to lose a battle without losing the campaign. He knew how to retreat on occasion and still keep on going. He did not stake his entire administration on the success of a single project, however strong his own heart was set on it. He knew how to face the inevitable, how to give up a cherished ambition for the school when it seemed the opposition was too great or the way did not open.

Unfortunately we live in a world where people who do things get criticized for making mistakes. Perhaps we all have indulged too freely in this faultfinding pastime, President Miller. At any rate, hats off to you for a job well done. May our heavenly Fathe give to you a sense of satisfaction in the accomplishments of the last fourteen years, even as He has to your predecessor, President-Emeritus Yoder. And may you be spared for years of further usefulness and service.

Thank You, Professor Umble

It is appropriate and fitting that for this final issue of the NEWSLETTER under President Miller's administration we again have the help of an older fellow-alumnus and well-known former editor, Professor John Umble.

Briefly the facts are as follows: (1) The editor is carrying a full summer school teaching load of eighteen hours—large classes! (2) His right-hand helper, Beth Centz, got married (Saturday, June 5, 1954, to Robert Hershberger 53), and left the office. (3) Professor Umble's book (History of Goshen College) is now completed and ready for the printer.

So what more logical than to call for help from an old hand who knows how to do it. About nine tenths of the work of this issue is his.

Thank you, Professor Umble.

President Miller Retires

As alumni are aware President Miller is retiring from the presidency of Goshen College in August but he will continue his service with the College. He has been granted a temporary leave and will then return to the campus.

For his work during his leave of absence he has accepted a general supervisory assignment on the Mental Health Service of the Mennonite Central Committee. The MCC is conducting three mental health hospitals, one in Maryland, one in Kansas, and one in California. Two of these hospitals are being enlarged. One of President Miller's duties will be to draw up a blueprint determining the responsibility of the church in regard to providing for the mentally ill and the aged.

A second area will be to assist in the over-all personnel problem of the MCC in enlisting personnel and fitting them into the available positions. One of his duties will be to provide for recruiting and training in-service staff. The Mental Health Service program operates with professional or long-term personnel and with voluntary workers who come into the program for shorter periods. The director of Mental Health Service is interested in whatever contribution President Miller can make toward counseling prospective staff members both in college and Mennonite communities.

President Miller will be expected to make periodic visits to the colleges at least once and perhaps twice within the year for the purpose of counseling persons considering MCC service both in mental hospitals and the general program of MCC.

His experience overseas with MCC and with the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges should enable him to give maximum assistance to young people wrestling with the problem of career and service. A prime consideration in his contact with the colleges will be to discover interest and latent ability that might be useful in the MHS program.

President and Mrs. Miller will continue to reside in Goshen. His office will be in the Mutual Aid Building at the corner of Franklin and South Eighth Streets. President Miller will leave Goshen about September 1 for the central offices of the Mennonite Central Committee at Akron, Pennsylvania. One of his first tasks after the period of orientation at the Akron office will be to visit Kingsview Hospital in California to supervise personnel and administrative procedures.

President Miller's retirement means quite a change for him and his family. As official heads of the college family, President and Mrs. Miller have accepted their responsibilities not only administratively but socially. Their hospitable home has entertained the foreign student group and until the faculty grew too large it furnished a place for the faculty social at Christmas time.

Their spacious lawn has served as a lovely setting for the President's Tea for the freshmen and their parents in the fall and for the graduates and their parents at commencement time.

In the earlier years their children were in college. Their daughter Thelma Marie, now Mrs. Weyburn Groff, received two degrees, Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts in 1944. After a year and a half of teaching in the public schools she married her classmate who had received his Bachelor of Theology in 1945. At the end of their first period of service as missionaries in India, Rev. Groff completed the requirements for the B.D. degree at Goshen in 1953 and also for the M.A. at New York University. They are living in India where Rev. Groff is instructor and registrar in Yeotmal Seminary. They have three daughters, Raechel, Margaret, and Cheryl.

Donald, the son of President and Mrs. Miller, received the B.A. degree at Goshen in 1949, and is now in the third year of his course at Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia. Mrs. Donald Miller is the former Mary Lois Detweiler 1949. They have one son, Dale.

President Miller's Valedictory to the Alumni

At the conclusion of his address at the Alumni Banquet on Saturday evening, June 5, after speaking of the privilege of upholding the college motto and of the necessity for continued moral and financial support of Goshen College, President Miller concluded: "The final question is, how can we accomplish our task; how can we do what we ought to do; how can we be sure that our college remains the kind of institution that merits the divine favor and the continued approval and support of our constituency. This can only be done by continued sacrifice and the recognition that we have before us a task which we cannot do in our own strength but which demands the tapping of great spiritual resources.

"The release of divine power came on the early disciples as they recognized that theirs was an assignment beyond their capacity to do. They were a small group. They had to crystallize their position or be swallowed up by a worldly culture. They took the initiative and God's power was released into their lives. The resources of God's wisdom and power are at our disposal and these are sufficient for all our needs.

"In closing may I add a more personal word. On behalf of Mrs. Miller and myself I should like to say that we are profoundly grateful for the opportunity we have had to serve our Alma Mater. Some of the most difficult and yet some of the most fruitful and rewarding years of our lives have been the past fourteen years. We love Goshen College.

"We shall continue in the future, as in the past, to serve her in such ways as we are able and our earnest prayer is that she may continue to exercise a significant leadership in Christian education, both in the Mennonite Church at large as well as in the geographical area of northern Indiana. This leadership, I am confident that my successor, Dr. Mininger, will supply, and it is my earnest wish and prayer that we may all support him as he leads us in the years ahead.

"I had often read the Twelfth Chapter of Romans but some weeks ago following a meditation on that chapter, verse twelve gripped me. The chapter starts out with those challenging words which we so often quote, 'I beseech you by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.'

"That is a stimulating verse and we need aid always to do that, but the verse that gripped me on this meditation was verse twelve in its three separate parts. "Rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing in prayer." May we carry those words with us always and everywhere. In the good and constant exercise of these graces the future of Goshen College may be sure.

"Three alumni have served as president of this organization during the period 1940 to now, John Umble, Clifford Martin, and Dr. Carl Hostetler, and have helped to make the Alumni Association a staunch supporter of the ongoing work of this institution. These three alunmi have supported with liberality through their several gifts the work of the Alumni Association and the program of the College and I know I am speaking for us all when I say we are profoundly grateful."

Goshen College Astronomical Observatory

By H. Harold Hartzler, Ph.D.

Professor of Mathematics

One of the dreams of Mrs. E. E. Miller is coming true this summer when construction starts on the new observatory for Goshen College. Of the conventional dome type construction, the observatory twelve feet in diameter and six feet high will be built of brick. The revolving metal dome with a two foot opening will be mounted on top thus making the observatory twelve feet high. The dome can be easily moved by hand so that one can view all portions of the sky.

This observatory together with an eight-inch equatorially mounted, reflecting telescope is the gift of Leland Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percival J. Haines of Elkhart. Leland for some years an enthusiastic amateur astronomer has been admitted to Goshen College to enter in September. He built his own telescope and took it with him to Hesston College this past year where he helped to organize a star gazers club.

The new observatory is to be located directly east of the Goshen College Church cabin. The College recently purchased two acres of land there for the purpose of developing a trailer camp. The observatory will be near the north end of the plot. This location is desirable since it is accessible and yet far enough from bright lights so as to assure satisfactory viewing conditions.

The plan is to start construction by July 15 and to have the building, together with the telescope, available for use by the opening of school in September. The observatory will be used for instructional purposes by the College and will also be used by Leland Haines and other interested students for special astronomical projects. It is also planned to have a number of open nights during the school year for the use of the general public.

(Professor Hartzler whose interests lie in the fields of physics and astronomy as well as mathematics and who spent a recent sabbatical year in study and research in astronomy at the University of Arizona is especially interested in the new observatory. Formerly the late Professor D. A. Lehman spent many hours during clear evenings revealing to students the wonders of the stellar universe by the aid of the three-and-a-half-inch Vesperian telescope. For a number of years after his death the observation of Venus and the moon was somewhat neglected. However, during Owen Gingerich's undergraduate years at Goshen a telescope which he had constructed helped to keep students awake to the wonders of the outer spaces. The new observatory will fill a well-nigh desperate need on the Goshen College Campus.—Editor)

Summer Session

With the two three-week spring sessions, a two-week camp workshop, the two three-week summer sessions of the Graduate Seminary and the regular nine-week summer session of the College, including classes of liberal arts and the school of nursing, life becomes rather complicated on the campus during what would normally be a summer vacation.

Camp Workshop

The College offers a new service to its constituency in a two-week camp workshop directed by Professors Roman Gingerich 41 and Edith Herr at Mennonite Youth Village near White Pigeon, Michigan. Merle Jacobs 48 served as nature instructor, Joseph E. Brunk a15 of Goshen, as facilities director and Myrtle Hamilton 54 as dietitian. The sixteen enrollees include representatives from the following camps: Little Eden, Laurelville, Rocky Mountain and Chesley Lake.

Camp activities and studies included problems of camp administration and program development, Bible

Class Day, Friday, June 4

On account of the rainy weather the annual class day outings were rather abbreviated. The senior class enjoyed the senior class breakfast in the Alumni Memorial Dining Room. Anyone acquainted with Professor Samuel Yoder, the sponsor, would recognize the following program as one of his original ideas.

Programme

Commencement Every Day

Breakfast "Commence with the Right Food"	Phyllis Roose, Dietitian
Music "Commence in the Right Mood"	Quartet
Toast "Commence with Mind Imbued"	Rita Clemens

Toast "Commence with Fortitude"
Hobert Yoder
Piano Solo "Commence with an Interlude"
Kathryn Summers
Morning Worship
"Commence in Quietude" President Miller
"Commence with Gratitude" Alma Mater
String ensemble arranged by Charlotte Burkhart furnished breakfast music.

The Juniors and Sophomores spent the day at Michigan City visiting the zoo and strolling along the chilly beach. The Freshmen celebrated their first class day picnic with an outing at Pokagon Park.

Class Reunions

The 1904, 1929, and 1944 classes held reunions. Of the Academy, Bible, Seminary, Commercial, and Music graduates of the Class of 1904 only two were present, Mrs. Amos L. Smucker (Lydia Kurtz), of Smithville, Ohio, and John E. Wenger of Goshen. Four members of the group are not living; the addresses of two others are lost. Of the twelve Junior college graduates, nine are living but only two were present, F. S. Ebersole and Dr. John E. Hartzler, former president of the College, both of Goshen.

Twelve members of the class of 1929 were present at their reunion held in the lobby of the Union auditorium in the evening before the banquet. The group spent the time in reminiscing. They also met around special tables at the alumni banquet with their wives and husbands.

The class of 1944 met for their annual reunion at the church cabin east of the New York Central tracks at 10:30 on Saturday morning. A group of forty-five, counting husbands, wives, and children, enjoyed a potluck dinner. Norma Hostetler, class secretary, had prepared a neat booklet of anniversary letters, including photographs, printed by the offset process and distributed them to the members of the class. At the conclusion of the reunion their class sponsor, Professor Jacob Sudermann, led them in the college song. At their request, the banquet committee arranged to have the group seated together at the alumni banquet on Saturday evening.

Alumni Banquet and Reunion

The banquet committee—Phyllis Roose, Irene Hershberger, Mary K. Nafziger, Edna Shantz, Ruth Flisher, Jacob Swartzentruber, Arthur Smucker, Dale Swartzentruber, Merle Jacobs, John Fisher, Delbert Detweiler, Leland Bachman, and Lois Gunden, chairman, seated the alumni at tables for eight in the Alumni Memorial Dining Room. Phyllis Roose had charge of the menu and the service. The meal was served by the juniors with Ruby Kauffman as head waitress.

Following the dinner, the president of the Association, Dr. C. M. Hostetler 33, introduced the toastmaster, Ezra Hershberger, the wit of the class of 1934. The theme for the program was "Culture for Service" in celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the class of 1904. The Motet Singers, under the direction of Professor Mary Kathryn Oyer 45, furnished music for the program.

Dr. J. E. Hartzler toasted for the class of 1904, Mrs. Arnold Greer (Esther Leininger) for the class of 1929, and Rev. Wilfred Ulrich for the class of 1944. The closing address of the evening was given by President Miller 17, on the subject "Goshen Is Our College." A delightful evening ended at a comparatively early hour with the singing of the Alma Mater led by Professor Walter E. Yoder of the class of 33.

Prior to the program Dr. C. M. Hostetler, president of the Association, conducted a brief business session. Leland A. Bachman, business manager of the College and secretary of the Association, read the secretary's report. Professor Samuel A. Yoder 28, sponsor of the class of 1954, introduced the class in his usual interesting witty manner. After the introduction of the class by Dr. Hostetler, Hobert Yoder, president of the class of 1954, responded briefly and pledged the loyalty of the class to the Association and its principles.

At the end of the business meeting the secretary announced the names of the officers elected by the Board of Directors for the year 1954-55: president, Dr. C. M. Hostetler 33 of Goshen; vice-president, Lloyd E. Hartzler 39 of Elkhart; second vice-president, Samuel M. King of Goshen; secretary, Leland A. Bachman 38 of Goshen; treasurer, Dr. Olive G. Wyse 26 of Goshen; fifth member of executive committee, Clifford P. Martin 27 of Elkhart. Professor Samuel A. Yoder 28 continues as editor of the Alumni Newsletter.

An important item of business was the adoption of the new constitution as presented in the May issue of the NEWSLETTER. The revised constitution introduces no new features but legalizes the procedures that have been found useful and practical in the conduct of the affairs of the Association in recent years.

Dedication Program

An event of much interest took place on the campus east of Westlawn on Saturday afternoon at three-thirty. A program of dedication for Westlawn Residence Hall for Women, the new Social Room for Kulp Hall and Westlawn, and the Teacher Education Center was conducted with appropriate ceremonies.

Service of Dedication

The three areas discussed on the program were formally dedicated in the following service led by President Miller with appropriate responses by the audience.

Teacher Education Center

The President: To promote a high type of Christian teacher-education testimony on the campus and in the schools of the community, the state and the nation,

The People: We dedicate the Teacher Education Center.

The President: To educate teachers who can carry the spirit of the Master Teacher into their classroom and support every worthy effort directed toward making and keeping the American school system truly Christian,

The People: We dedicate the Teacher Education Center.

The President: To prepare prospective teachers to give counsel in erecting new buildings for educational purposes and in utilizing, remodeling and equipping outmoded buildings and waste areas for better classroom situations and procedures,

The People: We dedicate the Teacher Education Center.

The President: To create for the student an atmosphere in which he recognizes the classroom as a science laboratory, an arts and crafts workshop, and a recreation and social center as well as a reading room and to teach him to use these facilities to inspire learning in his pupils,

The People: We dedicate the Teacher Education Center.

Westlawn Social Room

The President: To bind together the student body of Goshen College and their friends in the bonds of Christian fellowship through happy wholesome association and the delights of unselfish social communion,

The People: We dedicate the Westlawn Social Room.

The President: To provide a waiting room for visiting dinner groups to meet in social conversation until the meal is served,

The People: We dedicate the Westlawn Social Room.

The President: To make available a suitable meeting place for formal and informal groups to plan cooperatively the multitudinous concerns of campus life and activity,

The People: We dedicate the Westlawn Social Room.

Westlawn Residence Hall for Women

The President: To provide for the young women of Goshen College a homelike Christian atmosphere that will mature Christian character and weave lasting ties of friendship to sustain and comfort the student in trial, temptation and disappointment,

The People: We dedicate Westlawn Residence Hall for Women.

The President: To build a Christian community and strengthen the bonds of Christian fellowship by inculcating a respect for the rights, feelings, and privileges of others,

The People: We dedicate Westlawn Residence Hall for Women.

The President: To strengthen character by the development of self-control and a sense of social responsibility through student participation in the government of affairs relative to dormitory life,

The People: We dedicate Westlawn Residence Hall for Women.

The President: Lord God, our heavenly Father, we have come to dedicate to Thy use and to Thy service these buildings and areas that, by Thy goodness and mercy and by the help of our many friends, the friends of Christian education, we have been enabled to erect for furthering Thy work in Goshen College,

The People: We thank Thee and praise Thy name. We come to render back to Thee the gifts that Thy goodness has bestowed upon us.

The President: Except the Lord bless the house, they labor in vain that build it.

The People: Bless, O Lord, the labor of our hands.

The President: Through wisdom is an house builded; and by understanding it is established.

The People: The house of the righteous shall stand.

The President: Blessed are the pure in heart. They that be wise shall shine as the firmament and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever.

The People: So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

Sunday Services

On account of the large number of visitors present for the Sunday morning worship service it was necessary to open the folding doors in the auditorium. Rev. Clayton F. Derstine of Kitchener, Ontario, father of Grace Kathleen Derstine, a member of the graduating class, delivered the morning sermon. Professor John H. Mosemann, pastor of the college congregation, was in charge of the service. An interesting feature of the Sunday-school hour following the church service was the opening period conducted by Christian Hershberger of Kalona, Iowa, a venerable Sunday-school worker and the father of several alumni.

An unusually large audience was present in the Union Auditorium on Sunday afternoon for the annual program of the combined choruses of the College directed by Professor Mary Oyer. Miss Oyer presented a program of "Bach" in two parts, excerpts from the "Passion According to St. Matthew" and "Cantata No. IV—Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison." Professor Dwight Weldy, tenor soloist, assisted the chorus in some of the numbers. Assisting soloists from the chorus were Esther Moyer 54, soprano, of Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania, Margie Pletcher 54, alto, Perryton, Texas, Herman Weaver 54 of Goshen, tenor, and Paul Brunner, bass of Sellersville, Pennsylvania. Pianists were Kathryn Summers 54, of Laingsburg, Michigan, and Delores Stump 54, of Wakarusa.

President's Tea for Seniors

The number of graduates in any one year is growing so large that President and Mrs. Miller decided to hold the tea for graduates and their parents in the Union lounge. Over two hundred fifty people were present this year for this gala event following the chorus program on Sunday afternoon. The lounge was tastefully decorated and the tea gave parents of graduates an opportunity to become acquainted.

Baccalaureate Service

The Baccalaureate Service was held in the Auditorium of the College Union on Sunday evening, June 6.

Order of Service

Presiding	Professor John Mosemann
Invocation
Congregational Hymn
Scripture Reading and Prayer	Dr. Paul Mininger, president-elect
Three numbers by Collegiate Chorus conducted by Professor Walter E. Yoder
Baccalaureate Sermon	President Ernest E. Miller
"But Earnestly Desire the Higher Gift"
Three numbers by Motet Singers directed by Professor Mary Oyer
Congregational Hymn
Benedictory Prayer	President Miller

As has been the custom for a number of years the President's Baccalaureate sermon is being printed for general distribution.

Monday, June 7

The Monday exercises opened with the final chapel service. After the opening hymns, Lewis Hartman gave a brief account of his experiences in voluntary service and what life at Goshen College has meant to him. Dr. John C. Wenger gave one of his characteristic addresses on "Continuing Transformation."

The college luncheon was served cafeteria style in the Alumni Memorial Dining Room. The luncheon program was omitted because of the crowded schedule.

Senior Class Program

The seniors met in the Union lounge for their class program and marched to the accompaniment of the chimes in the tower in the area between the Science Hall and the Administration Building to present the first part of their program. They then proceeded to the College Auditorium for the last part.

The class is presenting as its gift to the College a rather elaborate "Goshen College" sign of stone and bronze to be erected along the west side of the College Union so that people passing on Indiana Route 15 will recognize the institution for what it is.

Commencement Exercises

It is becoming rather trite to speak of a capacity audience in connection with programs in the Auditorium of the College Union. But that adjective applies to the audience present for the fifty-sixth annual commencement exercises held in the Union Auditorium on Monday evening, June seventh. The choruses and the graduates occupied the front seats and the Auditorium was packed to the rear doors.

Dr. Guy Everett Snavely, executive director of the Association of American Colleges, delivered the commencement address on the subject "The Church-Related College in the Atomic Age." Dr. Snavely traced the history of higher education in America to show the development of the dual system consisting of both state-supported and privately endowed institutions. "This unique dual system of higher education which prevails in our country," said Dr. Snavely, "has been the chief bulwark of our country since its inception."

He emphasized that "a free enterprise must support the independent colleges." For "when the church-related colleges accept Federal aid we shall have but one type of college." In closing he painted the important role of the church-related college and stated that they should continue to be "a veritable lighthouse amid the encircling gloom."

Following the address the deans of the College of Liberal Arts and the Biblical Seminary, Dr. Karl Massanari and Dr. Harold S. Bender, presented the candidates for degrees. After President Ernest E. Miller conferred the degrees and awarded the diplomas he presented a few statistics regarding the class.

The one hundred eighty-three graduates hail from nineteen states, Puerto Rico, three Canadian provinces, and France, Germany, Formosa, and Japan. The four states furnishing the largest number are Indiana (sixty-four), Ohio (twenty-nine), Pennsylvania, (twenty-three), and Illinois (seventeen). Forty-nine of the graduates, more than twenty-five per cent, are married. A mother and son are members of the class, Mrs. Glen Yoder of Shipshewana and son David.

Educational Values of a Residence Hall

An address at the dedication of Westlawn Residence Hall for Women, June 5, 1954

By Viola M. Good, Dean of Women

I am happy for the opportunity to speak this word of appreciation to you who have helped to make this residence hall possible. I think there are many indications that you believe that residence hall living is an important aspect of the student's total educational experience. For instance, the fact that you have been willing to help to provide this dormitory, many of you at some personal sacrifice, is one of these indications. I am also conscious of the eagerness with which parents frequently approach me in an effort to be assured of dormitory accommodations for their children. Finally, there is the pressure which is exerted by students for dormitory accommodations. This has become quite a problem in these years of increased enrollment.

One might ask the question, "What are the values which we seek through the avenue of residence hall living?" Historically dormitories were instituted primarily that students might have a suitable place to live, and perhaps secondarily, to create a situation in which they might become proficient in the social skills through practice. While these values have not been discarded by any means, I am of the opinion that we have come to attach greater significance to a value which is related to the rather generally accepted educational principle, namely, that we learn what we live and only what we live. The residence hall provides an excellent laboratory for learning a quality of life which will prepare the learners for good interpersonal relationships in life after college as well as in college.

Just as in your own home your children learn to share their toys better when they have someone with whom they can share them than they do by merely hearing you tell them about the virtues of sharing, so in our college home the stage is set for learning how to be considerate of others in various ways. I am thinking just now of the fact that we have one washing machine for over a hundred young women. You can readily see that some agreements are necessary if all the young women are to be able to do their weekly laundering. They can agree to "sign up" in advance as to the exact hour when they are free to wash, and to the degree that they respect each other's signatures they can get along quite nicely. In the process of doing so they are learning an important lesson.

Again, we all need rest in order to be efficient in our daily tasks. We differ in the amount of rest that we need as well as in the circumstances under which we can get that rest. Here again we have an excellent opportunity to learn to be considerate. The young woman who can "sleep through anything" needs to learn that not everybody is so constituted. The one who is always noticing every little noise and allowing it to disturb her must learn to adapt herself to live in such a large group. We find this lesson difficult to learn each year, but we are working at it and believe that it is a worth-while lesson for us to learn.

There are various methods through which we have attempted to learn these lessons. There is, for instance, the authoritarian method which places the responsibility squarely upon the shoulders of an administrative person who "knows what is best." It may be possible to keep a residence hall quieter by this method at least while the administrator is on hand to oversee the situation, but unfortunately it leaves the student free to be completely irresponsible. I can recall the time when we at Goshen College were at the point of transition from operating our women's dormitories administratively from the top to setting the stage for getting the students to take some measure of responsibility. I remember distinctly how one young woman said, she would rather have someone knock at her door when she gets too noisy than to feel responsible at all times to be considerate of the rights of others. In this newer approach we take the position that we are all in this together—administrative personnel and students. None of us is completely free to do as she pleases. Authority is found in the situation. Whenever so many people live together in such close proximity to each other, there is need for specific agreement as to how we can best share the facilities that are at our disposal so as to be happy, healthy, and efficient individuals. Residence hall life involves the obligation to be responsible members of a larger unit than the family and to participate in its government.

Because we at Goshen College believe in the educational values of student participation in dormitory government, the Women's House Government Association was organized in the spring of 1948. During the intervening six years, we have been learning, and I mean learning, to work together on many problems. In this connection, I am happy to introduce to you at this moment the outgoing president of the Women's House Government Association, Miss Dolores Stump, a senior from Wakarusa, and Miss Bettie Norman, the newly elected president, a junior from Fort Wayne. Bettie Norman was the vice-president during the past school year. We have appreciated the unselfish service of these young women in their efforts to make the association function as it is intended to function and for the way in which they have grasped the concept that student participation is a worth-while learning experience.

Earlier in my remarks, I indicated that possibly the most significant value of residence hall living as we see it today derives from the basic educational tenet that we learn what we live, be it good or ill. If this educational principle is valid, the implications as to the possibilities for genuine learning through a good residence hall program are tremendous. According to the "Concept of Christian Education" adopted by the Goshen College faculty, we believe in this principle. As evidence may I quote a sentence from the catalog statement. "A belief in the inseparability of faith and life means that in Christian education living and learning cannot be separated."

In line with our Anabaptist heritage we have to a greater or lesser extent grasped the concept that life cannot be segmented into the secular and the nonsecular. We have been taught that all of our interpersonal relationships must be brought under the Lordship of Christ, and further that we cannot accomplish this in our own strength. We have been directed to a power outside of ourselves to which we have access—the power of God Himself who can enable us to live for His glory and the good of others. This recognition of the availability of divine power as well as man's need for it is all but ignored in modern educational circles—a fact which contributes greatly to the sorry situation of our world today.

All of the above-mentioned influences which have touched our lives should make our living together in our residence halls a convincing testimony not only to the adequacy of our educational philosophy and to the value of our Anabaptist heritage but most of all to the God that worketh in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure.

History of Goshen College Nearing Completion

At the close of the commencement exercises on Monday evening, June seventh, President Miller announced that the manuscript of the history of Goshen College written by Professor John Umble is ready for the printer and that the college expects to have it ready for distribution at the end of the summer. The manuscript covers the history from the beginning of the Elkhart Institute in 1894 to the present time. The book is being offered at a liberal discount for prepublication orders—two dollars and fifty cents postage paid. The publication price will be three dollars.

The volume will contain three hundred twenty pages with eight or more pages of pictures. Originally intended as a Fiftieth Anniversary volume the history was to begin in 1903 when the Elkhart Institute became Goshen College. The vast amount of work connected with the research, the writing and the revision of the history have extended the time so that the volume will be the "Sixtieth Anniversary History" beginning in 1894 with the founding of Dr. Henry A. Mumaw's little private institution "The Elkhart Institute of Science, Industry and Arts," to the end of the school year of 1954. The first six chapters are arranged chronologically—Chapter I, "The Elkhart Institute 1894-1903"; Chapter II "The First Years at Goshen—Administration of President N. E. Byers 1903-1913"; Chapter III, "The Administration of President John E. Hartzler 1913-1918"; Chapter IV, "The Growing Division in the Constituency, 1918-1923"; Chapter V, "Reconstruction and Steps Toward Accreditment—Presidency of Sanford Calvin Yoder 1923-1940"; Chapter VI, "The Era of Expansion—The Presidency of Ernest E. Miller 1940-1954."

The two remaining chapters are arranged topically; Chapter VII, "Extracurricular Activities" covers the entire period and discusses in some detail the work of the Y, the Literary Societies, Musical Activities, Athletic Organizations and Activities and similar matters. The closing chapter, Chapter VIII, "The Alumni Association of Goshen College, Inc.," traces briefly the activities and contribution of the Alumni Association.

The history of Goshen College is more than a story of the growth of a little private school offering prehigh school subjects into a respected accredited college and graduate seminary. It is an epic recording the noble struggle of an uneducated German-speaking group withdrawn from the civic and social life surrounding it and accepting an inferior position in that society to a position of influence in the educational and religious life of that society where its counsels are sought and heeded.

The Goshen College today with its accredited College of Liberal Arts, Graduate Seminary, School of Nursing is a far cry from the struggling little school that began with four students in Shiloh Post G.A.R. Hall on South Main Street in Elkhart in 1894. Alumni and other friends of Goshen College will find the book interesting and inspiring reading.

Mennonite Life

The July issue of this interesting Mennonite magazine contains a series of articles and pictures on "Mennonites and Mental Health," a subject of absorbing timely interest. Alumni contributors to this twenty-two page section are Dr. H. Clair Amstutz 33 of Goshen; Karl Massanari, 36 acting dean of Goshen College; and Professor Paul Mininger, president-elect of the College. The leading article is Jacob Sudermann's 32 graphic account of a traveler's visit to Jerusalem at the time of the crucifixion of our Lord.

Other articles continue the policy of the magazine to inform its readers of various Mennonite settlements and projects by well-chosen picture and interesting story. Mennonite Life is published by Bethel College at North Newton, Kansas.

Notes From "The Medical Messenger"

Samuel J. Bucher, M.D. 39 of Mountain Clinic, Harman, West Virginia, is editor of Mennonite Medical Messenger. The June issue of the paper (Vol. VI No. 2) reached the editor's desk as we were nearly ready to go to press. Other officers of the Mennonite Medical Association are Edward Mininger, M.D. 36 of Elkhart, president; Norman Loux, M.D. 43 Providence, Rhode Island, president-elect; and Earl Leinbach, M.D. 46, Hamlet, Indiana, secretary-treasurer. The Association plans a meeting in connection with the program of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities in Oregon this June.

Rev. Lotus E. Troyer 38, pastor of the Meadows (Illinois) Mennonite Church, is helping the residents of Chenoa, Illinois, locate a physician in that village, lying in the heart of a prosperous Mennonite community.

Two Mennonite physicians—Dr. Richard Wenger 45 and Dr. Galen R. Miller 43 (Carley June Erb x44)—have been employed at the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Minot, North Dakota, for fifteen months. The hospital had a difficult time securing medical personnel because of its desolate location and relatively low salary. Dr. Wenger has made several labor-saving devices and gadgets for the hospital.

Dr. Willard Krabill 49, interning at the City Hospital at Akron, Ohio, reports that he is enjoying his interning in the Akron area.

John M. Bender 53, freshman at Jefferson Medical commutes to Jefferson about eight miles by public transportation. Since his wife, the former Naomi Hertzler 53 is from Norristown they attend church there. Mrs. Bender is teaching kindergarten in the Philadelphia public schools.

Ronald Graber 52 (Esther Rose Buckwalter 52), a sophomore attending Northwestern University 52), a cal School in Chicago, is at Goshen College teaching Nursing Anatomy and Physiology this summer.

George Mark 52, attending Northwestern University Medical School, will be doing extern work at one of the city hospitals this summer.

Ben Kenagy 51 (Kathleen Erb x53) is starting his senior year at Northwestern University Medical School.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Horst 51 (Beulah Troyer x52) of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, welcomed a daughter, Paula Jean, on February 1.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Schlabach 44 (Mae Schwebe pt44) of Ethiopia announce the birth of Lois Marie on March 1.

Dr. and Mrs Herbert C. Wenger 52 of Telford, Pennsylvania, welcomed their second child, Herbert Michael, on March 4.

Anne Elizabeth was born to Dr. and Mrs. David x50 Lehman (Doris Liechty 50) of Indianapolis on March 13.

The following GC alumni completed their medical course in June: Glen Hess Hoffman 50 and Donald Lee Minter 50 at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia; Meryl Nafziger 50 (Twila Hostetler 50) at Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago; Robert Nyce 50 (Ruth O. Yoder 49) at Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia.

study, nature hikes, guided craft activities, campcrafts, swimming, boating, hiking and various group projects. Special activities are cook-outs, all-day hikes, sleep-outs, constructing outdoor shelter, developing a nature trail and planning an outdoor vesper site. The course offers two hours of college credit.

Spring Sessions

During the first spring session Mrs. Atlee Beechy (Winifred Nelson 38) taught a class of fifteen students in a course in Home Management. During the second spring session Professor Guy F. Hershberger gave instruction to nine students in Rural Sociology. Both courses in the spring session were conducted on the Hiram Plan.

Graduate Seminary

The Seminary is offering a six-week graduate course divided into two three-week sessions. During the first session ending June 26, Don. E. Smucker of the Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Chicago, taught a class in Christian Ethics, Howard Charles 40 in Colossians and John C. Wenger in Doctrine of Nonconformity. Dr. Wenger 34 also tutored several students in New Testament Greek.

During the second session Dean Harold S. Bender 18 offers a course in Christian Discipleship, the course in Christian Ethics continues, Dean Chester K. Lehman, of Eastern Mennonite College teaches a class in Pauline Theology and Erland Waltner of Bethel College First and Second Epistles of Peter.

College of Liberal Arts Including School of Nursing

The regular summer session of the college began on June 8 and will continue through August 6 with a total enrollment of 237 of whom 76 are in the school of nursing. This is in addition to the enrollment in the camp workshop and the spring sessions. Thirteen instructors are offering twenty-nine courses. Visiting summer school instructors include Ralph Wade 49, instructor in music, Dr. Ronald Graber 52 of Northwestern University Medical School, and Melva Kauffman 44 of Hesston College.

At the close of summer school after a ten-day vacation, students in the school of nursing will return for classes. The twenty-five freshmen will return to the campus for instruction in nursing arts in the nursing laboratory in Science Hall and at the same time twenty sophomores will attend classes at the Elkhart General Hospital. The intention at first was to limit the size of classes of the school of nursing to twenty but with increased facilities and insistent demand on the part of students the number was raised to twenty-five.

Class Of '38 Members Write . . .

From Illinois

Our family arrived in New York last July 22. Since September, the children and I have been living here in Fisher with my mother while Lester is attending the Biblical Seminary of New York. . . . Our return to Puerto Rico will follow . . . the first week in August. . . . We have been assigned to the evangelistic work at Coamo and Coamo Arriba and to the radio ministry. The places mentioned were outposts from our congregation at Pulguillas before we came home. The field committee feels that the work at Coamo has grown sufficiently now to merit a full-time pastor, and we are happy to labor at those places. Lawrence Greaser will continue the pastorate duties at Pulguillas that he took over when we left.—Lester and Alta Good Hershey, Fisher, Illinois.

I suppose a word about the family is in order. We have the twins who are now almost 12 years old. Lila goes to school in a wheel chair this year for the first time and both are in the sixth grade. Lila has been tutored in the home for the first five years but has made a most happy adjustment to public school life and is much to be preferred over tutoring. Then the baby is about two years old now and a real mischief. She's about a full-time job for one person. . . . Our menagerie here at the Meadows Mennonite Church parsonage includes a cow and calf, a pony due to have a colt this month, four dogs and two pups and a small garden.—Lotus E. Troyer, Meadows, Illinois.

Time passes quickly; Randy is just finishing first grade and Judy is finishing kindergarten. They both like school very much. . . . I have been kept busy house cleaning, gardening, caring for chickens, and doing substitute teaching at the local grade school every now and then.—Thelma Oyer Noe.

From Indiana

Our three daughters seem to grow up so rapidly. Lea is in Central Junior Hi and plays oboe in both band and orchestra. Carolyn is in sixth grade at Samuel Strong and plays cornet in the S.S. band and all-city grade school band. Janet, our four-year-old, is just as busy but directs her energies in quite different ways. At the present time our extracurricular activities have taken the venture into horsemanship. . . . Micky has been busy with two P.T.A.s, Book Guild, Four Arts, Busy Bee at church and now preparing for summer Bible school. With all of these she still finds time to help me at the funeral home during the rush periods. We recently added a new embalmer to our staff so we may have just a little more time to do some of the things we have wanted to do.—Lloyd and Mildred Hostetler Hartzler, 403 W. Franklin Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Last June David took a I-W job at the Methodist Hospital in Gary. He enjoys his work and especially when he is assigned to the operating room. He thinks he wants to be a doctor. He has had one year of college, was 20 years old in April. He was four years old at the time of the famous and successful Turkey Run sojourn. . . . This year then Elsie and I have complete run of our house just off Westwood Road—two blocks west of the Union Building. David gets home about once a month and we have had the privilege of entertaining many overnight guests.—Leland Bachman, Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana.

From Ohio

Mary Suzanne, whom we call Suzanne, is almost a year old now. Her first birthday will be May 9. . . . The house was started about the time the baby was born. We excavated while I was in the hospital last May. We still aren't finished building. Aside from the mason work and the plastering, Hertz has done practically all the work himself, and it takes considerable time to build a house that way, we've found. None of the finish work is done yet, and none of the built-ins are built in. When it got to the point where we thought it could be lived in—we moved in.—Emanuel and Myrtle Hertzler, Kent, Ohio.

We are now living a few miles west of Wadsworth out in the country on a five-acre plot which we purchased and on which we built our home. . . . Jan is now eleven and a half and just completing his sixth year in school. Jerry is almost ten and will complete the fourth grade in school this spring. . . . Charles is busy with his schoolwork, (teaching at Rittman High School in the Science Department as he was when I last wrote) also with his small-scale truck farming. . . . I have been employed as a Sales Correspondent at the Ohio Boxboard Company in Rittman, Ohio, for two years. The work is interesting, detailed and I enjoy it.—Charles and Lois Kreider, Wadsworth, Ohio.

From California

In August, 1953, I passed the preliminary doctoral examination and I was admitted as a candidate for the Ph.D. degree in Botany. I plan to be at the University of Tennessee during the summer months to continue my research. During December I took my Systematic Botany class on a field trip to the Joshua Tree National Monument. I was surprised to find so many desert flowers in bloom then. During the spring vacation several teachers and I journeyed to the Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument, south of Ajo, Arizona. . . . In December 1952 I spent Christmas vacation in Florida and South Carolina so I have now been in all of the states except four. After my research is completed I am looking forward to a trip to Washington, Oregon, North Dakota, and Wisconsin.—Anna D. Leatherman, Upland, California.

From Missouri

We have had nice rains occasionally and crops look very good to us. I will have peas to put in the freezer next week—at the same time I will be teaching in our Bible school. Our 16-year-old daughter is also going to teach. Summer is always such a busy month but that is what keeps one happy and content, I guess. Our 19-year-old son and I are planning to go to Hesston for the commencement week end, and I will be attending a sewing circle meeting on June 1. I have been district sewing circle treasurer for four years.—Ruby Martin Zook, Latour, Missouri.

From Argentina

Winter has arrived for us in Argentina. So we pile on the winter clothes, and then put a few more sweaters on top of it all, and set a little kerosene heater from one room to another to take off a little of the chill. And it really isn't so bad. Half of our family is in school, Marjory in the first grade and Stanley in the fourth. Dennis will go to kindergarten next year, and Carol is only two years old. Beside that we have an orphanage girl staying with us who is in the fifth grade. She and Stanley go to school in the forenoons, and Marjory in the afternoons. Marjory especially enjoys writing all her lessons with ink—with old-fashioned pen holders and ink-wells in the desks. Dressing a first grader in white school uniforms is enough of a job without taking care of the ink-stains yet! But it all goes in together with getting an education. Frank takes the train for Bragado every Wednesday morning, and returns Friday afternoon, to teach in the Bible school there. Koppenhaver is director, and the missionaries who go to help teach, each go for several days. For the past two years our young people went in to Buenos Aires to study in another Bible School, and this year we are glad to have our own Bible school again. Tomorrow we are looking for Edna Good to come. She has been chosen to visit all the women's groups in the different churches this year, and tomorrow afternoon she will meet with ours.—Frank and Anna Hallmann Byler, Trenque Lauquen, FNDFS, Argentina.

Foreign Students

Seven of the foreign students will continue to make their home at Goshen College during most of the summer. Four will spend part of the summer in the vicinity of Wauseon and Archbold, Ohio. Ida Arnone will be in California and Jan Gleijsteen will assist in the offices of the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, after July 10.

Gleanings from 1944 Class Letter

From Indiana

After teaching in Indiana for three years, I moved to Dwight, Illinois, where I taught vocal music in grades one to twelve and freshman English for the next six years. This fall I came to Crete, which is a small town about 35 miles south of downtown Chicago. . . . Our girls' chorus and mixed chorus were fortunate enough to place first in the district music contest this spring, so now we are advancing to the state finals on May 1. . . . High lights of my summer vacation is a trip of some kind. For instance, I've been to New England twice, Colorado twice, Washington, D.C., Virginia, and California. One summer I was in school at Indiana University and another summer at the University of Colorado. Two years ago I attended the Fred Waring Choral Workshop, and last summer Leda Litwiller and I spent ten days at the Olaf Christiansen Choral School. . . . Every summer, teaching Bible school for two weeks at my home church at Flanagan.—Wilma Roeschley, Crete, Indiana.

After our marriage, March 1946, Chicago. . . . Samuel, six, and Joseph, four. . . . Summer of '52, our daughter Esther was born. . . . Fall of 1950, moved to Goshen. . . . Earl has been teaching since that time at Bethany, a country school in the same township as New Paris. This year he has 29 pupils in grades 4-6, twenty of whom are boys. He enjoys teaching very much. . . . His summer job is delivering new trucks to dealers, for a South Bend forwarding company. He gets to the west coast and south border.—Earl and Areta Graber Lehman, Goshen, Indiana.

We are living on a farm near Topeka. "We" includes Nolen, myself, and our two sons . . . Roger, second grade . . . Keith, five. . . . Nolen does a little farming, also full-time job in a mill at Syracuse. He is to do sales work at the mill in addition to some of the regular mill work. . . . Since graduation I taught one year at Middlebury in the second grade and five years at Eden Township School in the first grade.—Nolen and Alberta Augsburger Hartzler, Topeka, Indiana.

I am sitting in the Mennonite Historical Library here at Goshen, where I have spent most of almost five mornings a week the last year and a half. I am researching and writing. . . . In my teaching, I have become startlingly aware of how little information the modern university student has of the Bible. When one considers how full the literature of Western Civilization is of Biblical references and allusions, this illiteracy is a very serious matter even from a secular education viewpoint. . . . With this little introduction, you will understand why I am endeavoring to develop writing skills. . . . My experience with writing has so far taught me that it is a brutally difficult, laboriously slow progressing craft, but giving expression to creative drives in any field of Art is very rewarding to the participant when he can achieve an audience response because of quality. . . . My method is to work on some big theme and while that is progressing to try shorts by way of practice. One such short is currently running in Mennonite Life, beginning with the April issue. This is an Easter theme called Providence. One completed novel has been accepted by our Christian Living magazine. It is to appear in January and will run for about five months. This novel develops the Zacchaeus story. I shall be very happy to get your reactions to it. If you like it please tell the editor. . . . Still make our home in Goshen. Our oldest son, John, is now college sophomore . . . David, sixth grade, Annemarie, the third. . . . The family attraction is of course little Paul Konrad. . . . Professor John Umble has a table right behind me down here. He is just finishing the History of Goshen College. From his desk I picked up the Annual of '44 and am now looking at the familiar faces. A nostalgia for gone days grips me when I do this. . . . May God bless you all.—Jacob Sudermann, Goshen, Indiana. (Class Sponsor)

Working in the office of Dr. F. S. Martin here in Goshen most of the time since becoming an R.N. This past winter, four month leave in Phoenix, Arizona. . . . Enjoyable winter and for a change I got back into institutional nursing by working at a newly opened hospital, where I was head nurse of the medical floor.—Marian Buzzard, Goshen, Indiana.

From Pennsylvania

In 1946, I terminated a three-year period in Civilian Public Service and entered Ohio State University. After graduating from OSU in 1948 with a mechanical engineering degree, Fern Yoder and I were married and I took employment as a junior engineer with the National Radiator Company in Johnstown. In 1952 I was ordained deacon of the Weaver Mennonite Church near Johnstown. . . . I am still employed by the National Radiator Company, but as a Research Engineer.—Mervin Hostetler, Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

Till June 11, 1954, I will have been teaching Home Economics in the Junior High School here in York, Pennsylvania, for eight years. . . . About two hundred girls a semester in Foods. . . . I have my permanent certification in Pennsylvania which means I can teach chemistry and home economics. . . . Live about five miles northeast of York. . . . My brother, Edward, is a practicing attorney here in York . . . married and has two little boys.—Janet H. Garber, York, Pennsylvania.

I worked as a bookkeeper in a men's clothing store in my home town in Wooster, Ohio, for a number of years before our marriage. . . . Now living in the mountains of Pennsylvania, namely Springs, where we boast a school, church, and a general store. . . . We built a small brick home about six years ago. Last year, we were living in Ohio but we are now back again in Pennsylvania living in our home. Son, Frederick Lee, two last month. . . . Bob is a farm equipment salesman. He works within a radius of 50 miles from home. . . . For relaxation, we find hunting and fishing the answer.—Esther Wenger Kolb, Springs, Pennsylvania.

From Iowa

Since we're in school now working toward our degrees and Mother and Dad are out of practice writing, we'll try to give you our setup. We're happy Mother and Dad chose a farm in Iowa to live on. Dad enjoys farming, especially taking care of his purebred Angus herd. . . . Our names are Larry, eight, Thelma, seven, June, five, and David, three, sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley (Edna Rich) Swartzendruber, Kalona, Iowa.

After college I spent four years teaching in the elementary schools and one summer working at the La Junta Hospital. . . . Married in 1946 and located at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. . . . Dale works for the Beverly Cattle Company. . . . Three children—Marilyn, six, Rondel, five, and Galen, one and a half. . . . Sunday finds us at the South English Mennonite Church 60 miles away or at the First Baptist Church in this city.—Dale and Twila Swartzendruber Wenger, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

From Florida

We write from our own particular spot among the sun-splashed palms and pines of the Florida peninsula. . . . Opportunity to serve is challengingly present . . . for Ernie locally in the junior high or church school classroom, or for Betty upon the pages of periodicals where her words have found growing acceptance. . . . Ernie has the responsibility for the A.M. recreation program which was begun in order to supervise Jr. H.S. students who must come early on the school buses. This year completes his fifth year of teaching in the seventh grade here in Sarasota. There are a number of seventh grade teachers. Each has one class for all subjects except gym, music, etc. Ernie has the "string group," the class includes all seventh graders studying stringed instruments. . . . Remodeling of our home consumes a lot of Ernie's spare time.—Ernest and Elizabeth Howell Shank, Sarasota, Florida.

From Georgia

In the land of Dixie for over a year now and think there is no place quite like it. Southern hospitality and friendliness is no unfounded legend. . . . Harold is district manager for Penn Controls, Inc. (of Goshen, Indiana, incidentally), and has a territory of seven states. We have two girls, Elise, two, Linda, eight. . . . The college has made such amazing changes that we feel a bit foreign on its campus, but I've yet to hear an alumnus say, "Things have certainly changed," without hearing the ring of pride in his voice.—Harold and Avis Hostetler King, Decatur, Georgia.

From Arizona

Our little son, born March 18th, passed away little over five hours later, have one little girl nearly three and she keeps us busy, or maybe I should say she keeps us busy keeping her busy. After my year at Goshen most of my time in Children's Home work and Bible school. . . . Congregation here carrying on work at two migrant camps which an MRC service unit started winter before last. . . . My brother, John-william, is in charge of the work at these two camps. Besides the Sunday services they also have crafts one evening a week. We used to live on the desert but now we are in the irrigated section and have lawn and trees and some animals.—Ethel Boyer Burkholder, Phoenix, Arizona.

From North Dakota

Our chief interest in our family. . . . It's not only ten years since I've officially become an alumnus but also ten years since we've been married. Since leaving Iowa's green acres that spring, I recall 14 different addresses I've had while "accompanying" Galen through medical school in Pennsylvania, internship in Cleveland, surgical training four years in Canton and Philadelphia and finally our last move (we thought) to Elkhart where Galen was in practice 18 months. . . . After this two-year term of I-W service (Galen doing surgery in this VA Hospital) we hope to again resume residence in Elkhart where we left our home and office furnished and rented to nurses and a doctor respectively.—Dr. Galen and Carley June Erb Miller, Veterans Administration Hospital, Minot, North Dakota.

From Michigan

Following Goshen College entered the University of Illinois Medical School and graduated in June, 1947. While attending the Chicago Mission I met my wife, the former Dulcie Dorothy Bell, of Toronto, Canada, who was attending a child evangelism course held at the Moody Bible Institute. . . . Internship at the University of Nebraska Hospital, in Omaha, . . . Dulcie attended Goshen College. On July 17, 1948, we were married at Goshen, then spent six months at Lincoln Hospital, in Detroit, as house physician. In February, 1949, we began a term of MCC service at the Mennonite General Hospital, at La Plata, Puerto Rico, 28 months. . . . The opportunities to service in the name of Christ are truly great there. It is very gratifying to hear that the work is growing and expanding on this poverty-stricken island. In La Plata our family increased by two, Frederick David, and Anita Arlene . . . . The past three years lived at Goodrich, Michigan, 50 miles northwest of Detroit. . . . Engaged in a group-type practice with two other doctors. Our hospital work in the 47-bed hospital located one block from our home. . . . Galen Paul, our third child, arrived at our house about 20 months ago. Our future plans call for moving to Detroit in July, at which time I plan to begin a surgical residency at the Henry Ford Hospital. However, the Doctor Draft is far from dead and I may end up somewhere else.—Dr. Fred J. and Dulcie Bell Swartzendruber, Goodrich, Michigan.

From Arkansas

Located in the Ozarks of Arkansas. . . . Married and Karen born this past October. . . . The intervening years . . . the first three in medical school. Then a year and a half of internship. Then three years of oversea work with the Mennonite Central Committee as my boss. . . . In Ethiopia I operated a hospital and clinic. Walter Schlabach replaced me there and remained as a missionary. Then I was requested to go to Java to open the work there. . . . Coming back to America . . . first, a residency in surgery at York, Pennsylvania, specialized hospital training. Then I consummated a long interrupted courtship with Gladys Landis from Blooming Glen. Now we are in the Ozark Mountains. Gladys, nurse, together we began a medical practice. My brother, John, a medical technician, joined me. His wife, Mary Margaret Miller is also a nurse and works in the clinic . . . . The people are very cordial. . . . Grateful to us and do not consider the dollar bill a substitute for the "thank you." The Mennonite Church has a school and medical clinic and several churches in this community. So our efforts are not limited to medicine alone but combine with the church work in the other phases.—Dr. Meryl Grasse, Calico Rock, Arkansas.

From Colorado

For two years following my graduation, I taught the seventh and eighth grades in a consolidated rural school near Columbia City, Indiana. Wilma Roeschley taught English and music in another school in the same community. . . . During the summer of 1946, I was a member of the Service Unit at Culp, Arkansas. While there I was informed of a vacancy in the upper grades in the parochial school at Culp. I accepted the position and spent four very happy and enjoyable years in the Ozarks. I loved the Ozarks and its people. . . . Having taught school for eleven years, I felt the need for a change in occupation. . . . During the winter I received a letter from Mrs. Swartzendruber, Director of the La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing, asking me to come to La Junta. . . . I have spent four years at La Junta and have enjoyed my work very much. I am Director of Miller Hall, the new student nurses' residence, serve as school librarian, sponsor of the Student Council and director of extra-curricular activities. . . . I plan to enroll in Denver University for the summer quarter. I will be taking courses in library science to prepare me for some special work we want to do in our library next year.—Marie Kaufman, La Junta, Colorado.

I left Goshen in June for Pueblo via La Junta Summer Bible School. In July I was ordained as the first pastor for the small group of Mennonites living in Pueblo . . . Yes, I married a girl (Irene Snyder) from Goshen College, although I did not meet her until I worked in summer Bible school in La Junta and Pueblo in 1944 and '45. . . . Trying to carry on a church program with missionary activity in a city, and at the same time bring up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord four lovely, lively, little ones. The pleasant, encouraging times compensate for the unpleasant, discouraging ones, and we are still climbing and trusting God, who has been our guide.

Sharon, seven, Carol, five . . . both sing well, and enjoy music. Douglas, three, Roger, 18 months, but already expresses a versatile personality. All four are blonde, blue-eyed, fair-skinned. . . . In 1946 I had polio, and at present a broken arm. . . Had a good recovery from polio.—N. Marcus "Bud" and Irene Snyder Bishop, Pueblo, Colorado.

From Maryland

Briefly, I have been halfway around the world, traveled in 41 states, taken a wife unto myself, fathered two fine sons, and helped build a reputable business. . . . Colleen's brother and I are now in a partnership business for ourselves. We farm 1800 acres, have 200 head of dairy cattle and process, bottle, and retail 2000 gallons of milk daily. Just recently we formed the J and K Jug Stores—dairy stores which feature milk in the gallon jug. . . . Two little boys, Brent and Brad (four and one and a half years). . . . Extracurricular activities—sing in the Cumberland Choral Society, belong to a Youth Fellowship . . . active in Farm Bureau, and Colleen is president of a Homemaker's Club. I have learned to pilot a plane . . . Have also shown my horse in quite a few horse shows.—K. O. and Colleen Barton Nelson, Cumberland, Maryland.

From California

My husband, Lester, who is from Illinois, is in the automobile business. We also have a children's day nursery which my father supervises for us. We accommodate thirty-five children, ages 2-5. We have a staff of five teachers and a cook. It is known as Kiddie's Kampus. . . . One Kiddie of our own, Charlotte Roberta . . . in first grade at the Ascension Lutheran School. We enjoy the annual Alumni Banquet so much here in Los Angeles. This year it is to be held May 29th.—Elma Shoup Reeser, Los Angeles, California.

From New York

Entered Northwestern University Medical School . . . . Graduated. Interning at Michael Reese Hospital, I met Dr. Edward Barrett. . . . He attended Maryland University and then the Royal College of Medicine in Edinburgh, Scotland. . . . Married in 1949. . . . Fortunate in that Ed has had only a few months of active duty and that in San Francisco . . . and there I started my residency training in pathology. Ed accepted the position of Medical director of a pharmaceutical company offices in New York City. I continued pathology residency training for another two years. During this time "Bubber," the second boy, was born. At present, we live in Westchester County. . . . I'm assistant pathologist and medical examiner for the county. . . . Since these drivers are responsible for so much of the automobile murder (the legal word is still manslaughter) it is good news that with the new law and the blood determination our county courts have been getting approximately 97% convictions.—Ruth Eleanor Mendenhall Barrett, White Plains, New York.

From Wisconsin

Last month (April) I accepted an assistant librarian position at Marquette University in Milwaukee. This brand new million and half dollar splendor in the way of a library makes work synonymous with pleasure. It is completely modern, a pleasant change from those Carnegie horrors. I spend about four hours daily at the reference desk and four in the office—at present doing a German cataloguing job. My limping German has its day! . . . President Miller very aptly expressed my sentiments when he said that our Mennonite backgrounds have instilled in us a need to work and we are unhappy without enough of it. . . . I have met many lovely people. . . . Find a very small college atmosphere at Marquette despite the 8,000 students. . . . Also accepted a position as counselor in one of the girls' residence houses (Lisette Hall). . . . I should add yet that I worked in a medical library in Wausau, Wisconsin, for the past two years—and incidentally, left a hundred pounds of Neva White there.—Neva White, Milwaukee 8, Wisconsin.

From Ohio

Although I was not a member of the Senior Class graduating in 1944, having been in California in Civilian Public Service at the time, I did return to the Goshen campus in the summer of 1946. Mildred Zook and I were married in June, and shortly thereafter I began a year of the study of economics and accounting as a member of the Class of 1948. Next to Columbus, Ohio, where Mildred worked at University Hospitals while I pursued my accounting interests and graduated from Ohio State University in September 1948 . . . to Akron, Pennsylvania, where I worked in the financial section of the Mennonite Central Committee until the spring when Mildred and I went to Basel, Switzerland, under the MCC, where I served as Controller of the European area . . . in 1950 to Cleveland where I have since been employed by the public accounting firm of Ernst & Ernst. In the near future I expect to take the state examination for certified public accountant. . . . On October 9, 1952, we announced the birth of John Franklin.—Franklin Steiner, Cleveland, Ohio.

The first three years after graduation were spent in teaching school, . . . Roy Byler came along and convinced me to stop that and so we were married in 1947. Ricky, five, is now getting his shots, etc., in preparation for the first grade next fall. Danny, soon three, tries to keep up, Rose, soon two, is our blonde blue-eyed girl . . . our sweet little three-month-old baby is Debby. Our farm is 113 acres of rolling land with a ten-room house, fairly large barn and many other buildings. Roy milks cows and is raising 400 layers for this fall. . . . Our new young pastor, Ed Stoltzfus.—Ruby Fisher Byler, West Liberty, Ohio.

I suppose the most challenging day of this ten-year period was the September day following our commencement when I faced thirty brightly scrubbed third and fourth grade pupils in my first day of teaching. . . . I took post-graduate work at Westminster College. June 12, 1948, at 8:00 P.M., I became Mrs. Eber Martin. Been living in the vicinity of Columbiana. On December 15, 1950, Roger Lee . . . now nearly three and one half. Brenda Kay arrived in November of 1952. Since January, 1951, we have been engaged in storekeeping. We have bought a small country store, featuring a full line of groceries, frozen foods, some meats, notions, men's work clothing, floor coverings, appliances, information, advice, and other items too numerous to mention. . . . Several of our summers also included teaching Bible school, work on Young People's Institute committees for the state, in addition to Sunday-school teaching, and serving in various other ways in church activities.—Della Lapp Martin, Columbiana, Ohio.

I am so glad that we who were unable to graduate with the rest of the class are being included in the ten-year festivities. . . . Gail was in the CPS those years I was teaching and was released shortly before I finished my fourth year. We were married in June of '46. . . . Living on Gail's father's farm. . . . Jerry, six in September, Sammy, three in May. . . . One of the big things in our lives the last couple of years has been our church building program. Gail was a member of the Building Committee. . . . My brother and his wife, Gail and I compose a quartet that does quite a bit of singing. . . . Though we sing at all kinds of meetings, our specialties seem to be weddings and funerals! I also sing in a ladies' quartet.—Gail and Ruth Ellen Yoder, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Herman spent three and a half years in CPS after leaving GC. These days were full of rich experiences for him as well as myself. His first year and a half he he spent at Luray, Virginia, and the remaining two years in the beautiful Glacier National Park at Belton, Montana. We were married in May of 1945 so I spent almost the last year of CPS with him. . . . From camp we moved to Archbold. . . . After Harold returned from Relief Work in Europe they started a partnership business and are now doing remodeling, concrete work, selling aluminum windows, and mostly building new houses. . . . Our oldest, Carolyn Jean—eight, in the second grade . . . Allen Kent, seven in August, in the first grade . . . Phyllis Kay, five in September, to kindergarten this fall . . . our youngest, Eric Herman, two in July.—Herman and Doris Schertz Liechty, Archbold, Ohio.

Gave up my job as a bookkeeper at the bank when I was married. . . . My husband, Jim, is a teacher in the Millersburg High School. He teaches shop classes ranging Jr. High to advanced class welding. Also is the driving instructor. To which I might add, I am learning to drive in one of his after school adult classes. It reduces the nervous tension when you learn on a dual control car.—Leda M. Crissey, Millersburg, Ohio.

Living in the vicinity of Orrville since 1946 . . . now buying a home in town . . . Employed by the Horst Machine Company as a machinist. . . . Three daughters . . . oldest is now completing her second year of school, the second will go to kindergarten this fall. The youngest, beginning to talk.—Marvin J. Hostetler, Orrville, Ohio.

Since 1944, I studied at Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Princeton Seminary, and Biblical Seminary (where I got my degree), taught for three years at Eastern Mennonite College and am now rounding out the fifth year as pastor of the South Union Church at West Liberty. . . . Rejoicing just now in the new South Union Church which was dedicated last November 15. . . . Last month Mrs. Shenk, our three children (David, seven; Daniel, three; and Rhoda, two) and I returned from an eleven-week evangelistic trip in the West where we served in the congregations at Albuquerque, New Mexico; Phoenix, Arizona; Upland, California; Los Angeles, California; and Winton, California.—Stanley Shenk, West Liberty, Ohio.

After leaving college I taught school for three years at Charm, Ohio. . . . In 1945 George and I were married. We lived in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, for one year while George was still in CPS, then we moved to Detroit, Michigan, where George finished his schoolwork and received his engineering degree. For the past six years we have been living near Orrville. . . . George is employed with the Ohio Edison Company as a Farm Service Representative. . . . Rosemary, our oldest, is seven and in first grade . . . Rebecca, four, and Miriam, two and a half.—George and Priscilla Miller Falb, Orrville, Ohio.

My occupation, serving the children through the Sunday school and summer Bible school. At present, working with Katherine Royer in preparing teaching materials for three-year-olds in Sunday school and at home. The course consists of three children's books in full color (songbook, Bible verse book, and Bible story book, each with 23 or 24 songs or stories and that many full-page accompanying illustrations) a set of 60 activity cutouts in color, and a parents' and teachers' guide. . . . I've found I can't draw without doing a lot of just looking. . . . One evening the desired object was a live wild rabbit. You can imagine the problem, worn from easel-fatigue . . . began to think of ways to avoid a rabbit in the picture. This mood was short-lived . . . there in the back yard was a RABBIT. My binoculars were brought and I sketched feverishly but he scarcely moved till I had a good look at him and his coloring. Within about 30 minutes he was sitting quietly in the picture. . . . Creating cannot be done an easy way but just as the appropriate appearance of the rabbit was encouraging, likewise was the appearance of a downy woodpecker who most obligingly sat on the clothesline prop a few feet away when I was in the midst of the bird illustration. . . . Solutions do not always come that easily. . . . The first illustration for the books must have taken at least six weeks. . . . Each Sunday we assist in the Sunday-school nursery class, our laboratory for testing stories, pictures, cutouts, songs, activities, and session plans. We have our offices upstairs in the Royer home. . . . The years of joyous service have been far above my greatest expectations.—Norma Hostetler, Orrville, Ohio.

From Ontario

Our daily life centers around Sterling Avenue Mennonite Church. . . . Wilfred leaves the 28th of April for our District Conference at Allentown, Pennsylvania. . . . Wilfred is in the midst of finishing a term of schoolwork at Waterloo College. . . . David is five and a half, Danny four, and Ronald two and a half.—Wilfred and Betty Stutzman Ulrich, Kitchener, Ontario.

From Korea

On this rainy afternoon in Pusan . . . Child welfare administration in Pusan, Korea. . . . I was the first one of our rank to go in May of 1945. . . . Spent fifteen months in the then European headquarters of the Mennonite Central Committee . . . Basel, Switzerland, . . . completed my two-year term of overseas relief work. . . . Then spent two and a half years at the Akron headquarters of the MCC. . . . To Reedley, California, where the MCC was in process of building its second mental hospital. . . . Fund raising in behalf of the La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing, and consequently from California spent fifteen months with them in fund raising, business management and student recruitment. . . . Went from Colorado, back to the West Coast and eventually clear to eastern Virginia. In this deputation, I spoke on nursing education in the Mennonite Church and covered approximately two thirds of our churches throughout the country . . . 1953, I returned to the MCC headquarters at Akron, Pennsylvania, ... February of this year I sailed from San Francisco bound for Korea, continuing under the MCC but loaned to the Christian Children's Fund, as their business administrator for Korea. . . . Five days in Tokyo where I have met other Goshen College faculty and alumnae—Carl Kreiders and Charles Burkhart at the International Christian University, Dorothy and Don McCammon, Ruth Bean, Eugene and Louella Blosser in language study in Tokyo. . . . Traveled by air to Hong Kong to receive orientation at the overseas headquarters of the Christian Children's Fund, with a stopover with MCC relief workers in Formosa. . . . Have traveled over 1,000 miles by jeep visiting orphanages sponsored by CCF. —Arlene Sitler, Mennonite Central Committee, APO 59, %PM, San Francisco, California.

From Japan

The request to write a growth report for the past ten years hangs over me somewhat like those term-paper assignments of our student days. . . . It is a startling thing to hold the years up for inspection, to balance what has been learned with what has been lost, and to get a perspective of our lives. . . . After graduation I attended the La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing and graduated in the class of '47. I worked in the pediatrics division of University Hospitals in Cleveland until Lee Kanagy came along with a proposition of changing roles to that of homemaker; we celebrate our sixth wedding anniversary on June 9. The biggest step after that was our response to the Spirit's call to preach the Gospel in Japan, a task which challenges the best in us for the rest of our lives. We arrived in Tokyo in September, 1951, and spent the following two years there, studying the Japanese language, a still unfinished task. . . . Last July 19 we came to the town of Nakashibetsu in eastern Hokkaido (the northernmost island) to make our home and to build the church of Christ. . . . The center of our church activities is the Bible House, a former "pachinko" (pinball) gambling place. Converted, it serves as a reading and sales room for Christian literature in both English classes, young people's activities, a Sunday school to which fifty to one hundred children are coming, Sunday evening Bible study and worship services which an average of twenty are attending faithfully. We are also able to give a Gospel witness on the local radio station, reaching homes in a six-mile radius. Fifteen minutes of hymns and Scripture are broadcast every Sunday morning. . . . Our children, Daniel, four, and Ruth, two, born in Tokyo.—Lee and Adella Brunk Kanagy, Nakashibetsu-cho, Nemuro-koku, Hokkaido, Japan.

Our daughter, Julia, was born in West China in 1951, and Michael Don arrived in Tokyo a couple of months after we did last year. . . . We were in China from 1947 to 1951, home a bit more than a year on furlough, and now have been in Japan a little over a year. Don has been in full-time language study since our arrival, and I have been studying part time with a tutor who comes to the house. We have been assigned to Tokyo, rather than to Hokkaido where the rest of our folks are going. There is a small group of Mennonites here—mostly students down from the Hokkaido churches to go to school in Tokyo—and they need a church home. Also, there is a good bit of business to take care of, so Don will combine the two jobs. I am doing the work of mission treasurer, and glad to be able to make that contribution while wrestling with the language. We think it is harder than Chinese, because the grammar is endless.—Don and Dorothy Snapp McCammon, 2 2-chome, Shimoumacho, Setagaya-ku, Tokyo, Japan.

Herbert Groh x07 retired in 1948 after working with the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa as a botanist for 27 years. He reports that he is still active in youth work, Woodland Boys' Camp, nature study promotion and conservation.

"It seems I should write and tell you how much I do appreciate the Goshen College Bulletin. Always look forward to receiving it and how the college is prospering and growing since I attended."—Alice Ennis x07.

Arizona State College at Tempe has conferred the rank of professor emeritus on Samuel Burkhard 11. Dr. Burkhard joined the faculty at ASC in 1921. He served as head of the department of education from 1930 to 1950.

C. C. 13 and Ada Burkhart a32 Ziegler write that "On April 29 came back from Sarasota, Florida, after spending approximately six months in the open and taking in the salt air. There is no doubt a connection between this long stay and the large catches of fish that were taking place almost daily."

Orie O. Miller 15, Secretary of the Eastern Mission Board, left New York City on June 2 for a fourteen week trip which will take him to MCC and foreign mission centers around the world. He will visit a total of twenty foreign countries and his itinerary will include visits to Eastern Board missions in Luxembourg, Ethiopia, Somaliland, and Tanganyika. He will also visit the Roy Kreiders who are serving as missionaries in Israel.

Alice G. Treuschel 16 of 725 Nevada Street, Toledo 5, Ohio, is teaching in the Week Day Church School Program under direction of the Toledo Council of Churches, Toledo.

Harriet Suxley, daughter of Albert and Elcy Russell 16 Holdeman, was killed along with her husband and three boys on December 13 when their car was hit by a train. The Holdemans' address is 1120 Pecos Street, San Angelo, Texas.

Dr. S. E. Yoder 16 reports that Sol Yoder, Jr. x51 is ending his third year in voluntary service at Heerewegen, Zeist, The Netherlands. His work is planning conference and speaking to Dutch youth. Carl J. Yoder, son of S. E. Yoder, is an all-American soccer player. He has finished two years of premedical work at Franklin and Marshall College and is now in VS at the Maine Medical Center, Portland, Maine, as an operating room technician.

President Ernest E. Miller 17 served as instructor in foreign missions in the Golden Jubilee Session of the Winona Summer School of Missions at Winona Lake, June 21-26. The school was sponsored by the Interdenominational Committee of the Central West for Missions. He conducted a foreign missions course on India, Pakistan, and Ceylon. His seventeen-year period of service in India as a missionary administrator and more recently as area supervisor of the work of the MCC in India, Indonesia, Formosa, and Japan provided an interesting background for conducting this class. Mrs. Miller spent the week at Winona Lake with President Miller.

On May 8 Ferne Slagle a18 was elected Elkhart County vice-chairman of the Elkhart County Republican Central Committee. She will serve a two-year term.

Teaching third grade in Nappanee Community Schools is Elva May Schrock x20. She serves as chairman of the literature committee of the Women's Missionary Association of the General Conference Mennonite Church and edits the Guide to Mission Study for use in the missionary education program.

John Thut 23 has been delegated to represent Augsburg College at the NCA Workshop at the University of Minnesota, June 14—August 9. He is also directing a workshop at Augsburg for the National Association of Teachers of Singing the last week of August. The workshop will be for teachers and advanced students of singing.

Professor W. D. Hershberger 27 of the University of California department of engineering has been elected a Fellow in the Institute of Radio Engineers, a national organization composed of outstanding men in the electronics field. The award was conferred on Hershberger at the annual convention of the IRE at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, March 24, 1954. Mrs. Hershberger (Mary Martin 29) traveled to New York with her husband. In Washington, D.C., the Hershbergers visited their daughter Betty Ann who is employed by the Friends' Committee on National Legislation, Research and Assistant Editor of FCNL Newsletter.

Nelson Litwiller 25 (Ada Ramseyer sp34) of Buenos Aires, Argentina, spent the first two weeks in May in the Argentine Chaco giving assistance to the missionaries there in planning their building and linguistic programs. He reports that Dr. and Mrs. William D. Reyburn are doing very good work in helping the missionaries put the Toba language into writing and in better understanding Toba customs.

M. C. Vogt 27 and family en route home from India for furlough spent the first week in June with the relief unit in Jordan and then went to Basel, Switzerland, and Amsterdam, The Netherlands, to visit the relief and mission program in Europe. The Vogts plan to leave Europe on July 9.

Clara W. Burkhart x28 was married on November 28, 1953, to Virgil Carl Haner of Springfield, Ohio. The Haners live in Denver, Colorado.

"Returned from India in January. Am attending GC Biblical Seminary second semester; Gordon 19, returned to U.S. in 1952, serving in I-W in Ann Arbor; Verda 17 in high school in Hesston; Susan 10 in fifth grade in Hawthorne School, Elkhart."—Wilbur 30 and Velma Lapp 32 Hostetler.

Junior Alumni:

Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Paul R. and Mary Kauffman x28 Clemens, Lansdale, Pennsylvania, on April 24.

Paul Konrad, son of Jacob 32 and Mary Hilda Byler a29 Sudermann, September 23, 1953.

1933—1943

"We are now living in our new parsonage close to our work which is coming along slow but sure. God is good to us and our prayer is that we may be worthy of His goodness to us. Our son is a year old."—Lowell Troyer 36, Mio, Michigan.

Gertrude Mininger 41 has been teaching in the Christian Day School at Hatfield, Pennsylvania. She is elementary principal and has been teaching first grade.

Welcome to:

Deborah Elaine, daughter of L. Eugene and Lola Schertz 41 Basinger, born April 29 at Columbus Grove, Ohio.

Beth Anne, daughter of Clayton x43 and Elsie Eash 41 Sutter, born April 11 at Eureka, Illinois.

1944—1949

Clayton Beyler 43 received the Th.M. degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky, on May 20.

Assuming the duties of resident physician at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, Michigan, on July 1 will be Dr. Fred Swartzendruber 44.

Don 45 and Dorothy Snapp 44 McCammon write from Tokyo, "Our job ahead is big and hard and endless. The group with whom we are to work will be an ever-changing one, as students come and go. Many of them are on their first trip to the city, and perhaps not welcoming any interest in themselves. The majority of students are self-styled intellectuals and want things proved to them." The McCammons will be in charge of a mission business office in Tokyo and work with students and others who come from Hokkaido to the city.

We Tried to Stay, by Dorothy Snapp 44 McCammon, is to be run as a serial in the Mennonite Weekly Review. The "Saturday Review of Literature" earlier listed it as among the best biography and autobiography selections for 1953.

Esther Swartzendruber x46 has accepted an appointment under the Mennonite Central Committee to serve in the Mennonite hospital at Cuauhtemoc, Mexico.

Teaching at the State Teachers' College, Wayne, Nebraska, is D. Paul Miller 47. He has three children—Brenda, five, Dicky, four, and Donald, ten months.

J. Otis Yoder B.A.47 and his wife (Isabelle King x39) who have been serving at the Mennonite Home Mission, Chicago, Illinois, since the fall of 1952, will conclude their ministry on June 6 and return to Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, Virginia, where Rev. Yoder serves on the faculty. He received the Th.D. Degree from Northern Baptist Seminary.

The Rev. A. R. Thompson pt48-52 is pastor of the Cloverly Heights Church of God in Elkhart, Indiana. The Rev. and Mrs. Thompson with their two sons, Terry, ten, and Allen, seven, live in the church parsonage at 1017 South 19th Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Horst 49 have moved to Elkhart. Mr. Horst is the newly appointed Director of Voluntary Service for the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Their temporary residence is 605 Carlton Avenue until Mr. and Mrs. Levi Hartzler 35 move into their remodeled home. After that the Horsts will move to 1723 Frances Avenue.

Martha Kanagy 49, is completing her Spanish language studies at the University of Puerto Rico by taking summer school courses. She has been assisting at the boys' home, El Hogar del Nino, in Rio Piedras during April and May. She has spent the time since last November studying in the Spanish language and orientation institute at La Plata, Puerto Rico. By August she expects to begin teaching at the Bethany Mennonite School, Pulguillas.

"The forepart of July I shall end my service at the Mennonite Board of Missions where I've been employed as cashier and receptionist the past (almost) four years. In September I shall begin my new duties at the Bethany Christian High School in a threefold way: (1) Instructor in English (2) Librarian (3) Secretary to the Principal. At present I'm enrolled as a part-time student at GC, trying to get eight hours of credit before September for a library permit. During July and August I plan to attempt completion of the Roth Genealogy on which I've been working the past four years."—Ruth C. Roth 48.

John A. Hostetler 49, who has spent the past year in Europe under a Fulbright Scholarship, has been appointed Book Editor for the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pennsylvania. Helen Trumbo ex45 will replace Betty Weber ex45 Springer as editor of the Publishing House children's paper, Beams of Light, beginning January, 1955.

Working as a visiting nurse, Victorian Order of Nurses, Kitchener, and caring for her mother who is now nearly blind is Edna Hunsperger 49.

Ellen Miller 49 reports that she will do graduate study at the University of Denver next year. In her absence from the Hesston College faculty Arnold Dietzel 44 will be business education instructor. Plans have been made for business courses on the college level beginning with the school year 1955—56.

"Although we have said little, we have appreciated much the Alumni Bulletin. Keep up the good work! For the past three years we have been living at Mennonite Youth Village near Union, Michigan. In the winter Mervin teaches at the Osolo Township school and in the summer is camp director of the Village. However, this summer we plan to be at Indiana University where Mervin will be taking further work on his elementary principal's license. Jonathan, who was two in January, provides me with an enjoyable, full-time teaching position at home."—Mervin A. 48 and Phoebe Hollopeter 49 Yoder.

Bernadette Hower pt49 writes that she continues to enjoy her work in the office of the United Missionary Church headquarters. She is bookkeeper and secretary to Kenneth Geiger, district superintendent of the Indiana Conference of the United Missionary Church and to Richard Reilly, general secretary of the United Missionary Society, the foreign mission department of the church.

Carl 56 and Doris Gunden 49 Metzler are acting as leader and matron of the service unit working among the Navaho migrants at Grants, New Mexico. They will serve there for the summer while Marion 49 and Lola Eloise Miller x49 Bontrager attend Indiana University.

Recent additions:

Recent arrivals:

Frederic Lynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar 50 Clemens, born April 30 at Belleville, Pennsylvania.

Terry Lynn, son of Maynard and Mildred Albrecht pt50 Rheinheimer, born April 23 at Pigeon, Michigan.

Jill Katherine, daughter of Mahlon x50 and Dorothea Nafziger Springer, born May 17 at Hopedale, Illinois.

Bonita Faye, daughter of Lester x51 and Lydia Diener 50 Weber, born February 24 at Lyndhurst, Virginia.

Receiving the degree Th.M. from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary on May 20 was Chester A. Raber 50.

Elno 50 and Mabel Smeltzer x49 Steiner report, "Our two boys, Charles, five, and David, two, are growing fast. In July we are planning to take our two-year-old who has a congenital heart condition to the Riley Hospital in Indianapolis for observation and possible surgery. We have been thankful for David's steady, but comparatively slow growth."

C. Nelson Hostetter 50 has purchased the Troyer-Lynn funeral home in West Liberty, Ohio. Mrs. Hostetter is the former Esther Miller of West Liberty. The Hostetters have one daughter, Kaye Nadine. Mr. Hostetter will continue to operate the firm under the name of Troyer-Lynn. Mr. Hostetter was formerly associated with the Culp Funeral Home in Goshen. He is a graduate of Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science, and a member of Pi Sigma Epsilon.

This summer's schedule for J. Frederick Erb 50 includes being commencement speaker at Iowa Mennonite School May 18, attending Mission Board June 17-20, directing a youth retreat at Rocky Mountain Camp August 2-7 and directing the senior high camp at Little Eden July 17-24.

The newly organized congregation at Guavate, Puerto Rico, celebrated their first communion and baptismal service on Sunday, May 30. Paul Lauver 44, their pastor, was assisted by John Driver 50, La Plata. At this time twenty-two persons were baptized. The testimonies given by this Christian group was highly inspirational to all present. Interested persons from La Plata, Rabanal, and Cayey gathered together for this afternoon of spiritual fellowship with Guavate people. This is the sixth organized group of Christians in our Puerto Rican Church.

Mervin Swartzentruber 50 leader of the Plymouth, Michigan, unit, has been devoting a considerable amount of time to the investigating and reviewing of audio-visual educational devices for use in the I-W program.

September will begin the third year in nurses' training for Susan E. Esh x51, at Lancaster General Hospital. "Although I enjoy my work the Christian atmosphere at Goshen is greatly missed," she writes.

Helen Dietzel x51 plans to continue working on the general staff of the University of Iowa Hospital. She spends her spare time taking Bible Doctrine by correspondence from GC to finish her B.S. in nursing degree requirements.

Carl A. Zehr x51 is doing his I-W work in the laboratory of the Evanston Hospital Association.

People will not look forward to posterity who never look backward to their ancestors.—Edmund Burke

Elkhart Institute—Goshen College, 1894-1954

A review of these 60 years of the great experiment in Christian education at Elkhart and Goshen leads one to exclaim, "What hath God wrought!" Standing at this vantage point and looking back over six decades it is easy to see mistakes in planning, errors in judgment, failures in brotherly co-operation.

But an examination of the records shows that these are not the major elements in the story. They are outweighed by the tremendous effort, the tireless energy, the noble idealism, the consistent devotion to the church and her Lord, the selfless outpouring of life itself for extending the kingdom of God through educating and training young people for Christian service.

The history of Goshen College is more than an absorbing story. It is a noble epic charting the rise of a Christian German peasant group that once sought to isolate itself from the influence of an unfriendly world. It reveals a powerful spiritual dynamic thrusting them forward into wholehearted acceptance of their true role in a needy world. It shows them with a larger vision of the spiritual dignity and responsibility of Christian discipleship emerging into an appreciated segment of the broader Christian community.

The volume about to be published, in attempting to record the noble efforts of the men who beat out the pattern of Christian education as it has developed at Goshen College, presents the more significant events in the heroic struggle.

The publication price of the book will be $3.00. If you sign and return the order blank on the back page this interesting volume can be yours at the prepublication price of $2.50, postage paid in the United States.

Who does not look backward to the past with reverence cannot look forward with hope to the future.—Edmund Burke

Famous Last Words

When an old editor is about to "lay down his editorial pen" and to place his heavy editorial responsibilities upon "younger shoulders," it is, of course, the conventional pose for the eyes of his reading public to bug out, their mouths to fall agape, and their ears to be open to the last words of editorial wisdom which are born of his years of editorial experience. So, my dear friends, do not disappoint me! I can see you now, thousands of you, as your tear-stained eyes run over these lines—aghast at the sudden bolt out of the blue. But yes, you have guessed it! The truth is that this is my last issue of the NEWS-LETTER! I am about to pass into the editorial obscurity of a retired editor. In other words, I am about to become a "has been"!

You see, it's like this:

Just two years ago (thirteen issues ago—I am not superstitious!) I was asked to take over the work of the alumni office. In a weak moment I agreed to edit the NEWS-LETTER until the right man could be found.

That first year was tough. On the one hand there was the lure of Milton, and Shakespeare, and Homer, and Dante! There was the call of wide-eyed, eager Sophomores, waiting for the honeyed words to fall from the lips of the professor-orator! But he, having spent the wee hours of the morning thinking up some hair-brained editorial for the NEWS-LETTER, or planning strategy with the administration on how to shake down the Alumni for a few more dollars, did not come through. It became increasingly evident that the wide-eyed Sophomores became sleepy-eyed and the "honeyed" words were "all ashes to the taste." The sublimity of Milton and the profundity of Shakespeare and Homer and Dante when filtered through the dry brain of a sleepy editor degenerated into "aimless, nameless drivel." (Frailty, thy name is man!)

To avoid becoming a complete schizophreniac, the services of Beth Centz were drafted for the second year. Beth (bless her heart!) did a good job for one school year! Then she got married.

And now to avoid becoming a complete schizophreniac I am passing this job on to my successor, Nelson Springer.

In a more serious vein, I have found the two years of editorial contact with the old grads rewarding. I have appreciated your letters, and comments, and encouragement. Perhaps the high point of my experience was the fiftieth anniversary celebrations, the contacts and history and experience gained in that enterprise.

The two years of work in this office have also brought me into closer contact with the work of administration than I have ever been before and have given me a concept of what our Alumni are doing. There is yet a good deal more that remains to be done.

With ever-growing numbers and loyalty, there is no reason why the Alumni Association of Goshen College cannot accomplish much for their Alma Mater. Your concern, and your prayers in this our mutual endeavor are deeply appreciated.

So, in those famous last editorial words of my predecessor, "Please be kind to my successor!"

P.S. Please do keep on sending in your checks. I am still on the pay roll!

Ninth President of Goshen College

The New President of Goshen College

With this issue of the News-Letter we introduce a new President of Goshen College. Paul Mininger, B.D., M.R.E., Ph.D., professor of Christian Education, was graduated from Goshen College in 1934, and in 1937 was employed by the college as instructor in Bible and education and has served as religious counselor of students most of the time since that office was created in 1937.

While not so well known in educational circles as his predecessor, President Mininger has long been a familiar figure in church-wide activities of the Mennonite Church. He was in charge of the North Goshen Church before his ordination as minister in 1938 and was ordained bishop in 1943. He served as moderator of the Mennonite General Conference from 1951 to 1953 and has been chairman of the Curriculum Committee of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education. He has been a member of the Executive Committee of the Indiana-Michigan Conference and of the Indiana-Michigan Christian Workers' Conference.

Dr. Mininger was a public school teacher in Kansas and Missouri before his graduation from college. Reared in Kansas City where his father was a city missionary, pastor, and evangelist, the new president attended Hesston College and Academy in Kansas before entering Goshen College in the fall of 1933.

A good deal of Dr. Mininger's academic training is pertinent to his new responsibilities. The subject of his M.R.E. thesis at Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1936 was "The Bible in Religious Education." During his residence at the University of Pennsylvania during the next few years he continued and extended his studies in education. He visited nineteen Protestant colleges in the North Central Association area examining their religious educational program. The results of his studies were submitted as his doctoral dissertation at the University of Pennsylvania in 1949 under the title, "Religious Programs in Selected Protestant Church-related Colleges."

Also during the second semester of this year he registered at Columbia University where he studied under Dr. Karl Bigelow, professor of higher education. He also visited college officials and administrators in a number of church-related institutions whose problems are similar to Goshen's.

Born in 1908 the new president is 46. He married Miss Mary Ellen Erb at Wellman, Iowa, in 1933. She is a graduate of Hesston College and of the La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing. President and Mrs. Mininger are the parents of three children, Grace Eleanor (Mrs. Herman Weaver), 19, a student in the local School of Nursing; John, 16, and James, 11. The family resides at 1624 South Eighth Street, one-half block north of the college.

A program committee consisting of Nelson Kauffman, Karl Massanari, and John Mosemann have arranged for the following series of programs in connection with the inauguration of the new president, following the Board meeting this fall.

Dean Kreider Returns for Conferences

At the request of President Mininger, Dean Carl Kreider was flown home from Japan for a series of conferences and interviews starting off the new administration. He completed the last leg of his 6,500-mile journey via Pan American and Trans-World Airlines on Monday, July 12, proceeding at once to Goshen, where a packed schedule of two week's duration awaited him.

As most Alumni know, Dr. Kreider is at the moment on leave from his duties as dean of Goshen College to be dean of the Liberal Arts College of International Christian University, an institution which he helped launch in 1952.

His experiences as a North Central Association coordinator, as dean both here and at ICU for the past ten years, and as acting president during President Miller's leave in 1950-51 made his help and counsel of great value.

Following his two-week visit here Kreider was flown back to his family and work in Tokyo. We at Goshen anticipate his return to us in one more year. He has sent the following message for the ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER:

Message from Dean Kreider

It seems almost impossible to think that I have been away from Goshen College for over two years. Leaving the campus in February of 1952 was one of the most difficult things I ever did, but I was strengthened by the thought that I had been called by God to perform a special task which by reason of my training and experience I was uniquely qualified to perform. Now that I am in the midst of this work I have a lively awareness of its significance but I am also conscious that it could not have been done in less than the three years' time I had allotted to it.

President Mininger and Dean Kreider confer on Plans for the New Administration

If a nation was ever in a state of change and transition, Japan is today. Politically Japan has moved from militarism through a period of occupation by an alien power to democracy. Religiously Japan has moved from somewhat grudging toleration of Christianity to a renewed awareness of the inadequacies of its conventional religious patterns and a genuine interest in Christianity. Educationally the academic program of Japan has changed from a reliance upon the acquisition of specialized knowledge and philosophy. In this setting the developing program of the College of Liberal Arts of International Christian University may have a profound influence upon the development of a Christian philosophy of higher education for Japan. I feel that I must stay until the first phase of that development at ICU is complete. This will be not earlier than the spring of 1955.

During the period of my absence from Goshen College a new president has been elected. I consider it a great privilege to have served for nearly twelve years under President Miller's leadership. For nearly eight of those years I was dean of the college and was intimately acquainted with him. I shall always admire his administrative skill and his spiritual leadership. It is a profound disappointment to me that his health prevents him from continuing this work. I am convinced, however, that he will continue to serve his Master in the years which lie ahead.

Our new president is well know by the students, faculty, Alumni, and constituency of Goshen College. I have known him personally for twenty years, first as a fellow student at Goshen College and more recently as a teaching colleague and administrative associate. He has broad interests academically. In my wide acquaintance with presidents of liberal arts colleges through my work in the North Central Association I have met but few men who have the broad basic qualifications for the position which our new president possesses. A graduate of a liberal arts college, he has also studied at two theological seminaries and has an earned doctorate in philosophy from one of America's outstanding graduate schools. He has visited the campuses of a substantial number of outstanding liberal arts colleges in the Midwest. He has long experience as a teacher and administrative officer at Goshen College. I am happy that the Board has chosen one of our own faculty members as the new president. I plan to give him my full support as dean.

In the years that lie ahead the Alumni, other members of the constituency, the faculty, and the student body of Goshen College should give full support to the administration of Dr. Mininger. If we are all united Goshen College can continue its fine progress on the foundation already so firmly laid by those who have given of their best to our institution in its sixty years of history.

Faculty Changes for the Year 1954-55

The year opens at Goshen with five new faculty members, and with three old ones returning after leaves.

Margaret Meyer comes to us directly from her graduate studies at Indiana University, to help out in the English Department. Graduated from Goshen with an English major in 1951, she has since acquired a Master's degree in Comparative Literature and taught a year in public school in Orrville, Ohio.

Harold Schultz graduated from Goshen in 1952. Since then he has taken graduate work at the University of Michigan, where he has also acquired a Master's degree. He comes to us for a year, in the absence of Willard H. Smith, who is absent on sabbatical leave.

Chester Raber, who gained the B.A. degree at Goshen in 1950 and the B.D. in 1953, has for the past year been a student at Southern Baptist, where he is a candidate for the Th.M. He takes over the office of Religious Counsellor, formerly occupied by President Mininger, and teaches courses in Religious Education.

Walter Oswald comes to us from Hesston. In addition to his primary assignment in the archives in the Mennonite Historical Library, he will teach several courses in social science during the absence of J. Howard Kauffman.

Margaret Brubacher holds the B.S. in Nursing from Goshen, 1953. Since her graduation she has taken advanced work at the University of Chicago. She comes to help in our growing School of Nursing.

Leroy Kennel is coming to Goshen as an assistant in Public Relations. He will also teach a course in Basic Communication and help out with the sophomore clinic. Mr. Kennel graduated from Goshen in 1951. Then after getting a Master's degree in Speech he returned to get the B.D. degree in 1953.

Faculty members returning after leave are Dr. Alta Schrock, after three years' relief work in Europe; Dr. Glen Miller, after one year's sabbatical; and Anna Mae Charles, after a year of graduate study at Indiana University. Actually Miss Charles' credits were transferred to Western Reserve, from which institution she acquired her Master of Science degree.

Persons teaching for the year on a part-time basis are: James C. Snyder, Economics; R. A. Brinklow, Symphonic Instruments; Jesse Yoder, Public Speaking; Harold Bechtel, Teacher Education courses, Marvin Nafziger, Seminary; Lester Culp, Agriculture courses; Pauline Fisher, Teaching of English.

Faculty leaves are as follows: Dr. and Mrs. Willard H. Smith are on sabbatical leave working for the MCC in Mexico. Howard Kauffman is granted leave for further study at the University of Chicago. Paul Miller is taking the year off to study at Southern Baptist Seminary. C. L. Graber is serving a year under the MCC in Paraguay, South America. Mabel Brunk is being granted a year's leave from the Nursing School for further training. Lawrence Burkholder continues his stay at Princeton, while Carl Kreider and Charles Burkhart remain at International Christian University in Japan. Dr. E. E. Miller (formerly president) is serving with the MCC for the next two years. Atlee Beechy will be gone the second semester to study at Ohio State University.

Lecture-Music Series

Dr. Melvin Gingerich, chairman of the Lecture-Music Committee for the year 1954-55, announces the following series for the year:

October 8—Dr. Frank Laubach, "The Apostle to the Illiterates"
    Subject: "Wake Up or Blow Up"
November 11—Cleveland Orchestra. George Szell, Conductor
November 26, 27—Arnold Maahs, Illustrated lecture: "India Today"
    (Two appearances to accommodate Homecoming visitors)
December 9—Dorothy Maynor, Famous Negro Soprano
February 10—Connie Helmerick, Illustrated lecture on Alaska
January 17—Vienna Choir Boys
February 24—Trieste Trio, Chamber music group from Italy
March 17—Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine Ambassador to the United States
    Subject: "The Asia America Does Not Know"
March 31—The Augustana Choir. Seventy-voice choir from Augustana College

The speakers and artists are certainly all the comment that is needed upon the quality of the series.

Time will be as usual—8:15. Outlets for tickets will be the College Business Office along with the usual outlets downtown and in Elkhart. If you are within driving distance, you will want to take in some of these!

Enrollment Prospects

As we go to press, prospects for the new school year indicate about the same enrollment totals as a year ago, about 575 full-time students. Part-time students will probably add at least 150 more. For the first time in four years, men in the freshman class will be up to the women in numbers, with a total of about 175 freshmen. Sophomore, junior, and senior class women will outnumber the men. Graduate seminary students will be nearly all men. In the total numbers women will exceed men by about 25.

Leus Fidel Mercado 49 left the Baptist Academy, Barranquitas, Puerto Rico, to accept an urgent call as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Caguas.

Brother P. J. Malagar 49 has been contacting the churches in the M.P., India, for their half of the funds to build a church at Kanker, the new station opened by the Malagars several years ago. The other half of the funds are to come from our American churches through the General Mission Board.

Arthur Smucker 49, who teaches Chemistry at Goshen College, spent the summer at Indianapolis doing research on insulin for Eli Lilly and Company. While there he stayed at the I-W Center.

Ruth Lederach 49 is the new editor of the Christian Nurse, official organ of the Mennonite Nurses' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bontrager 49 (Lola Miller x49) announce the birth of a daughter, Jolene Kay, on April 14.

"In 1950-51 I have been a member of the freshman class. Goshen College is a constantly changing and a rapidly growing family; yes, it is a 'family.' I have felt at home in this family, even more than at any university in my home country. But this year 'our' class will leave the Goshen College family and this is why I write to you.

"To all of you, my classmates, I send my best wishes for your graduation and for your future life. To all the teachers I express my appreciation and gratefulness for their service at the college, and to all other students—who might not know me, but who have all had contact with other foreign students on the campus—I want to say: we are glad that you have considered us as a member of your family, though different we might have been in some ways. We have learned a great deal by living with you. To all of you we owe thanks.

"I would like to write a personal letter to each one of the teachers and students I have known, if it were possible. Often I think of you. . . . After my return from the States in fall 1951 I studied at the University of Heidelberg until 1953. Since this time I have been studying at the University of Freiburg in Breisgau. My subjects are German, English, Latin, and as 'extracurriculars' theology and philosophy. But though I can consider myself as a senior of Goshen College, I am far from graduating! (Is it because at the university we may skip classes whenever we feel like it?) It will take me about two more years to finish. Then I hope to be employed as a teacher in secondary education.

"It has been good to receive your letters all the time since I left Goshen, and still better have been the visits of some of you, either on the World Conference at Basel in 1952 or during your relief work or during your stay at some European university. Whenever someone of you happens to come to Germany, be sure to stop at Freiburg or at my home town Tauberbischofsheim. We still belong to one family, the large Alumni family of Goshen College."—Lore Rittmayer x54.

Alice Reschly 50 will be teaching English at Hesston this coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Amstutz x50 (Lois Blosser 48) are moving to Hesston, Kansas, where Mr. Amstutz will be teaching courses in agriculture at Hesston College.

Mrs. Alfred Boese (Lena Borntrager x50) of Bloomfield, Montana, was married on June 24. After her return from the student tour in 1952 and eight months' PAX service as matron at Luebeck, Germany, she taught school one year before her marriage.

Edgar Metzler 51 has accepted the position as Associate Secretary of the NSBRO at Washington, D.C.

Eugene Carper 51, formerly pastor of the Canton Church of the Brethren, has been appointed administrative director of a Brethren service project in Castaner, Puerto Rico. Mr. Carper left for his new duties in Puerto Rico in August.

On July 30 a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Don Snapp 51 of La Junta, Colorado. On August 15 a daughter, Jennifer, was born to Robert 51 and Jean (Carper 52) Miller of Kudus, Dvawa T., Indonesia.

Arlene Grieser 52 continues her services at the La Junta Mennonite Hospital. At present she is night supervisor.

Peter Dyck 52, pastor of the Eden Mennonite Church, Moundridge, Kansas, is scheduled to be the speaker for Christian Life Week at Bluffton this coming March.

Klause Feine x52 writes from Jamburg, Germany, to express his appreciation for Goshen College and the NEWS-LETTER. Mrs. Feine, he says, is working as a nurse in one of the large hospitals of that city, while Klause is employed part time with a travel agency "to get the money for my final examination." The Feines are the parents of a son, one and one-half years old.

Ben Hess x52 has accepted a position as teacher of history at the Christopher Dock School at Souderton, Pennsylvania.

Velma Frey 52 of Archbold, Ohio, has joined the Voluntary Service program as crafts instructor for VS and I-W units.

Samuel Stover 52 has just completed a term of service for the MCC in Jordan. "I am glad to see progress (at Goshen) because it also indicates progress in education of more Christian workers, and if Jordan is an example the world will never get an excess of workers in the name of Christ."

Mrs. Robert Hershberger (Beth Centz 52), who left this office in June, drops us a card from Chicago to inform us that she has a job in the American Medical Association preparing material for the Journal.

Mahlon Stoltfus 52 and family moved from their former location at Fortuna Ledge up river to Russian Mission, Alaska, on July 29. Mr. Stoltzfus during the summer completed a hazardous plane trip with another missionary from Seattle, Washington, to Alaska.

Vera Good 52 completed her work for the M.A. degree in Elementary Education at Northwestern University in July. She has accepted a position of Principal of Queens Court Elementary School in suburban Toronto beginning in September. Queens Court is a six-room school with grades from kindergarten through grade eight.

Mr. and Mrs. William Klassen 52 (Marilyn Horst 53) are living at Pennington, New Jersey, where Mrs. Klassen will be teaching grade five in the Pennington School while Mr. Klassen attends Seminary at Princeton.

A second child, Darlene Joy, was born on July 9, 1954, to Hiram and Betty (Shue x52) Strickler of Mt. Joy, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zeiset x53 are in I-W service at Mont Alto State Sanitarium, South Mountain, Pennsylvania. At the end of their service in December Mr. Zeiset plans to continue his work as an electrician.

Kathryn Gregory 53 of Brutus, Michigan, continues her teaching of the fourth grade of the Boyne City Public School.

Norma Jean Weldy RN 54 won honorable mention for the high score she made in the State Board examinations last spring. Miss Weldy is assisting in Nursing Arts instruction and in teaching medical and surgical nursing at La Junta School of Nursing.

Jeffrey Dale was born to Gilda Krater x54 and Loren Dale Nafziger on June 27, 1954. Jeffrey has one sister, Jonna Lou, nineteen months old.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Gingerich, Lowville, New York, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marie 49, to Howard Snider 54 of Guernsey, Saskatchewan.

Joe Alderfer x55 was elected chairman of the voluntary service council for the hospital in La Junta, Colorado.

Among the recent PAX boys to help pioneer a new work in connection with the LeTourneau Industrial Missionary Project in Peru, South America, are the following members of the Alumni family Willard Ebersole 54, Paul Fry 54, Carl Hooley x57, William Nofziger x55.

On July 6 a large number of PAX boys sailed to Europe on the Groote Beere. Among them were the Goshen College Alumni: Vernice Bixler 57, Richard Graber x55, Paul Hershberger x56, Charles Miller 54, John Jacob Sudermann x56, Myron Yoder x56. LaMar Kopp 52 is also in PAX work in Europe having sailed several months previous.

"As pastor of the church we have had many satisfying experiences. It has been possible for us to put in full-time service. We are happy for this opportunity. Occasionally we have opportunity for free radio work over both stations in the city and for various contacts in the city. Our church has been assisting in union services for Good Friday and other union activities where we can benefit as well as help by cooperation. For this year I am chairman of the Evangelical Ministers' Fellowship in the city. We sponsor a monthly singspiration and Youth for Christ and a quarterly fellowship supper among the ministers. Helen enjoys opportunities for writing and still does a good job on mothering Don Virgil and Lois Ann." —Virgil J. Brenneman 51.

Joyce Eigsti 53 is working as a staff nurse at Presbyterian Hospital, Denver, Colorado.

The degree bachelor of divinity has been awarded to Milton Harder Ad Theo 53 by Mennonite Biblical Seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Habegger 53 have begun work among migrants in Arizona.

Gladys Alderfer 53 will be in charge of nursing services under the VS program at Mathis, Texas, replacing Lela Sutter 48.

Richard 52 and Helen King x51 Hostetler write, "We have been here at Dillonvale now since last June and are enjoying mission work very much. It is a real challenge as one sees the conditions that exist in a mining community. I shall always be grateful to Goshen College for her help in preparation for Christian service."

Esther Beyeler x52 is working as a nurse at Mount Sinai Hospital, Cleveland.

Since recovery from the illness which forced him to leave medical school last fall, David Hurst 52 has been employed with a horticultural concern which specializes in the growing and wholesale selling of topical plants. LaVina 51 has been teaching in the Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, public school system. She is also doing some special study and research under the direction of Dr. Emmett Betts of the Temple University Reading Clinic.

Thelma E. Goetz x52 is doing general duty nursing at Goshen Hospital.

"This summer I will be traveling with the student group which will tour Europe and spend four weeks in work camp," Kathryn M. Slaubaugh x52 reports.

"I am finishing my seminary year at Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary this week. Susan (Herr 52) will continue teaching a few weeks at the Hillcrest School in Upper Darby Township. In June, we plan to attend the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities meeting in Oregon where we will be appointed for service in Brazil. The next few months we will be busy getting prepared for the trip southward."—Richard Burkholder 52.

Mrs. Earl S. Dudley 52 reports that she will be taking a year's leave of absence from teaching after 16 years of service.

Since returning to Puerto Rico last November Marjorie Shantz x52 has been living with Dr. Earl Stover x41 and his family in Cidra, four miles from the church in Rabanal where she is doing evangelistic and medical work.

Herbert C. Wenger 52 of 217 West Broad Street, Telford, Pennsylvania, has accepted a position in medical research in the West Point, Pennsylvania, plant of Sharp and Dohme. He is experimenting with the effects of various new drugs on animals.

Mahlon Amstutz 52, who has served 20 months in the PAX program in Europe, has been elected presiding chairman of an International Institute in UNESCO headquarters near Munich, Germany. He was elected by a group of youth leaders from 15 nations who met to encourage young people from various countries to work together and to learn to understand each other. Members of the conference, which met April 10-25, worked together in a community development project in the mornings, were invited into German homes for dinner, and met for study and discussion in the afternoons and evenings.

Mrs. Paul Herr 52 reports that her husband "finds his medical practice full of interesting and challenging cases . . . and his two boys full of BOY. Life in general is that of the typical Christian general practitioner."

Paul Verghese 52 writes from Princeton, New Jersey, "As the time draws near for me to leave this country, the memory of Goshen and the many friends I have in Goshen becomes more and more precious to me. I wish I could come back and see you all once again before I leave. Goshen will always continue to be very dear to me all through my life, for the two years I spent there have been years of rich blessing and fellowship—fellowship such as we here at Princeton with 450 ministerial candidates and 200 ministers' wives (prospective) daily yearn for. People are so lonesome here—almost as lonesome as people are in the secular world outside. I must say that Goshen is really outstanding in regard to Christian fellowship on a college campus.

"I will be graduating from seminary with a B.D. degree on June 8, and will be leaving Princton the next day. I sail for England from Quebec on June 12, and will be traveling in Europe and Palestine for some time, reaching home by August 15. I have not planned to make any decision as to what I would be doing when I get home, until I really reach home and see how things are there. My address will be Hill Palace Road, Tripunithura, Travancore—Cochin, India."

Ellis Gerber 52, a missionary in the African Congo under the Congo Inland Mission has recently contracted patitis, a combination of jaundice and malaria. He is recovering satisfactorily, but will require a year to convalesce.

Isabel Wetzel 52, who had been a teacher at the Model school west of Goshen since 1946, died at Parkview Memorial Hospital, Fort Wayne, on February 18. She had been admitted to the hospital February 15 for cranial surgery. She is survived by her husband Miles, a son John and a daughter Jane (Mrs. Stephen Penn of Menlo Park, California). John recently graduated from Purdue University receiving the bachelor of science degree with distinction. He has been granted a teaching assistantship at Leland Stanford University and will study for a master's degree in mathematics there.

Esther Bixler 53 Heatwole writes, "Graduation here at La Junta just over-a very busy time here with a family (a son four and a half months) to care for, guests and working part-time. I relieved one of the doctor's office nurses for two weeks and will be going back to nursing this summer."

John Drescher BD54 was ordained to the ministry at Crown Hill Church, Rittman, Ohio, on May 2.

Norma Jean Weldy 54 has been appointed to the faculty of the La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing. Present plans call for her to teach part time and work in nursing service the remainder of the time.

"My first year of teaching was very successful as well as a great learning process. Many times during the year I thought of my training at Goshen and was reminded again and again what a great privilege and opportunity it was to have such good training under Christian teachers. Thanks again for all you did for me."—Ethel Henry 53.

Class of '44 Members Write

From Illinois

Ten years ago to most of you meant graduating from G.C., but to me it was the graduation of two years of teaching the eight grades at Farmerstown, Ohio. . . . . April 30 will mark Paul Wade's and my tenth anniversary. . . . Paul was a D.H.I.A. tester in Lancaster, Pennsylvania (under CPS), at the time of our marriage. When he obtained his release two years later we had a five-month-old member in the family to bring along "Westward" (Carl LeRoy). . . . Our farm consists of 100 acres of land, milk 24 Holstein cows, and care for 170 baby pigs. . . . Mary Kathryn will be six in May . . . Dean Edward, nearly 18 months. . . . I'm counting on between 15 and 20 varieties of iris this spring. . . . Secretary of Literature for our sewing circle for the year.—Mary Helen Yoder Wade, Sterling, Illinois.

After leaving you all in 42 I went to help cook at the Youngstown, Ohio, YMCA summer camp for young boys. From there to Peoria, Illinois, where I worked for Dr. Sara Miller until the following March when I headed West and home for two years. . . . I came East to Peoria to pursue an old courtship with John. We were married in June of 45. . . . We have been blessed with four wiggling brown-eyed boys and one lively blue-eyed girl. . . . Jonne is a second grader. Timmy will be in first this fall. Lorena was five in March. Lewis is two May 1. Baby Jerry was our tax exemption deadline, arriving December 20. . . . We attend the Willow Springs Church near Tiskilwa, Illinois.—John and Lois Burck Detwiler, Buda, Illinois.

Married April 22, 1944, to Miss Arlene Reeb of Eureka, Illinois, and was serving in a CPS unit at Lincoln, Nebraska, at that time. . . . Released from CPS in January of 1946. Worked that year on a farm and moved to Eureka, Illinois, in the fall of 1946. . . . Employed by the Ulrich Manufacturing Company in Roanoke, Illinois . . . now working in the capacity of assistant to the Sales manager. . . . Ronald Eugene, seven June 12, and Robert David, two years old June 15. . . . Serving as assistant superintendent of an extension Sunday school of the Metamora, Illinois, congregation. . . . Member of the Schrock-Noe quartet which sings frequently over "The Gospel for Today," a radio program conducted by Howard J. Zehr at Fisher, Illinois.—Willard Schrock, Eureka, Illinois.

I left Goshen in 1944 with the idea of securing employment in accounting field, probably in Chicago. . . . Just before I was ready to leave . . . principal of my home high school approached me with the idea of teaching for him on an emergency certificate. . . . To renew my emergency certificate each year, I had to earn college credit. . . . Five consecutive summers I attended Illinois State Normal University. . . . The sixth summer I earned my credit from an educational tour on which I traveled 6,200 miles into the Northwest. After my seventh year at Cullom, I took off a year and went back to Normal where I was granted my Bachelor of Science in Education degree in 1952. . . . This year teach in Morton High School and I like it very much. I have classes in shorthand, typing, and general business. . . . Was planning to come to Goshen for commencement this year, but now I will be teaching Bible school here at Morton the first two weeks in June.—Velma Hirstein, Morton, Illinois.

I'm working as Purchasing Agent for the Ulrich Company here in Roanoke. We have two boys, Robert 3 and Jay 1.—Ivan R. Bachman, Roanoke, Illinois.

I do not have any children to tell you of, neither do I have a wife. I have not met up with fame. Less have I seen Miss Fortune, neither have I seen much of misfortune. . . . Been farming my father's farm with one of my older brothers, also a cattle feeder, at present time, to my joy or sorrow; only time will tell. I also raise some hogs. . . . Have 65 head. . . . The year of greatest experiences was 1947. That was the year in which I volunteered to enter into a tractor maintenance training program under MCC, by the request of UNRRA, to Poland . . . 25 of us in that group for six months. Poland being drawn under the iron curtain while we were there. . . . The presence of the Lord was keenly felt many times in our traveling in that war-torn country. . . . Also spent some weeks in northern Poland, one place only 3 to 4 kilometers from USSR . . . assembling binders . . . . Many still use the cradle and reaper.—Milo C. Albrecht, Morton, Illinois.

From Indiana

In 1946 I finished my training in Medical Technology and became a Registered Medical Technologist. For the next two years I was employed at the South Bend Medical Foundation. In December, 1947, I was married to John Robert Phillips Northage of Nottingham, England. When my husband had to return to England shortly after our marriage in order to get a permanent residence visa, I remained here, but joined him in August, 1948, and got a taste of foreign living and a chance to travel a little on the continent. We returned to the States in November, 1948, settling in South Bend. . . . Four children, Vicky, 5, Jean, 4, Johnny, 2½, Jennifer, 1. . . . Three years ago moved from South Bend to comfortable farm home two miles west of Elkhart. Fifteen acres.—Genevieve Troyer Northage, Elkhart, Indiana.

My wife was Evangeline Weaver and also took her training at Goshen College. Our oldest child, Durwood Brent, 11, Janalyce Kay, 10. . . . My wife's health had been rather poorly. . . . Two years ago she underwent extensive surgery under the capable surgeon Dr. Edward Mininger. . . . Thanks to Dr. Mininger and the good Lord . . . she now is able to take her part in the role of a minister's wife. . . . Nine years we served a church near Elkhart, Indiana. Last September we accepted a larger pastorate in South Bend, called the Second Church of the Brethren. —Rev. and Mrs. Charles Stouder, South Bend 16, Indiana.

During the second World War my husband, Donald, and I worked at the State Hospital for Mental Diseases, Howard, Rhode Island. . . . I am at present working part time for two physicians here in Elkhart. . . . Two children, Eric Stephen 6 and Valerie Jean 4. . . . Attend Belmont Mennonite Church here in Elkhart, and most of our social activities are in some way connected with church as we have quite a few young married couples. . . . Donald works as a mechanist at Elkhart Screw Products.—Elsie Jean Stone Yoder, Elkhart, Indiana.

After leaving Goshen I returned to my home near New Castle, Pennsylvania, and began teaching sewing classes at Singer Machine Company. . . . In the fall of '48, I returned to Goshen and started sewing, making my home and headquarters at the Mennonite Girls' Center. . . . On June 10, 1950, Leander Schroeder from Mountain Lake, Minnesota, and I were married. . . . Leander, teaching fourth grade at West Side School in Concord Township. . . . Living in New Paris, Indiana, where we have bought a home. . . . Two children—Susan, 3 years, Richard, 1 year old in May. —Bernice Detwiler Schroeder, New Paris, Indiana.

Richard Kent (Dick), eleven this fall, in the fifth grade. He has a Goshen College graduate, Alan Roth, for a teacher. Dick's main interests are science, basketball, and baseball. . . . Susan Jean 5, Steven Brent 2. . . . Phil has been working at Bendix Aviation Corporation at South Bend. He was in school at Curtiss-Wright Tech. in Glendale, California, when we were married. . . . Right now I'm working on our Mother-Daughter Banquet at church. . . . We go to the Evangelical United Brethren Church. . . . Phil is in his fourth year as Sunday-school superintendent. . . . I'm director of all the children's work in the church and in my second year as vice-president of our Women's Society for World Service.—Glennis Birkey Reidenbach, Bremen, Indiana.

In June, 1952, I took my Master's degree in Public Health Nursing at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, and I teach the course in Community Nursing at Goshen College now. I am still the city school nurse here in Goshen and besides my 2,500 school children I find time on the side to mother and father my three big young folks . . . Edward 17, 6ft. 3; Carolyn, about an inch taller than I; youngest, Dwight 13, 5ft. 10 in. and quite a basketball player. . . . Our county is one of the eight in Indiana taking part in the polio vaccine field trial. . . . When school closes I plan to be the nurse at our church camp for most of the summer.—Dorothy Nelson, Goshen, Indiana.

An outline of my ten years: Year one—Assistant to the Superintendent of the Hermaseal Company, Elkhart; two—Teacher (history) public school, Remington, Indiana; three—Ditto, Spencerville, Indiana; four—Ditto, also the year of doom (marriage; don't tell Jeannette I said that), Jeannette Rowell, class of '43; five—Ditto, Spencerville; six—Ditto; years seven, eight, nine, and ten—back to Goshen, Jeannette teaching at Nappanee while I have been working for my father, a heating contractor in Elkhart.—Bruce L. Martin, Goshen, Indiana.

From 1944 to 1946, I taught Spanish and English at Fremont, Indiana—sixty miles northeast of Goshen. . . . Summer of 1951, I came to Goshen and worked in the Library at the College and at the same time made plans to marry Ismael Gonzalez from Puerto Rico. . . . On August 17, 1951, we were married in Goshen. . . . In May, 1953, we left for Puerto Rico for the summer months. Here visited Ismael's folks and many friends. . . . We enjoyed helping in summer school work and in other church services. Back to the States in the middle of July . . . I found a new teaching position in Topeka, Indiana.—Beulah Litwiller Gonzalez, Goshen, Indiana.

From Kansas

The year following our graduation I continued on at Goshen until I received my Th.B. . . . Nine years ago this month bought my first car, a Model A Ford, which I used to make my exodus from Goshen College. That summer I spent in the rural mission near Culp, Arkansas, in a service unit. In August I was ordained and moved to Protection, Kansas, to assist in a small rural congregation there. . . . Eight years ago I was teaching about a dozen children in a rural school. I also began making plans to end my bachelorhood, which I did in October of that year. Lois Johns and I were married and began housekeeping in the country south of Protection. . . . Seven years ago in July we were asked to become principal of the church school near Culp, Arkansas, and also to pastor the congregation there. . . . Six years ago we were happily adjusted to our new community and church. . . . Five years ago . . . was asked to come to Kansas City to assume the responsibility of running the Mennonite Children's Home here. We moved in July and have been here since that time. . . . In Arkansas, Philip Gordon came to live with us. . . . Now five and going to kindergarten. . . . Sarah Jane, just past three. . . . If present plans work out I will graduate from the K.U. School of Social Work next June (1955).—Glen and Lois Johns Yoder, Kansas City, Kansas.

Teaching education at Hesston. . . . Granted a sabbatical for next year and will be studying at Teacher's College, Columbia University. . . . This summer, teaching in the Goshen College summer session. I have enjoyed the two summers' previous experience there. . . . Many positive changes will be seen at our dear Goshen College when the class meets for its tenth-year reunion. It is a strengthener to our faith to see how the idea of Christian education has spread throughout the Mennonite Church.—Melva G. Kauffman, Hesston, Kansas.

Future Goshenites

First child, Micheal Lewis, May 25, 1954, to Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Schrock of x54, in I-W service at the Evanston General Hospital, Chicago.

Carol Joyce, daughter of Kenneth 53 and June Marie Collins Weaver, born May 21 at Harrisonburg, Virginia.

Nursing School Graduation

The second annual graduation exercises of the Goshen College School of Nursing were held in the College Union on Friday evening, August 6. President Ernest E. Miller conferred the degree, Bachelor of Science in Nursing, on thirteen young women who are now entitled to take the State Board examination for the R.N. degree.

Granger Westberg, chaplain of the University Clinic of the University of Chicago, who gave the commencement address, congratulated the class on having graduated from a collegiate school of nursing where they obtain the broad foundation of a liberal arts course as well as nursing education. Dr. William A. Paff, chief of the Elkhart Hospital Medical Staff, in presenting the nursing pins to the class commended them for their work and attitude during the period of their clinical experience at the hospital.

Fred A. Lobley, chairman of the Elkhart Hospital Board, in a few closing remarks at the end of the program mentioned the advantage to a nurse of training in a church-related college where she learns the value of faith in the treatment of her patients. In introducing Mr. Lobley, Dr. Miller pointed out that it was Lobley's vision and industry that made the collegiate school of nursing possible at Goshen College. President Miller also announced for Mr. Walter Beardsley of Elkhart that the community drive for the new nursing school building had netted some one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. To Mr. C. L. Graber, chairman of the steering committee, goes much of the credit for the success of this endeavor.

Following the program there was a reception in the student lounge for the graduates, their friends, and community medical and hospital personnel.

Walter Beardsley of Elkhart turns over the records of the Community Drive to President Miller, while C. L. Graber, Chairman of the Steering Committee, looks on.

Book Reviews

The News-Letter is glad to call the attention of the Alumni to several recent publications of interest to the Goshen College constituency.

Life and Times of Daniel Kauffman by his daughter, Mrs. Alice K. Gingerich (Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pa.; 160 pages; $2.25), is indeed a human interest story of a former president of Goshen College and of a man of tremendous stature and influence in the Mennonite Church from the time of his conversion in 1890 until his death in 1944. It is a story of our late Brother Kauffman's public church life as a General Conference man and editor of her official organ, the Gospel Herald, as well as a story of fond recollections by a daughter who loved her father. From that impressive moment when Daniel Kauffman rose to his feet (his baby in his arms) upon the evangelistic invitation of J. S. Coffman in a small country church in Missouri, until the preaching of his last sermon at the West Union Church in Iowa, just four days before his death, he was a churchman. By conviction a Mennonite, by personal genius an organizer, by temperament charitable and even tempered, and through training and discipline a humble man, Daniel Kauffman for nearly fifty years served as the outstanding champion and spokesman of the church of his choice, holding together variant factions and striving for unity on what he considered both a prudent and a Scriptural platform.

Old Time Revival Again (Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pa.; 130 pages; $1.75) by T. K. Hershey x11 is a reprint of Old Time Revival published in 1937. This, in turn, was a book made up of a series of articles previously published in the Gospel Herald. It is composed of brief, pointed chapters in Brother Hershey's unique and clipped manner on the need for revival, the prerequisites for revival, and on well-known evangelists, both Mennonite and Bible characters. There is an added chapter by Ford Berg 45 on "Revival in Our Day," a treatment primarily of recent tent evangelism in Mennonite communities by Mennonite evangelists.

The methods of such leaders as Charles G. Finney, Jonathan Edwards, R. A. Torrey, and D. L. Moody are used to illustrate the material. But by some strange misadventure this reviewer failed to find the name of the most universally known contemporary evangelist, Billy Graham.

The Byler Family Celebrates

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Byler 06 (Amanda Troyer 04) celebrated their forty-sixth wedding anniversary on Thursday, July 12, at Shipshewana Lake. All of the Byler children and their families were able to return for the occasion except Robert x45, who is a missionary in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Among those present were the following members of the Alumni family: James Byler 43, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. David O. Byler 45 (Darlene Birky 44) of Chattanooga, Tennessee, where David is minister of music; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roth 43 (Carolyn Byler 45). Mr. Roth is President of Hesston College, Hesston, Kansas.

First Squalls

They say the doctor takes the newborn baby by the heels, holds it head down, and gives it a few slaps to make it cry and exercise its lungs. I feel somewhat as if I had been held by the heels and swatted, too, after this first attempt to bring out the Alumni News Letter. My tributes to those who have gone before for their untiring efforts to keep us informed about each other. At present I have no aspirations to go down in history as one of the longer-termed editors. But I must confess to the pleasure that has been mine as I have discovered the bits of news that I am sharing with you. The news is largely church-centered, and I feel that this is as it should be. We are a church-related college. Our students should go back to serve in the church. Since we draw most of our students from the Mennonite Church, most of the news reflects activity in the Mennonite Church. But we also draw students from other denominations, and we find them at work in their own denominations. If I were to characterize the emphasis which emerges from the personal items, it would be with the word "service."

Maple Leaf Is in Bud

The budding 1955 Maple Leaf is well nourished by enthusiasm, if one can judge from the spirit of the editor, Floyd Metz 56, Bergey, Pa. Floyd was in Goshen throughout the summer, and there were numerous hints that the Maple Leaf was always on his mind. He announces that the 1955 Maple Leaf will have an individual formal portrait of each student at Goshen College during the academic year 1954-55. Other features include professional sketches for the end sheets and architect's drawings of the seminary and school of nursing buildings.

The senior class had already been photographed by October first. Undergraduates were photographed within the next month. Individual snaps of each faculty member and administrative official will also be included. The staff is now working on plans to integrate these portraits with the rest of the book to give a well-balanced photographic portrayal of the "Spirit of Goshen College."

Floyd's staff includes Mary Lu Imhoff, Eureka, Ill., assistant editor; Glenn Stoltzfus, Aurora, Ohio, business manager; Doris Hostetler, Orrville, Ohio, advertising manager; James Millen, Quakertown, Pa., and James Gingerich, Lowville, N.Y., photographers.

Homecomers may place their orders at a booth that will be maintained in the Union Building lobby during Home-coming season. Other alumni may order copies by mail. The price is $3.50 per copy.

Work Drive Postponed

The student work drive, with a precedent in the work drive of 1921 which led to the building of the old gym and in a similar drive at Bluffton College in 1946, became an institution at Goshen College in 1947. Since that time students have worked to the tune of a total of $42,454.61. As the result of some lag in student interest last fall, the YPCA Service Committee polled the students last spring to guide them in plans for this fall. The poll assured them that there should be a work drive. Preliminary investigation in August and early September indicated an unpromising labor situation in the Goshen area. Rather than to undertake a drive with employment for only half of the students, the Service Committee, with faculty consent, called off the work drive scheduled for the first weekend in October. Instead, two days are being added to the Christmas recess for this project.

Home—coming Tradition Continues

1954 Home-coming holds its traditional spot on the Goshen College calendar with Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 25, and the day following devoted to home-coming activities. We go to press a bit too early to announce a detailed program, but S. A. Yoder 28, faculty chairman, Gene Caskey 56, and Shirley Metzler 56, student co-chairmen, of the planning committee promise the traditional features: worship service Thursday morning, Home-coming banquet Thursday noon, choral program Thursday evening, regular classes and chapel Friday morning alumni vs. varsity basketball games for men and women Friday afternoon, and an illustrated lecture, "India Today," by Arnold Maahs Friday evening. Alumni are urged to send reservations for the Home-coming banquet, addressing them to the Alumni Office. They should not send money with their reservations, but should claim their reservations and purchase tickets Thanksgiving morning after they arrive on the campus.

Inauguration Climaxes Christian Education Conference

The formal inauguration of Paul Mininger 34 as ninth president of Goshen College brought to a conclusion the series of Christian education meetings which convened on the campus Oct. 14-17. In recent years the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Education has brought representatives from Mennonite schools on the elementary and secondary levels as well as members of the Board and representatives from the two colleges and the academy which it controls. The business session of the Board took place Thursday, Oct. 14. On Friday and Saturday the General Education Council conducted sectional meetings in the interests of the councils of the Board. Saturday evening the faculty and administrative staff of Goshen College met with members of the Board and guests from sister schools in a dinner meeting. The inauguration service Sunday afternoon was followed by a reception and an evening dedicatory service.

Items of special interest to alumni from the report of the executive committee to the Board on Thursday are those relating to proposed buildings for the school of nursing. Originally, plans called for a building which would combine office, classroom and laboratory, and residence facilities for the school of nursing in one structure. With the acquisition of the Dierdorff property to the south of the campus, new possibilities for developing the campus have led to a decision to construct two buildings—one a nurses' dormitory, the other a nursing education building. The new dormitory will be placed on the present parking lot on Main Street opposite the library. Planned in such a way that it may be extended south for additional classrooms, the nursing education building will be located south and east of the present Science Hall, approximately where the quadrangle is now located. With construction scheduled to start in the spring of 1955, solicitation during the coming year will be directed toward costs of construction of these two buildings and the refurnishing of space now used by the school of nursing in the Science Hall.

"Christian witnessing through our schools" keynoted the meetings Friday and Saturday. Friday morning was devoted to the special concerns of the Elementary School, Collegiate, and Winter Bible School Councils. The elementary school group chose "Bible curriculum for Christian elementary schools" as its subject of discussion. In the collegiate group Lester Shank's report on the religious work survey led to a brief report on witnessing through student activities, staff services of the church, campus revival meetings, and training for missionary service. Winter Bible school discussion centered around solicitation of students and the possibilities for and function of such schools. Friday afternoon's sectional meetings were keyed to the problems of secondary schools, seminaries, and nursing schools. The secondary school group exchanged ideas on publicity, accreditation, opportunities for superior pupils, teacher exchange and administration. Good preaching, pastoral teaching, and spiritual fervor marked the discussion of the Seminary Council, while the Nursing Education Council sought opportunities for service through the ministry of healing in the work of nurses, technicians, and clerks. The Mennonite Teachers Association in Friday evening's business session approved a slate of nominees for officers and heard a report from C. F. Yake, educational agent of the Board. Ballots were mailed to the total membership for the election. All groups met together for Saturday morning's conference with its theme, "Strengthening the Christian witness of our schools." The Saturday evening dinner meeting gave opportunity for the Board and the faculty of Goshen College to fellowship together in an unusual way. Joining them in this fellowship were faculty members from sister schools. Social fellowship around the tables led to the sharing of concerns when Glenn Esh 42, a member of the Board, spoke to the faculty, and G. F. Hershberger, a member of the faculty, spoke to the Board.

A spirit of confidence and warm concern characterized the greetings which preceded the actual service of installation of Pres. Mininger Sunday afternoon. Carl Hostetler 34, president of the Alumni Association, represented alumni. Other groups bringing greetings included the student Y.P.C.A., the faculty of Goshen College, the community, Indiana Church-Related and Independent Colleges, Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges, Eastern Mennonite College, Hesston College and Bible School, and Mennonite General Conference. Nelson Kauffman, president of the Board, then installed Paul Mininger as the ninth president of Goshen College. For the theme of his inaugural address Pres. Mininger chose the motto of the college. After defining "culture" and "service" in the context of the concept of Christian education at Goshen College adopted by the faculty May 5, 1949, he outlined the specific problems of applying this motto to the various phases of the school's program. The address is being published in booklet form.

Among the special guests attending the inauguration were members of Pres. Mininger's family—his wife and children; his mother Mrs. Hettie Mininger and his sister Mrs. Maurice T. Brackbill of Harrisonburg, Va.; and his brother Edward x36 and family of Elkhart—J. E. Hartzler, S. C. Yoder, and Ernest E. Miller, former presidents of the college; and official representatives from Ball State Teachers College, Bethel College of Mishawaka, Ind., Bethel College of North Newton, Kans., Bluffton College, DePauw University, Eastern Mennonite College, Evansville College, Grace Theological Seminary and College of Winona Lake, Ind., Hesston College and Bible School, Huntington College, Indiana Central College, Indiana University, Manchester College, Marion College, Purdue University, Saint Joseph's College, and the State Department of Public Instruction. Miller Reports to the Board

Retiring president E. E. Miller's fourteenth annual report to the Mennonite Board of Education has a healthy ring of good progress made in the final year of his devoted service to the school. Statistically, there were a number of "highs": an all-time high in the full-time enrollment of women (314); an all-time high in summer school enrollment; an all-time high in the number of degrees granted (178); and an all-time high in the number of courses offered (310). Matriculation records show that 5,280 students matriculated at Elkhart Institute and Goshen College prior to 1938, while 5,380 matriculated in the years 1938-1954. A map showing the states from which last year's students came indicates 425 out of a total of 628 coming from Pa., Ohio, Ind., Ill., and Iowa.

One of the important achievements during the year was accreditation of our teacher education program by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. Prior to and paving the way for the visit of the inspection committee, the college undertook an exhaustive self-study of problems in this area. A similar self-study of our nursing school program began in the spring, continued during the summer, and is to be completed this fall, looking forward to accreditation by the National League for Nursing. Other smaller studies included a poll of forty upperclassmen regarding chapel services.

Some of the weak spots in our educational program come to light in these studies. The AACTE inspectors noted a lack of a follow-up program of graduates in a college guidance program "very much above the average." A survey of audio-visual materials in various departments emphasized the amount of these materials and at the same time the lack of organization and integration for maximum usefulness. When our seminary applied for associate membership in the American Association of Theological Schools, looking forward to full accreditation of our graduate seminary program, our library holdings in theology were criticized as too small for a graduate program. A special gift of $2,000 for purchases in this area has helped to correct this deficiency. This gift accounts, too, for accessions to the library 1000 volumes greater than in any one of the preceding four years. As another result of this move toward accreditation of the graduate seminary program, the faculty voted to discontinue the Th.B. degree. Students already in this mixed undergraduate-graduate program will be allowed to continue, but no new candidates will be admitted. The degree will be awarded for the last time in 1956.

The 1954 summer session took on a new character with the addition to the regular summer program of a graduate seminary summer session of two consecutive three-week terms. Thirty different persons enrolled. In addition to members of our own faculty, C. K. Lehman of Eastern Mennonite College, Don Smucker of Mennonite Biblical Seminary, and Erland Waltner of Bethel College participated in the program. New also to our college program, was a workshop for summer camp personnel at Mennonite Youth Village, White Pigeon, Mich.

Our choral groups followed tradition with spring tours. The A Cappella Chorus participated in a conjoint program with a chorus from Hesston College and Bible School at Iowa Mennonite School, Kalona, Iowa. The Motet Singers were featured on the lecture-music series of Freeman, S. Dak., Junior College.

The improvement and expansion of the physical plant which has characterized President Miller's term of service continued last year with the completion of Westlawn and its dedication June 5. The kitchen staff reports that it fed 425 students regularly in the college dining hall. With the completion of Westlawn came also the construction of a lounge to serve both Westlawn and Kulp Hall, and the construction of an education center for the elementary education department and a trunk storage room in the basement of Kulp Hall. Trailer row to the north of Coffman Hall moved to a new trailer park with a bath and laundry house and space for seventeen trailers east of the athletic field. Gift of the Percival Haines family in Elkhart, an observatory is rising adjacent to this trailer park. During the summer the maintenance crew busied themselves with more than the average number of repair projects. Among them were the reconstruction of the bathrooms in Kulp Hall and the reconstruction of the parapet and repair of the roof of Science Hall.

College grounds leaped to a new dimension with the purchase by the Mennonite Board of Education of the Dierdorff estate of 79.5 acres to the south of the campus. Glen R. Miller sold his property on South Ninth Street to the college, extending college property from North Hall to the college garages. Under the guidance of S. W. Witmer, Merle Jacobs, and Dale Swartzendruber, the college began an active campaign to develop as a college woods the entire plot east of the college cabin.

Financially, the college again benefited from several special campaigns. The students again undertook a work drive. Alumni donated $26,663.95 out of a total of $100,572.98 in donations to the college, aside from the local campaign for the nurses school building. This local campaign netted $150,000.00. The educational cost per student this past year was $476.000 as compared with $480.00 in the preceding year and $264.00 in 1940-41. Scholarships and grants amounted to 13% of student fees.

Alumni will be interested to know that the manuscript of John Umble's history of Goshen College is completed and in the hands of the printer. Those who have access to President Miller's report will want to read it in its entirety. They will also want to read the appended summarized report of the visiting committee of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, with its statements of strengths and weaknesses in our program.

Campus Crosses State Line

A bit more than ten years ago Joe Brunk x20 sensed the need of a recreational spot not too far distant from the campus and yet far enough away to make outings or camping trips seem like a genuine retreat from the familiar daily scene. He found such a place just across the state line and a few miles west of Mottville, Mich.—a tract of forty acres of rolling wooded land with rounded hill overlooking a thimble-sized lake. There he built a log cabin, big enough for groups of fifty or more people and equipped for smaller groups of campers at any time during the year. As he developed Camp Idlewild (popularly known as "Brunk's Cabin"), Joe announced that he was doing so partly for the use of Goshen College students and faculty as well as for his own family, and that eventually he would give it to the college. Friday, Oct. 22, Pres. Mininger announced that Joe had deeded the plot to the college.

1460 on the Dial

A hope of long standing, a radio voice for Goshen College, became a reality in unexpected measure when the management of Goshen's new 500-watt radio station WKAM offered the college one-half hour of free time daily Monday through Friday. The college broadcast its first program Friday morning, Oct. 15. The spot is 1460 on the dial at 8:00 to 8:30 a.m. The weekly schedule includes transcribed chapel services, recorded music, interviews with outstanding visitors to the campus, special news commentary, and announcements of college activities. A faculty committee with S. M. King s34 as chairman and LeRoy Kennel 53 as program director is in charge of planning the broadcasts.

Gingerich Attends World Council Assembly

Melvin Gingerich 26 and Paul Erb fac39-46 attended the Evanston Assembly of the World Council of Churches as official press representatives, Melvin for the Mennonite Weekly Review and Paul for the Gospel Herald. In his report to the Review, which appeared in the Sept. 9 issue, Melvin estimates that at least fifty Mennonites had tickets admitting them to one or more of the Plenary Sessions of the assembly. "The title Mennonite Weekly Review on my press badge," Melvin says, "brought interesting responses from many people. Among the many persons whom I met, only one did not know who the Mennonites were. He was a bishop from Cairo, Egypt. . . . The Church Peace Mission maintained an office at Evanston during the conference to make its peace literature available to the delegates. In the first week of the assembly the Christian Century ran John Howard Yoder's 47 article on 'Let Evanston Speak on War.' Free copies of this paper were handed to delegates. One of the most interesting experiences at Evanston was attending press conferences. Each afternoon leading personalities selected from the list of speakers and delegates were brought to Cahn auditorium where they were interviewed by the press. The reporters naturally asked very pointed questions concerning the views of these persons and concerning issues and tensions that had not been made public. Presiding over these sessions was Charles Taft, brother of the late Senator Taft. He was a powerful figure back of the scenes and was given credit for toning down one of the chief messages of the conference, thus making it more acceptable for American patriots. Especially tense were those press sessions when the men who had come from behind the Iron Curtain were interviewed. Among others Bishop Peter from Hungary and Professor Hromadka of Czechoslovakia were questioned. With few exceptions the press men gave them sympathetic hearings and wrote fair accounts of the interviews. . . ."

In The Church Abroad

Mahlon Stoltzfus 52 and family have recently moved from their former home at Fortuna Ledge, Alaska, up the Yukon River to a new location at Russian Mission, Alaska. They conducted their first religious services at Russian Mission on Sunday, Aug. 8, with five adults and seven children present. Although the crowd was small, it can be explained by the fact that many of the residents were away at a fish camp at this season. The local people have received the Stoltzfuses in a friendly fashion, supplying them with all the fish and blueberries they have been able to eat.

Ross 54 and Ruth pt54 Goldfus, missionaries under appointment to Argentina, arrived in La Plata, Puerto Rico, for language study, Aug. 31. Ross was ordained to the ministry at the Neffsville, Pa., Mennonite Church, with O. N. Johns x07, Canton, Ohio, in charge of the ordination. John H. Mosemann, president of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities and member of the college faculty preached the ordination sermon.

Nelson 25 and John 49 Litwiller recently spent some time among the Mennonite colonies in Paraguay in the interests of the Latin American Bible school. A keen interest is reported, and students are awaiting the probable opening of the school next March. Originally, it had been planned that the school should be established in Uruguay, but it is now planned to open it in Paraguay, with a move to Uruguay as a future possibility. At the time of dedication of the new Floresta Church, Buenos Aires, Argentina, Nelson Litwiller preached the dedication sermon, while Amos Swartzentruber led the act of dedication. The Swartzentrubers have been visiting throughout the Argentine Mennonite church, prior to their furlough time in November.

Peter 54 and Alice (Liechty) 47 Sawatzky and Richard 52 and Susan (Herr) 52 Burkholder, pioneer Mennonite missionaries to Brazil, left for the field Sept. 18. Peter was ordained to the ministry at the College Mennonite Church Aug. 1, with S. C. Yoder, president emeritus of the college and bishop of the congregation, in charge of the ordination. On the same day Richard was ordained at the Sunnyside Mennonite Church, Elkhart, Ind., with S. J. Hostetler 23, bishop of the congregation, in charge.

George R. Brunk, Denbigh, Va., winter Bible term instructor at the college, and the Mennonite Revival Singers of Uniontown, Ohio, have been holding meetings in England and Scotland. Singing with the octet is Joseph Overholt x50.

Walter Schlabach 44 and family have completed a term of medical missionary service in Ethiopia. Having returned to the homeland Aug. 27, they are living temporarily at Farmington, Del.

Authorization was given by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities executive committee at a recent meeting for the purchase of a house in Paris, France, for living quarters and a witnessing center, since suitable property for renting is not available. Orley 51 and Jane (Willey) 51 Swartzentruber are in charge of the work in Paris.

Alumni attending a meeting of the Mennonite Peace Committee in Frankfurt, Germany in August, included H. S. Bender 18, chairman of the committee; John Howard Yoder 47, MCC worker in France; David Shank 48, Orley Swartzentruber 49, and Clarence Fretz 38, Mennonite missionaries in Brussels, Paris, and Luxembourg, respectively. Bender also met with the Preparatory Commission which is planning for a Sixth Mennonite World Conference to be held at Thomashof, near Karlsruhe, Germany, in August, 1957.

Milton 53 and Geraldine (Gross) 48 Harder and son Robert, Butterfield, Minn., are en route to Enkenbach, Germany, where they will live until a new community center building in Kaiserslautern is completed. Milton is returning for a second term of MCC service in Europe, having served there from 1948 to 1951. The Harders will direct the Kaiserslautern community center which sponsors such activities as Bible classes and self-help projects and aids needy families. Milton will also work with European young people and assist D. Chauncey Kauffman in the MCC European program.

Jacob 49 and Arvilla (Miller) 50 Flisher took their oral and written exams in September, following their second year of language study. They planned to return immediately to the Dhamtari, India, area following the exams.

Weyburn Groff 44 reports a good beginning of the new year in the seminary at Yeotmal, India, with a total of fifty students. Some applicants had to be turned away because of a lack of space. Housing is urgently needed for students and for teachers. Weyburn observes that training Christian leaders among the Indian people would appear to be the wisest strategy in India evangelism today because of the nationalistic trend in the country.

In a mimeographed letter of Aug. 4, Marie Moyer 48 tells of her summer's work at Balodgahan, India. For the first time the India mission conducted a camp for boys and girls. "I enjoyed meeting with the thirty little girls every morning in a Bible class. There was also Scripture memorization, stories about great men and women, chorus time, crafts, and play time, all conducted by various Indian young people. In the evenings we gathered in a circle on the lawn and participated in a brief worship time conducted by Brother Groff (Weyburn Groff 44) of Yeotmal. . . . During my hill leave in Landour in the Himalayas this summer, I enjoyed singing the Messiah again. Other special features (included) the lectures by Howard Kuist of Biblical Seminary."

Florence Nafziger 45 describes nursing service at the Dhamtari, India, Christian Hospital: "The fourth year of the Dhamtari Christian Hospital Nursing School is now history. . . . They can now become state registered both as nurses and midwives. . . . All four girls are staying on with us for one more year. During this year we will teach them how to supervise a ward. They will take full responsibility with our help. This will relieve us tremendously and we believe that the nursing care will be still better. . . . One of our graduate male nurses who has proved himself very able is planning to take the Ward Sister (Master) Postgraduate Course this year. This will prepare him to teach a few of the nursing subjects, help him to understand his profession better, and help him to be a real head nurse. . . . We were extremely happy this year when the annual examination results came through. For the first time all our students passed. . . .

Eugene Blosser 49 was elected chairman of the Counseling Committee of the Hokkaido Mennonite Fellowship at the semiannual meeting of the Fellowship Aug. 9-11. He will replace Carl Beck 48 when the Becks leave on furlough in November. Carl has been conducting a Bible class in the Obihiro, Japan, prison, with fifteen persons participating. At Kamishihoro about thirty persons have been attending special meetings which Carl has been conducting twice a month.

Ralph Buckwalter 48 directed a youth work camp at Nakashibetsu, Japan, Aug. 23-28, assisted by Ruth Bean 47 and several young people from Kushiro. The group dug the foundation for the new church building there, made a number of volcanic ash building blocks, visited in the homes with Scripture reading and prayer, and conducted a children's meeting in the fire hall. Ruth was welcomed to Kushiro with a special church meeting on Aug. 22. A house warming cottage meeting was held for her on Sunday evening, Sept. 25, in her living quarters in the center of Kushiro.

Crowds of from 200 to 400 children gathered to hear the Gospel message in the villages around Nakashibetsu, Japan, when Lee 49 and Adella (Brunk) 44 Kanagy held meetings there with the assistance of Matsukama san, a student at Tokyo Union Theological Seminary. Adella conducts a program for the women of Nakashibetsu, including Bible class once a month, cooking class once a month, and a singing club in the girls' sewing school.

Don Reber 51, Hombetsu, Japan, reports that the block is up on their new house, and the Korean type heating system and floor is finished but it will likely be the end of October before they can move in. The Japanese builders are somewhat slowed down by the new ideas in construction which our missionaries are using. The Rebers are planning for the establishment of a student center in their town which could also be used for a kindergarten and other meetings as well as a literature distribution center. Don reports about twenty young people attending Sunday evening meetings regularly. Two projects of major importance during the summer at Hombetsu were the Summer Bible Camp at Akan National Park and a canning project led by MCC worker Alice Fast and her interpreter, Higashikawa san. Following camp there was a Mennonite missionary fellowship at a mountain inn near the hot springs, Kawaya.

Omar Lantz 54, Gap, Pa., sailed from Seattle Aug. 30 to assume the leadership of the PAX rehabilitation team in Korea. Omar had served in Europe from 1948 to 1950. Merle Springer 54, Saybrook, Ill., sailed from San Francisco Sept. 21 to join the same team.

C. L. and Mina Graber have arrived in Asuncion, Paraguay, to direct the MCC program in South America during the year. On their way to Paraguay they stopped in Peru to visit R. G. LeTourneau's industrial-missionary project Tournavista. Graber found PAX man Paul Fry 54, Manheim, Pa., operating a big tree roller which cuts a 20-foot swath through the jungle, pushing over and crushing everything under 18 inches in diameter. William Nofziger x55, Wauseon, Ohio, operates a Tournapull; Willard Ebersole 54, Warren, Ill., is a mechanic and repair man; and Carl Hooley x57, Elkhart, Ind., drives the service truck, which keeps the machines filled with gas, oil, and air. These and other PAX men are doing such good work that the LeTourneau people would like to have them longer than the six months MCC is loaning them to the project, before they enter into the MCC road-building project in Paraguay.

Missionary teachers Carol Glick 41 and Anna K. Massanari 50 arrived back in Puerto Rico on Aug. 4, following their summer furlough in the United States. They both teach in Bethany Mennonite School, Pulguillas, where a new building is being constructed for grades 7, 8, and 9. This is part of the expansion program of the Bethany Mennonite School in its plans to attempt to meet the elementary education needs of the area in which the Mennonite mission is located. During the summer a number of congregations were solicited for funds for this project. Carol is principal of the school.

Although farewell services at the Blooming Glen, Pa., Mennonite Church had been scheduled for Aug. 22, for John M. Grasse 48 and his wife, the Grasses left early for Puerto Rico, when an emergency call came for the help of a doctor. They arrived at La Plata Aug. 6 and John immediately began a full medical schedule, even though he must study the Spanish language at the same time.

John 50 and Bonnie (Landis) Driver have taken charge of the work at Palo Hincado and La Cuchilla during the absence of Wilbur Nachtigall 53. Bonnie is in charge of the clinic at La Cuchilla.

Lester 36 and Alta (Good) 38 Hershey, missionaries who recently returned to Puerto Rico for a third term of service Aug. 18 are located temporarily at La Plata in the absence of the Drivers. In addition to his pastoral work at La Plata, Lester directs the radio broadcast Luz y Verdad, which has been covering Spain, Central and South America, and the Caribbean Islands with weekly religious services in Spanish. Recently two new stations in the United States have scheduled the broadcast—WOPA at Oak Park, Ill., and KIWW at San Antonio, Texas. Weldon Troyer 53 is a member of the men's quartet assisting with the programs.

Floyd w47 and Lona (Deter) x50 Litwiller, Delavan, Ill., have returned to their home after completing a two-year term in the La Plata Mennonite project, Puerto Rico. Floyd was employed in the sanitation program, while Lona worked as a nurse in the hospital.

The special evangelistic effort conducted by the Rabanal, Puerto Rico, congregation in June resulted in planning more week-night services in the homes of Christians living on the edge of the community. Since the community is very mountainous and practically inaccessible by car, such special services are important in reaching the people. Leaders in charge of the evangelistic effort were Elvin Snyder 27, evangelist; Juan Colon, local lay leader; and Marjorie Shantz x52, missionary nurse in charge at Rabanal.

Ophia (Sevits) Snyder 49 writes, "We're getting ready for our return to Puerto Rico Oct. 6. Royal x49 has spent the past year at Michigan State College, doing graduate work in agricultural extension. Our family—three boys and one girl—will be ready for Goshen in another 14 years."

Gladys Widmer 42 has been assigned to work in Coamo by the Puerto Rico Mission Council. Recent attendance in Coamo has been almost more than their small, cramped quarters can handle.

H. James x49 and Anna (Swartzendruber) x49 Martin left New York on the S.S. Brazil Sept. 16, sailing for Montevideo. They are under appointment for missionary work in Uruguay by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities.

Kenneth Imhoff w52, Washington, Ill., writes from Assiut, Egypt, at the completion of his PAX term: "As I look back from the time I entered PAX services in 1952 and consider priceless experiences and boundless success during this period of superb education combined with service, and as I proceeded from 3 months in Germany, helping build refugee homes, to 3 months in Holland's flood disaster area, to 1½ years in striving to help relieve poverty-stricken people of Egypt from their unfortunate condition, I've been made to realize that with God all things are truly possible and that the foundation of this realization was firmly laid during the six weeks I spent at Goshen College, for which I am exceedingly grateful."

The vision of a VS worker became a reality with the dedication of the maternity home at Mathis, Texas, Aug. 1. Lela Sutter 48, Hopedale, Ill., discovered the need for the home when she surveyed the infant mortality rate in the community. Interested individuals and civic and church groups co-operated in building the home, which is to be operated by the Mennonite service unit at Mathis. Gladys Alderfer 53, Souderton, Pa., the VS nurse in charge of the home, plans to give follow-up child care assistance to the mothers in their homes. The first baby arrived Aug. 23.

Stanley 48 and Arlie (Hershberger) 47 Weaver, Black Mt. Mission, Chinle, Ariz., have been asked to take the Protestant released-time Bible class at both the Black Mt. School and the Tah Chee school, a small school up on the mesa. Lita Tsosie, the Weavers' Navaho assistant, has agreed to stay with them as a full-time worker. The Weavers are building a community hogan at Black Mt. with the help of local Navaho men and contributions from several Methodist churches in Illinois who had workers in the area earlier. The hogan will be used for services and community meetings, as an overnight lodge for Indian families coming long distances by wagon to the trading post, and for recreation and crafts.

S. W. Witmer 14 shares with us news from Merle Jacobs 48, Duke University, Durham, N.C.: "At the request of Dr. I. E. Gray of the Department of Zoology here, I came to Duke to do research on my dragonflies. There is a unique population of intermediate forms of Perithemis in North Carolina which resemble both the light northern and dark southern forms. I am planning to cross Floridian forms with more northern forms and hope to rear the progeny for cytogenetical studies. Shortly after arriving at Duke I found that the geneticist here, Calvin Ward, had just been drafted. Dr. Gray, being caught without a man, wondered if I would be willing to fill the position. I accepted and am now doing research along with teaching. I teach all the genetics and a section of general zoology."

Herald Press Book Releases

Adventure highlights each of three books published by Herald Press in October and November. Of special interest to alumni is S. C. Yoder's Horse Trails Along the Desert. The publisher's blurb in Christian Living warns against missing "this favorite author at his exciting best."

"In his inimitable and easygoing style, Dr. Yoder has given us a picture of the West when he was young and pioneers were cowboys. You'll like the rare good-humored chapters about such things as 'The Knights of the Jingling Spurs.' Or the informal stories of cowpunchers and empty desert sands—empty except for sand, cacti, moonlight, hot wind, a horse, and Sanford Yoder.

"This is a good book to read when evening calls for relaxation. S. C. Yoder has lived a varied life, and in this book, tempered by the wisdom of experience, are stories of his boyhood days in the Old West."

Helen (Good) Brenneman brings us the story of a refugee Mennonite family fleeing Russia after World War II. Helen writes from a firsthand acquaintance with refugees. With her husband Virgil 52 she spent two years with the MCC in Germany, where she witnessed the faith and courage, as well as the sorrows and sufferings of many refugee families. Her book But Not Forsaken first appeared serially in Christian Living.

A trip to Switzerland for Mennonite World Conference in 1953 supplied Christmas Carol (Miller) Kauffman x26 with background information and inspiration for her finest story to date. Not Regina takes us back to the time of the Reformation in Switzerland, portraying for us the conflicts characteristic of this period of spiritual upheaval. It is the story of the Anabaptists in their conflict with Zwingli and his followers. Not Regina first appeared serially in Youth's Christian Companion.

service, Pres. Mininger received these guests, members of the Mennonite Board of Education, and Goshen College faculty in Westlawn lounge.

The evening service of dedication called for the commitment of the entire faculty to their share in the new responsibilities that rest upon Pres. Mininger. After Howard Zehr 41, member of the executive committee of the Board, spoke on "The Essence of Christian Service," Paul Erb presented the dedicatory response in which the faculty then joined, bringing to a close this year's Christian education conference.

Enrollment Trends

The current school year begins at Goshen College with 596 full time students, which represents about a 3% increase over a year ago. This is a relatively small increase as compared to current national trends in college enrollments. With a detailed analysis of the character of the current student body there appears, however, a rather significant increase in the patronage of the college from the Mennonite constituency of Goshen College.

Again as last year, the current totals both for women students and for Mennonite students are new high record figures. The total of 312 full time women students exceeds last year's record by 4, the total of 513 Mennonite students of all branches exceeds last year's record by 11, and the total of 470 students who are members of the Mennonite Church exceeds last year's record total by 16. These 470 Mennonite students, again as last year, represent 79% of the total student body, whereas the 513 all-Mennonite figure represents 86% of the total. Part time students have also reached a record high fall enrollment of 172.

Since the constituency of Goshen College is composed largely of members of the Mennonite Church throughout the United States and Canada, the geographical distribution of Goshen College students takes on particular significance. It may be noted that there is a notable increase in students coming from more distant states as compared to previous years. The two leading states, Indiana and Ohio, have each contributed slightly fewer students than last year, whereas the next states in order of numbers of students, including Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Ontario, have each sent notably larger numbers than a year ago. The figures also show a good representation from the other states in which there are Mennonite communities. This geographical pattern of representation may be interpreted as a strengthening of the Mennonite patronage of Goshen College.

Women again out number the men, representing slightly over 52% of the total. Quite interestingly, however, in the freshman class the men out number the women this year for the first time in four years. This trend of more entering men students is a much appreciated surprise. On the other hand there is also a reduction in the number of freshman women so that the total freshman enrollment is about the same as last year. The other three college classes each have substantially more women than men. The Seminary has almost all men. The Selective Service draft has caused a large loss of men in the upper college classes. This trend will gradually be reversed as these men complete their term of service and will be returning to college. A few men have completed their I-W service and are in school again this fall, but not until next year will a notable number of such men be free to attend college again. This should, however, make a marked increase in the number of men students for the coming year and in succeeding years.

The character of the freshman class is further revealed in the expressed occupational goals of the students. Teaching again leads the list, with 54 students. Nursing is down with only 24 students as compared to last fall's 33. Business and farming are each chosen by 12 students, to bring these two occupations to a new high for entering freshmen. The larger number of men students in the freshman class may be partly responsible for the better showing for farming and business, but particularly for farming this large increase in interest must be explained in some other way. Engineering and medicine are each attracting 9 students, while at least 4 more expect to take up other scientific professions. Fourteen freshmen list the ministry or religious service as their occupational goal. The college administration must look to this pattern of freshmen interests to map the program of college offerings over the years ahead.

There is also this year a substantial increase in students transferring from other colleges to classes above the freshman class. The 68 transfer students represent an increase of 14 over a year ago. Twenty-three of these are sophomores, 26 are juniors, 11 are seniors and 8 are classified as advanced seminary. This distribution means that the major number of transfers are no longer students completing a two-year program in a junior college. It should also be noted that whereas 39 of these come from other Mennonite colleges, 29 are transfers from various non-Mennonite colleges. This number of transfer students represents a good reputation for Goshen College for upper level college work.

Predictions for the enrollment in the school year 1955-56 may be based again on the experience of the past five years as to retention of students from one year to the next. On this basis one would predict a new increase in total enrollment for 1955, with a number that will exceed the peak fall enrollment of 1948. The predicted class sizes for the fall of 1955 would be about as follows: freshmen, 180; sophomores, 135; juniors, 125; seniors, 135; advanced seminary, 45, for a grand total of 620. This does not take into account a possible sizeable increase in men students who have completed their I-W service. Another fact to be considered would include also the possibility of changes in the economic status of the constituency, as well as any drastic changes in international relationships.

If Goshen College is to continue to serve its purpose of supplying a high quality of college education for Mennonite young people, it will need to look to a continued strengthening of the liberal arts college, and to an expansion in the facilities for an increasing number of students.

Paul Bender, Registrar.
